EXPECT BIG U. S. LOAN TO MEXICO TO END OIL ROW

Camacho Will Get Aid in Rearming.

BY WILLARD EDWARDS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Sept. 2.—Unofficial sources confirmed tonight a report that a loan between 50 and 100 million dollars will be made in the near future by the United States to Mexico as the basis of a three point understanding between the two nations:

1. Mexico will coöperate with the United States in the economic and military defense of the western hemisphere.

2. All strategic war materials will be kept by Mexico away from the axis powers.

3. A final cash settlement will be made with American oil companies whose properties were seized in 1938.

A portion of the loan, it was reported, will be issued for the specific purpose of stabilizing the Mexican currency. Whether any part of the loan would be used to pay the oil companies for their seized lands was not known.

Britain Advised of Deal.

The agreement has been under negotiation for two years, it was said. The state department is reported to have agreed to advise the British government when it is completed that similar agreements concerning the expropriation by Mexico of British oil properties will then be in a position for settlement.

[The valuation placed by the American, British, and Dutch oil companies on expropriated properties is 400 million dollars. A Mexican commission gave a valuation at 38 millions, which the companies refused to accept. Two years ago Donald Rickberg, Chicago attorney and former New Deal official, made an effort to reach a settlement in behalf of the oil companies. His attempt failed.]

The settlement will not be announced, it was said, until several minor Mexican financial problems have been settled. The pact will probably include not only the American loan, but a promise from the United States to buy Mexican silver, aid in bettering Mexico's present unfavorable balance of trade, and an adjustment of tariffs in Mexico's favor. One report is that the United States will agree to finance the building of air and naval bases for the defense of Mexico.

Early Settlement Seen.

Officials here were firm in refusing any announcement of an agreement to be made despite President Manuel Avila Camacho's statement yesterday that negotiations for a general settlement of outstanding questions were on the point of satisfactory solution. But the undercover word in the capital was that the pact was about settled.

Secretary of State Cordell Hull was asked at his press conference this morning whether he had read President Camacho's speech to the Mexican congress yesterday. Hull replied that he had noted "with interest and appreciation" the remarks of the Mexican president. They showed, he said, very forcefully Mexico's determination "to support those whose forces are resisting aggression to maintain an independent position in the face of totalitarian threats."

Supplies to Axis Are Cut.

Hull said the state department was gratified to note the hopefulness of President Camacho that an agreement with the United States was imminent.

State department observers said that the negotiations have progressed rapidly since Mexico several weeks ago gave evidence of its good faith by cutting off supplies of oil and other war materials from the axis powers.

The trade agreement with Mexico is expected to stipulate that no strategic war materials are to go to the axis powers or to any powers dealing with them. It is also expected to promise Mexico enough strategic materials from the United States to keep her main industries going.

Plan New British Relations.

MEXICO CITY, Sept. 2 (AP).—Diplomatic relations between Mexico and Great Britain, suspended in the 1938 oil expropriation crisis, will be renewed shortly, Foreign Minister Ezequiel Padilla said tonight.

"As a matter of fact, we have had relations with the English since they began their valiant defense of democracy," he said.

Oil to Burn

(An Editorial)

The deputy oil administrator, Ralph K. Davies, in his testimony before a senate subcommittee last week, may be presumed to have placed the gasoline situation in the gloomiest possible light. It was to his interest to do so. He was on the spot. He and his boss, Harold L. Ickes, the oil administrator, had been telling tall tales about stocks running down because of increased consumption and the loss of tankers to the British. But some senators who took pains to examine the information available discovered that the gasoline supply actually had been increasing, not reducing. It was also learned that the British had no need for the 50 tankers which formerly had carried petroleum products from the gulf ports to the eastern seaboard and which had been turned over to Britain.

Here was a conflict. The deputy oil administrator had asserted that there was a serious gasoline shortage which justified the drastic restrictions imposed upon automobile owners in the east and which were to be applied later to other sections. This shortage had been denied, and Davies, Ickes, and their associates had been accused of creating a fake gasoline emergency as a part of a program to foster war psychology. The senate subcommittee before which Davies appeared was authorized to conduct an investigation to determine what justification there was for requiring eastern gas stations to close from 7 p. m. to 7 a. m. and for the cut effective this month in the amount of gasoline to be delivered to each station.

Mr. Davies, in Ickes' absence, brought with him to the committee hearing some figures on eastern gasoline supply and demand which he had obtained from an exceedingly friendly source. His data had been prepared for him by the United States bureau of mines, a part of the department of the interior. Mr. Ickes is also secretary of the interior.

Now consider the figures Davies offered. He said that during the final four months this year 172,100,000 barrels of petroleum products would be brought to the eastern seaboard, but that the demand would be 199,900,000 barrels. Notice that this is not gasoline but petroleum products. Fuel oil is included and the demand for heating oil in the last third of the year and especially in November and December results ordinarily in consumption outrunning receipts in those months, and in the three or four months following.

But assuming that the excess of consumption of petroleum in the next four months is something to cause concern, Davies' interest should be in increasing the supply. There are several means by which that can be done. For instance, the navy has tankers which are idle and serving no useful purpose. It is said that an act of congress would be required to authorize the navy to use its excess tankers to move oil for civilian use. Mr. Davies has shown no interest in getting authority from congress to put the idle navy facilities to work.

The navy's surplus tankers are not the only carrying facilities available. The railroads are crying out to let them haul the oil down east in their idle tank cars. For months the lines have sought an arrangement which would make it possible for them to use these tankers in which they have a substantial investment. The 17,000 tank cars the roads are offering for this service could move 200,000 barrels of oil a day, which would offset the biggest deficit Davies and his friendly experts could conjure up. The deputy oil administrator, instead of entering into a plan with the roads to move eastward any oil that is needed, contents himself with doubting that they could do it if called upon. He prefers to cut consumption rather than to increase the supply.

On the record Davies seems to be playing a part in a plan. He appears to have allies. Leon Henderson last week issued an order calling upon gas stations to reduce the retail price of gasoline thruout the east, in some sections by as much as 2 cents a gallon. Reducing the price of a competitive article such as gasoline always results in a reduction in supply and an increase in demand. Is Henderson trying to create Davies' shortage for him?

4,000 EMPLOYES OF STATE FACE OUSTER TRIALS

Engaged in Politics, Governor Reveals.

BY PERCY WOOD.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Sterling, Ill., Sept. 2.—Gov. Dwight H. Green revealed here today that more than 4,000 holdover downstate state employés are under investigation for violating their civil service status by engaging in political activity. Written charges seeking the discharge of many of them have already been prepared, the governor said, and others are in preparation. It is possible that as many as 9,000 pay rollers from Cook county and downstate will be involved before the inquiry ends.

Gov. Green. [Paul Stone-Raymor Photo.]

This was the answer to recent rumors from Springfield that a mass ouster of holdover Democrats was planned by the governor's Republican administration, now in office for about eight months.

Meets Commission Head.

After conferring with Robert L. Hunter, president of the civil service commission, last night in St. Charles, the governor predicted in today's announcement that from two-thirds to three-fourths of the employés currently under investigation would face trial before the commission.

Democratic county chairmen and chairwomen, precinct committeemen, and officers of political organizations are involved in the inquiry, the governor said. They will be charged, he explained, with violating the civil service law by working at the polls on election day, making political speeches, canvassing precincts, writing and distributing political literature, and collecting campaign funds. The greater part of the money collected went into the coffers of the Illinoisans, as the Democrats call their slush fund organization.

Says Rules Will Be Enforced.

"We will not tolerate any infraction of the civil service rules," the governor declared. "I said in my inaugural address that civil service shall never be used as a shield for inefficiency or indolence. Only those who are able and willing to perform adequate and efficient work will be retained.

"The new administration will comply with every civil service regulation, and it expects the same conduct from the beneficiaries of the civil service law. I repeat that statement now as a standard upon which I am determined that civil service administration in Illinois shall be maintained."

The governor added, however, that no employé would be discharged until written charges had been filed before the civil service commission, or before every employé had been given opportunity to be heard in his own defense.

This week Hunter's investigators

America First Fights Threat to Muzzle It

A proposal yesterday by Congressman Samuel Dickstein [D., N. Y.] that the America First committee be investigated by the Dies congressional committee on un-American activities met the response last night from Gen. Robert E. Wood, national chairman of America First, that the organization will welcome any inquiry and will continue to fight any gag that war interventionists may attempt to fasten on civil liberties.

Dickstein telegraphed the investigation demand to Congressman Martin Dies, chairman of the house committee, at Dies' home in Orange, Tex.

Charges Hatred Is Promoted.

"There is no question," his telegram said, "that this group [America First] is engaged in the business of appeasing the dictators and seeking to organize the American people for fascistic aims. This group also causes dissension among our citizens, arrays class against class, and promotes hatred. This group acts contrary to principles enunciated by President Roosevelt in his Labor day address and there is no doubt in my mind at least that the source of funds with which this group operates is questionable."

After being informed of Dickstein's telegram, Gen. Wood said:

"We will welcome any investigation of our activities. We of America First are certainly as good Americans as is Mr. Dickstein. He states that the source of our funds is questionable. The government is at liberty to ascertain the source of them any time it asks.

"We are standing on our rights to free speech and a free press, and we have the same right to express our opinions as Representative Dickstein or any of his constituents in New York City."

Wants Evidence, Not Rumor.

Representative Dies, reached at Orange, said of Dickstein's announcement:

"If any one has any evidence that America First is engaged in any un-American activities or has any connection with a foreign government, the committee will be glad to undertake a thoro investigation. We must, however, be submitted evidence by Mr. Dickstein, not mere unsupported rumor.

"I have no evidence of any kind before me at the present moment that the America First committee is either engaged in un-American activities or connected with any foreign government.

"I feel that it is a great mistake to attack citizens who are exercising their constitutional rights by disagreeing with the President's foreign policy. The right to free expression is inalienable."

Dickstein's latest demand for an investigation is only one of many similar proposals he has submitted to congress. He served as vice chairman of the McCormack congressional committee, which preceded the Dies committee in investigating un-American activities, but since that committee has been supplanted by the Dies group he has been a consistent opponent of Dies.

Denied Space at Fair.

Los Angeles, Cal., Sept. 2 [Special.]—The America First committee of Los Angeles will not have a booth at the Los Angeles county fair in Pomona, it was disclosed today. The members of the fair board declined their request for rental space.

The refusal was based upon a resolution passed seven years ago establishing a policy not to rent space to any group or organization whose objective might be of a controversial nature.

PRESIDENT IS ASKED LEASE LEND COST OF WHOOPEE BY BRITISH

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Sept. 2.—President Roosevelt was asked today in a letter from Senator Charles Tobey [R., N. H.] to furnish congress with a detailed list of charges for "whiskies, wines, and entertainment" reported to have been run up by British officials at Washington restaurants and paid out of lend-lease funds.

Senator Tobey.

The senator referred to a newspaper story which stated that the British mission has charged over $30,000 worth of meals and rare wines in one fashionable restaurant alone, against funds supplied by American taxpayers for aid to Britain. The story was obtained by THE TRIBUNE from reliable sources in congress who have studied lease-lend expenditures.

"The American people are willing to pay on the nose for legitimate defense expenditures," Senator Tobey wrote to the President. "But it is apparent that they revolt against unnecessary and lavish expenditures, whether for the United States or the British or for any other country anywhere in the world."

Gang of Four Rapes Girl and Slugs Escort

Will county, which was shocked a month ago by the labor goon beating of a Homewood dairy operator, was the scene yesterday of the brutal gang rape of a 22 year old Joliet girl.

Sheriff Joseph O'Neill was absent from his Joliet office again, just as he had been when the goon case developed. This time he was reported on a vacation trip. The last time his deputies said they did not know where he was. State's Attorney James E. Burke was not available either last night, altho one of his assistants questioned the rape victim during the day.

Returning from Picnic.

The girl and her escort, Joseph Cernugel, 25, of 205 Moran street, Joliet, were returning to Joliet shortly after midnight from a picnic on the Du Page river. About three miles west of Joliet on a country road their car, driven by Cernugel, was forced to a halt to avoid a collision with an oncoming automobile.

As Cernugel stopped his car four men jumped out of the other auto and approached. One covered Cernugel with a gun and held a flashlight to blind him, apparently to prevent identification. One of the attackers then struck the young woman with his fists. Another hit Cernugel on the head, knocking him out.

The four men stripped the girl and tied Cernugel's ankles with her slacks and gagged him. They tossed him into the rear seat of the automobile and then carried the semi-conscious young woman into a nearby field, where each of the four raped her while the others held her.

Damage the Car.

After raping the young woman, the attackers tore off her wrist watch and took $12 from Cernugel. They smashed the headlights and ripped out the ignition wires on Cernugel's car, and threw his ignition keys into a nearby creek, to prevent him from following them.

When they left, the girl returned to the car and freed Cernugel. The couple then walked to a farmhouse to call for help. With only two jailers on duty at night, the sheriff's office reported it was unable to send aid, so state police took the woman to St. Joseph's hospital in Joliet.

In the goon slugging last month, Fred Twietmeyer, Homewood dairyman, was beaten near Joliet after he ignored the warnings of union business agents who told him he could not sell milk in gallon and half gallon containers in Will county.

ROOSEVELT ASKS LARGER OUTLAY FOR ARMAMENT

New Controls Fixed; Levy Bill Reported.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Sept. 2.—A triple attack on the pocketbooks and the normal civil activities of American taxpayers was launched today by President Roosevelt and other administration leaders. The three assaults were:

1. President Roosevelt announced plans to appropriate still more billions and to spend money as fast as it can be spent to increase the size of the already vast American rearmament program. He indicated that a request for a new lend-lease appropriation may go to congress early next week and that huge additional sums will be requested for the domestic armaments program.

2. Vice President Henry A. Wallace declared that the Supply Priorities and Allocations board, the master agency of armaments production, has adopted a policy that every available man and machine must be employed on direct arms requirements or on work essential to civilian economy. He admitted that some less essential industries would be closed down.

3. The senate finance committee reported for consideration by the senate tomorrow the new record breaking tax bill which would extract nearly 3.7 billion dollars in new taxes from the American public.

RISE IN APPROPRIATIONS

President Roosevelt, in announcing his new drive to increase production by spending, told his press conference that the increased expenditures would come thru a rise in general appropriations, rather than thru augmentation of the lease-lend fund.

However, a new lend-lease program is expected to be ready for presentation to congress next Monday or Tuesday. Estimates on the amount of this request vary from 3 to 8 billions, compared with the initial appropriation of 7 billions voted last spring.

Mr. Roosevelt also said he would send a message to congress soon on appropriations needed for actual armaments production, but indicated that might not come until January. He would not indicate how much more in preparedness appropriations is contemplated.

Previous Funds Allocated.

In paving the way for these new requests, Mr. Roosevelt said nearly all the funds appropriated for the arms program—more than 50 billions—have now been allocated. Orders covering the rest of the money will be placed within 60 to 90 days, he predicted.

He asserted that a greater part of rearmament funds should be expended in existing plants and less emphasis be placed on the construction of new factories. Heretofore, he said, the smaller manufacturers have not received a proper share of the work.

Conceding that civilians will feel the impact of the rearmament effort, he said that thru operation of the priorities system many factories must stop producing goods solely for civilians and turn production facilities to armaments.

Against Easing Hour Limits.

The President said he foresaw no letdown in the maximum hour restrictions imposed by the New Deal. Any acceleration in production must come, he said, from additional shifts of employés rather than added hours. He added that it was hoped to have 60 per cent of available man power on the first shift of workmen, 30 per cent on the second, and 10 on the third to obtain maximum efficiency.

Asked by a reporter what he meant by "everything" in his Labor day warning that the United States must do everything in its power to defeat Hitler, the President replied that the language he used spoke for itself.

NEW CONTROLS PLANNED

In announcing the new preparedness policy to turn every man and machine to essential requirements, Vice President Wallace spoke for the newly created Supplies Priorities and Allocations board, of which he is chairman. New Dealers exercise majority control on the seven man board of the SPAB.

Civilians must prepare to forego their less essential needs so that the rearmament machine may have adequate supplies, the SPAB statement said. The agency declared its general policy demands curtailment of less essential industries which use materials and facilities that sap resources necessary to "a realistic defense program."

To this end, it was said, a system of controls will be devised with a view of assuring the wisest use of available raw materials.

Drive on Hoarding Planned.

Declaring that speculation in essential materials cannot be tolerated, the agency announced its plan to rout out and put to use such materials being hoarded by certain industries or traders.

To implement the declaration against hoarding, a nation-wide inventory of all raw material supplies would be undertaken at once, Wallace told reporters at a press conference immediately following the board meeting at which the announcement of policy was drawn up.

The various sacrifices the public will be forced to undego will be fully explained to it as each important step is undertaken, that is, "in so far as that may be done without affecting our military security adversely," it was announced.

Declines to Name Industries.

Wallace said the board did not discuss specific industries in connection with its plans to curtail production of less essential businesses, and he declined to indicate which it would consider less essential.

"We must forego the less essential that we may have an abundance of the essential," the SPAB policy statement said.

"By less essential industry is meant those industrial activities involving use of materials and production facilities which sap supplies and machinery resources necessary to a realistic all-out defense program.

"In some cases this may involve only a part of an industry; in other cases it may involve several parts. Wherever possible to convert the less essential to military or essential civilian production, this will be done."

Models to Be Simplified.

Donald M. Nelson, executive director of SPAB, said the program also would involve a campaign to pick up scrap metals, simplification of models used in production for civilian use, and reduction of their number.

Asked about the possibility that some businesses may have to shut down production entirely because of the diversion of materials to more important uses, he said, "There are bound to be some."

F. D. R. APPROVES TAXES

When the senate finance committee reported the new 3.7 billion dollar tax bill to the senate today for consideration, it was announced that President Roosevelt had given his approval to the measure and urged its speedy passage.

As approved by the finance committee the bill would add an estimated $3,672,400,000 in new levies to the tax structure and bring more than 6 million more persons under federal income taxes by reducing exemptions. Senator Walter F. George [D., Ga.], chairman of the committee, expressed belief, however, that the bill would come nearer to yielding 4½ billions more annually.

Discussed at White House.

The tax bill was discussed at a White House conference of legislative leaders, when the President informally placed his stamp of approval on the pending measure and discussed means of expediting passage. The bill as approved by the house would create 3½ billions in new taxes, and the various points of difference, if the senate committee version is approved by the senate, must be settled by compromise in a joint conference committee. Final passage is expected within a few weeks.

Representative Clifton A. Woodrum [D., Va.], speaker pro tempore, said after the White House parley that Mr. Roosevelt expressed particular satisfaction with the senate committee action in lowering exemptions for married persons from $2,000 to $1,500 and for single persons from $800 to $750. Senator George informed the President that senate consideration would begin tomorrow and predicted passage by the senate by early next week.

Approved by Voice Vote.

George told reporters that the bill was approved in committee by voice vote, after perusing a printed copy of the bill and making a few "minor changes." The committee's report will be released tomorrow.

Senator Robert M. La Follette Jr. [Prog., Wis.] served notice that he was opposed to the bill and would file a minority report. Senator Tom Connally [D., Tex.] also reserved the right to submit a minority report. Senator Bennett C. Clark [D., Mo.] also may file a minority report against the lowered exemptions.

Connally particularly opposes the provision in the senate version which would prohibit married couples from splitting income earned by one or the other and filing separate returns. This section affects only residents of the eight community property states, of which the senator's native Texas is one. The others are Louisiana, Arizona, New Mexico, California, Idaho, Washington, and Nevada.

Heretofore, married couples living in these states have been able under state community property law to divide the family income between them, with each filing a separate return. Thus they were able to hold themselves in the lower surtax brackets.

Residents of other states have never been able to split income earned by one spouse, and there is no change as far as they are concerned. Only when each spouse has a separate income in the other 40 states is a separate return permitted. Under a house proposal, which was defeated, all married couples, whether the income was from one spouse or both, would have been required to file a joint return, automatically boosting them to the higher surtax brackets.

Conferees to Act Promptly.

Woodrum said that informal senate-house conferees would begin to work on differences in the two versions of the bill immediately upon senate passage.

These conversations will prepare the bill for final congressional approval sometime after Sept. 15, when the recess period expires.

In general, the senate bill upholds the house action in imposing heavier taxes upon individual and corporate incomes, as well as imposing new and heavier nuisance taxes on the public, as revealed during senate committee consideration of the measure.

Surprise Wedding

MRS. DOROTHY SPRECKELS DUPUY M'CARTHY.

New York, Sept. 2 [Special].—Ten years ago Dorothy Spreckels made her debut in San Francisco at a ball that was lavish to a degree that startled case hardened party-goers. Toward the fag end of the evening the sugar heiress slipped away with young Andrew McCarthy, an oil salesman whom she'd just met, and he bought her a hamburger at a hot dog wagon. Since then she has married and divorced Jean Dupuy, son of the late Senator Paul Dupuy of Paris and the American born Helen Brown Dupuy of New York. A few months ago Dorothy returned to America and bought a house near San Francisco and renewed her friendship with McCarthy. Today her friends in New York were surprised by the news that she and McCarthy were married at noon in the Hotel Del Coronado in Coronado, Cal.

CALLS PRESIDENT 'MR. AMBASSADOR' AND GETS LAUGH

Washington, D. C., Sept. 2 [Special].—President Roosevelt's press conference was rocked with laughter this afternoon when he was addressed as "Mr. Ambassador" by a reporter who was questioning him on Japanese relations. The laughter was made more spontaneous by the fact that the President has been characterized in some quarters as "Britain's No. 1 ambassador in the United States."

When the laughter died away Mr. Roosevelt, who had joined in the merriment, said "Just call me governor for short." He did not explain whether he was making reference to his days as governor of New York or to being labeled "his majesty's colonial governor" on his return from the sea meeting with Winston Churchill.

The reporter who had misaddressed the President corrected himself and asked whether a reply was going forth shortly to the note from Prince Konoe, Japan's prime minister.

The President replied he could not say.

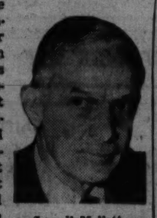
ROOSEVELT WAR PROPAGANDIST IN SENATE PROBE

Mellett's Praise of Movies Spurs Inquiry.

BY CHESLY MANLY.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Sept. 2.—Members of the senate interstate commerce committee appointed to investigate war propaganda in motion pictures and radio disclosed today that a magazine article by Lowell Mellett, administrative assistant to President Roosevelt and director of Office of Government Reports, will be used to buttress their case.



Lowell Mellett.

Mellett, whose chief function is supervising administration propaganda, is the author of a current magazine article praising the motion picture and radio industries for doing a better propaganda job than the government could do and mildly censuring the press for being somewhat laggard in this respect.

Originally scheduled to begin tomorrow, the senate hearings were postponed today until Sept. 9 at the urgent request of Wendell L. Willkie who has been retained as defense counsel by the moving picture interests. Members of the committee said they were delighted to learn that the 1940 Republican Presidential candidate, who is a big munitions man and war propagandist in his own right, would represent the movie industry.

More "Campaign Oratory"?

Recalling Willkie's repudiation of his 1940 campaign pledges when he appeared before the senate foreign relations committee in support of the so-called lend-lease bill, members of the propaganda investigating committee said they would ask him whether he wished to offer some more "campaign oratory."

Willkie obtained the postponement by pleading as "one lawyer to another" with Senator Worth Clark [D., Ida.], chairman of the interstate commerce subcommittee which will conduct the investigation. He said he needed additional time to prepare his case.

Senators Bennett Champ Clark [D., Mo.] and Gerald P. Nye [R., N. D.] introduced the resolution calling for the investigation which charged that both radio and the movies are controled by groups interested in involving this country in the war.

Senator Burton K. Wheeler [D., Mont.], chairman of the interstate commerce committee and leader of the senate noninterventionists, appointed a strong anti-war subcommittee to conduct the inquiry. Besides Chairman Clark it includes Senators Wayland Brooks [R., Ill.], Homer T. Bone [D., Wash.], Charles W. Tobey [R., N. H.] and Ernest McFarland [D., Ariz.]. McFarland is the only member of the subcommittee who supports the Roosevelt war policies, and he is a freshman senator.

Producers to Be Called.

After Senators Clark and Nye present their opening statement leading moving picture producers, directors, writers and others in the film industry will be called.

Committee members have not determined whether to call Mellett but they will make much use of his article in the current issue of the Atlantic magazine, it was learned. In the article Mellett professes opposition to suggestions for a government propaganda campaign to put over the administration's war policies. The article continues in part:

"What would such propaganda be? Suggestions include use of pictures, radio, and press. A study of those three media of public expression reveals a curious fact; first to appreciate the deep determination of the American people and to respond to it has been the motion picture industry, notwithstanding that it takes months to make a picture as against minutes to write an editorial; second has been the radio, an industry wise beyond its years in its understanding of popular feeling; third, but rapidly catching up with the other two, the press."

PADDOCK PROPOSES 2D NAVAL ACADEMY NEAR GREAT LAKES

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Sept. 2.—Representative George A. Paddock [R., Ill.] today introduced a resolution in the house requesting the navy department to inquire into the possibilities of establishing an additional United States naval academy on Lake Michigan north of Chicago. The proposed academy, Paddock explained, would be located in Lake county near the Great Lakes Naval Training station.

Congressman Paddock.

"The two ocean navy will require a large number of thoroly trained officers, which probably will necessitate another naval academy in addition to the one at Annapolis," he said. "It is vitally important to national welfare that if another academy is established it be placed far from the seaboard where it might be open to destruction in time of war."

Paddock said that the same advantages which induced congress to establish the Great Lakes training station on Lake Michigan would apply in the choice of a location for a new academy.

AMERICA FIRST HAILS CROWD AT WHEELER SPEECH

The striking difference between attendance at interventionist and anti-war mass meetings at the St. Charles fall festival Sunday and Monday has inspired every America First committee chapter in the country, Mrs. Janet Ayer Fairbank, national vice chairman of the organization, said yesterday.

"On Sunday Senator A. B. Chandler of Kentucky spoke for the Fight for Freedom committee and there were approximately 1,000 listeners, who applauded politely but without enthusiasm," said Mrs. Fairbank. "On Monday Senator Burton K. Wheeler spoke for the America First committee on the same stage. But what a difference!

"Tier on tier, the people stood massed all the way from the speaking platform to the top of the natural amphitheater hundreds of yards distant. Here were 20,000 to 30,000 midwest Americans cheering as one in their patriotic determination to save this country from the criminal folly of another European war."

REVEAL BILLION BEING SPENT ON BASES, AIRFIELDS

[Copyright: 1941: By the New York Times.]

Washington, D. C., Sept. 2.—Government construction projects on Atlantic bases and at army air fields involve a total cost of approximately 1 billion dollars, it became known today in connection with proposed legislation to combine operations of the army corps of engineers and the quartermaster corps' construction division.

The new bill proposed to combine these and other army construction operations being conducted at a cost of about 3 billion dollars. In a statement endorsing the proposed consolidation Representative Andrew J. May [D., Ky.], chairman of the house military affairs committee, said base and field operations account for about 30 per cent of the army's new construction.

NO AEF! FIRST PLANK IN FUTURE SOLDIERS' MORALE PLATFORM

Directors of the newly formed organization, Registered Patriots of America, met last night in offices at 180 North Michigan avenue and adopted a 10 point program for improvement of the morale of men registered under the conscription law. A national campaign will be started shortly to enroll men who face the prospect of induction into the army, according to the president, James B. Walsh, vocational counselor of La Salle Extension university. A portion of the platform is as follows:

1—No American expeditionary force.

2—Our armed forces to receive No. 1 priority on arms and supplies until completely equipped.

3—Halt induction of conscripts until adequate equipment and camp facilities are available for their training.

4—No political union with any other nation.

5—No division of the wealth of the United States with any country.

6—Establish a higher rate of pay for men in our armed forces.

The directors and officials are employés — several are executives — of well known industrial and business companies.

BRITAIN SELECTS NEW CHIEF FOR BUYING IN U. S.

LONDON, Sept. 3 [Wednesday] (AP).—Appointment of Morris Wilson, president of the Royal Bank of Canada, as chairman of the British supply council and chief purchasing agent of Britain in the United States was announced today by Prime Minister Winston Churchill.

Wilson, who had been deputy chairman, succeeds Arthur Purvis, who was killed when a transport plane crashed two weeks ago.

E. P. Taylor, Toronto industrialist, was appointed to the newly-created post of chief executive officer of the council. Taylor now represents the Canadian government in Washington on matters relating to supply between the two countries.

2 Million Methodist Youths Urged to Unite Against War

Baldwin, Kas., Sept. 2 (AP).—The national conference of the Methodist Youth fellowship adopted a program today calling for the uniting of 2 million Methodist youths in a movement to keep the nation out of war and to hold a peace demonstration next Armistice day.

CIO UNION URGES ALL AID TO REDS AT CONVENTION

Camden, N. J., Sept. 2 [Special].—The United Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers of America, one of the five largest CIO unions, at its convention here today adopted a resolution calling on the administration to give "all possible aid" to soviet Russia, China and Britain in their war with Germany.

The union figured prominently in the armament strike wave early this year, tying up 230 million dollars worth of government orders at the Phelps-Dodge Copper Products plant at Elizabeth, N. J., for over a month. However it has not been involved in any strikes since communist Russia entered the war.

The union's president is James B. Carey who also is national secretary of the CIO. During the Maytag Washing Machine company strike at Newton, Ia., in 1938 he was fined $500 and sentenced to six months in jail for inciting strikers to disregard a court order. Later the sentence was lifted and the CIO paid his fine.

ISOLATIONISTS' WOULD GET U. S. INTO WAR: LUCAS

Peoria, Ill., Sept. 2 (AP).—Senator Scott W. Lucas [D., Ill.] asserted tonight that if congress had "followed the isolationists in this crisis we would be in the war today instead of basking in the sunlight of peace."

"If that group had been in control of congress," he said, "there wouldn't have been any arms or goods sold to England or a single bit of help to England. Without the help of the United States England today would be on her knees. Instead of Hitler going into Russia he would have attempted to invade the British Isles."

DEMANDS BRITISH MINISTER RESIGN FOR SLAP AT REDS

Quoted as Hoping Nazis Destroy Russians.

BY LARRY RUE.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Sept. 3 [Wednesday].—The Daily Herald, Labor organ, stated this morning that the resignation of Col. John T. C. Moore-Brabazon, minister of aircraft production, has become an immediate political issue. This followed a charge that Brabazon had said he hoped the armies of Germany and Russia, Britain's ally, would exterminate each other and leave Britain the dominant power in Europe.

J. T. C. Moore-Brabazon.

The remarks that stirred the storm were made by Brabazon at a private meeting in Manchester recently. Several trade unionists, one of whom took shorthand notes, were present. Brabazon's statement was revealed yesterday by Jack Tanner, president of the engineering union, before the Trades Union congress in Edinburgh.

Fears Ruin of War Effort.

Tanner said:

"Views held in certain quarters may result in nullification of the whole war effort. There are people in high places who declare that they hope the Russian and German armies will exterminate each other, and while that is taking place we, the British commonwealth of nations, will so develop our air force and other armed forces that if Russia and Germany do not destroy each other we shall have the dominating power in Europe."

He then accused Brabazon.

Sir Walter Citrine, general secretary of the labor organization, said he was startled "to think that any one is ready deliberately to sabotage the efforts this country is making to give help to Russia."

"It is an extraordinary situation," he added, "that such a statement can be made by a cabinet minister in the government of a prime minister who has so fully pledged this country to render every possible help to the soviet union."

Ministry Explains Stand.

Brabazon has written a letter trying to explain his remarks. The ministry of aircraft production issued a statement that did not deny that Brabazon expressed the views attributed to him by Tanner, but claimed that the speech was "extempore and open to misinterpretation." It insisted that Brabazon's real view is that "every one fighting there—Russia—is fighting Britain's battle and we should give all the help we can."

The Trades Union congress adopted resolutions welcoming the "evidence of Anglo-American accord" afforded by the Churchill-Roosevelt sea conference, expressing satisfaction with the alliance with Russia, backing a proposal to set up an Anglo-Russian labor council, and demanding trades union association "with the administration and management of all vital war industries."

'I Don't Understand'

[Associated Press Wirephoto.]

Annabella, film actress, as she appeared in court in New York City yesterday.

New York, Sept. 2 (AP).—Annabella, the beauteous blonde film actress and wife of Actor Tyrone Power, said in excited, French accented English today that "I am very sorry, but I do not understand anything about contracts."

"That," said Louis S. Posner, lawyer for Thomas Hays Hunter, who is suing Annabella for $47,000 for alleged breach of contract, "is just what we think."

The actress appeared in state Supreme court for examination before trial of Hunter's suit in which he charged that she failed to meet terms of a contract signed with him in March, 1937, to make three pictures in England. Annabella was 45 minutes late for the proceedings. She previously had entered a general denial to Hunter's allegations.

REPORTS APPEAL FOR FREEDOM BY 3 BALTIC STATES

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Sept. 3 [Wednesday].—The Latvian, Lithuanian, and Estonian ministers to London have presented notes to the British government expressing "detestation of the Nazi occupation and asking for political freedom after the war," according to the Daily Sketch. The Baltic ministers continued to function here despite the Russian annexation of their states. Britain never recognized the bolshevik occupation of the countries. The Germans have driven the Russians out of the states.

According to the sketch, the protests represent the first effort to implement point No. 2 of the Atlantic charter agreed upon by Prime Minister Winston Churchill and President Roosevelt. This point promises no territorial changes which are not in accord with the wishes of the people concerned.

Altho declaring that "other countries are expected shortly to present notes to the foreign office based on point No. 2 of the charter," the writer adds. "On the other hand certain allied nations are objecting to point No. 2." This, he states, "is the reason for the postponement of the second interallied conference, which was to have been staged in London last week."

U. S. WILL OPEN PLANE FACTORIES TO RED MISSION

47 Experts to Make Study of Technical Advances.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Sept. 2.—The nation's leading aircraft plants are to be thrown open to the inspection of 47 emissaries from soviet Russia, the army revealed today. The Russians are technical experts who will study all the latest advances of bomber and fighting plane construction in the United States.

The mission of the Reds had been a mystery. The Russians reached Nome, Alaska, on Sunday after making the 6,000 mile flight from Moscow in 42 hours.

Greeted by Escort Planes.

The Russians, headed by Gen. Mikhail Gromov, would not state their purpose in coming to the United States. The fact that it was no secret to the American government, however, was evidenced when the Reds were greeted and escorted into Nome by bombing planes.

Rumors arose that the Russians had come to ferry American bombers home and to seek American credits for war purchases. American and Russian representatives ridiculed such reports.

"The group is purely a technical unit," the war department said today, "and will visit the nation's leading aircraft plants. It does not plan to engage in flight training here."

Itinerary Kept Secret.

No detailed itinerary of the Russian flight was made known. The party, in two large flying boats, last night arrived at Kodiak, Alaska. The Russians are headed for Seattle, Wash., and it was believed they might fly down the Pacific coast to Lower California, then to the Gulf of Mexico and around the Atlantic coast to Washington.

From San Diego, Cal., came reports five Russian military and embassy officials had arrived unannounced from Washington to confer with Maj. Reuben H. Fleet, president of the Consolidated Aircraft corporation, presumably to discuss the purchase of long range bombers and flying boats.

Russia Gets U. S. Gasoline.

Los Angeles, Cal., Sept. 2 [Special].—Ninety-five thousand barrels of aviation gasoline today went gurgling out of the long black hull of the tanker L. P. St. Clair into hungry tanks at Vladivostok, Siberia. It was America's first delivery to Russia of a promised flood of aviation fuel. News of the tanker's arrival at Vladivostok was received here with relief in view of threatening gestures from Japan. Other tankers are on their way.

Story of Treasure

[Associated Press Wirephoto.]

Ignacy Matuczewski, former Polish minister of finance, and his wife as they arrived in New York from Lisbon yesterday.

Jersey City, N. J., Sept. 2 (AP).—A bizarre tale of 15 nondescript trucks which wandered thru Europe for nearly six weeks carrying 75 million dollars in gold, virtually all of Poland's gold reserve, was told today by Ignacy Matuczewski, former Polish minister of finance.

Matuczewski, who arrived on the American Export liner Excambion, said that he decided to try to save the gold when the German armies were battering the gates of Warsaw. The treasure, weighing about 75 tons, finally was turned over to the Polish government in exile, then at Angers, France, after Matuczewski and others loaded it into 15 old trucks and fled Warsaw. That was Sept. 7, 1939.

Avoiding German troops as much as possible, the trucks made their way down thru Rumania, into Turkey and Syria, thence to France and Spain, and finally back into France again, arriving there Oct. 14. Matuczewski said he did not know what has happened to the gold since he turned it over to the government in exile.

DISCLAIM REPORT KONOE PROPOSED A PARLEY AT SEA

[Copyright: 1941: By the New York Times.]

Washington, D. C., Sept. 2.—Reports that Prince Fumimaro Konoe, the Japanese premier, has proposed that President Roosevelt meet him aboard a Japanese warship in the Pacific for a personal discussion of Japanese-American relations were treated with incredulity tonight by officials at the White House and the state department.

The report, they said, was news to them. Similarly, at the Japanese embassy officials disclaimed knowledge of such a proposal. President Roosevelt was not available for comment. Secretary of State Cordell Hull has consistently followed the course of referring inquiries on the subject to the White House since Prince Konoe sent his personal letter to the President last week.

LA GUARDIA HIDES HIS PAY ROLL OF LEGION LEADERS

Hint Officials Are Hired to Sway Convention.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Sept. 2.—The Office of Civilian Defense, war whooping agency headed by Mayor Fiorello La Guardia of New York, refused today to make public the salaries and expense account of high members of the American Legion who have been enrolled on this New Deal pay roll. Illinois State Senator Nicholas L. Hubbard [D., Mount Pulaski], a legionnaire, has charged that these New Deal plums are being handed out in a plot to railroad a pro-war resolution thru the national Legion convention in Milwaukee this month.

Two former national commanders of the Legion are now employed as corps area directors of the OCD, Franklin D'Olier in New York and Raymond J. Kelly in Chicago. As part of his duties, Kelly told a state convention in Springfield, Ill., recently that each delegate should urge his Illinois community to organize air raid wardens and volunteer firemen for air raid protection, an activity that has been denounced as war propaganda and not national defense.

Dudley Has Two Titles.

Henry H. Dudley of Lincoln, Neb., retaining his ten year title as director of defense in the American Legion, is also serving under La Guardia as "chief of the veterans' division under the civilian protection section."

Capt. Watson Miller, who was general counsel for the Legion headquarters here, has been made assistant to Federal Security Administrator Paul V. McNutt. Paul Griffith, who was in charge of the Legion's employment division, now works for the assistant secretary of war, while a former managing editor of the American Legion monthly has a berth in the public relations office at the war department.

Also recently added to La Guardia's OCD pay roll as a corps director with headquarters in Atlanta, Ga., is Dr. Joseph C. Menendez, retiring national commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars. He was house physician of the Roosevelt hotel, New Orleans, operated by Seymour Weiss, now in a federal penitentiary as a result of the Huey P. Long scandal. He was a candidate for lieutenant governor of Louisiana on a ticket headed by James A. Noe, now facing trial on an income tax charge.

Suspended Southard.

Menendez last month suspended Earl Southard, Illinois department commander of the VFW, after Progress post. No. 2255, brought charges of disloyalty to the United States and violation of the oath of office against Southard because he voiced opposition to the Roosevelt administration's warlike actions.

A court martial, also ordered by Menendez, returned a secret verdict in the Southard case. It was to have been read by Menendez at the national VFW convention in Philadelphia, Pa., last week, but an attempt to force an open discussion of the case on the convention floor died with a vote of confidence in Menendez. William J. Grace, Southard's attorney and past Illinois department commander of the VFW asserted that the charges were brought against Southard to prevent his making an anti-war speech at the convention.

Smoke from a fire in the ventilating system drove 12 employés from the Monarch Silver King bicycle factory at 1240 North Homan avenue yesterday. The fire, which started before 300 other employés reported for duty, caused $150 damage.

BRITAIN DISCLOSES GERMANY TRIPLED HER U-BOAT FORCE

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Sept. 2.—Germany used 200 U-boats during March to June, when British shipping losses soared, an admiralty spokesman said today in estimating the progress of the battle of the Atlantic. The battle, he warned, "will go on as long as the war goes on." Disclosure that the Germans had three times the number of submarines they had at the beginning of the war came as a surprise, since the German peak in the World war was 129.

"The battle of the Atlantic will be won by us," added the spokesman, "because we shall keep the shipping losses down to a level at which they can be replaced and at which imports to England can be maintained."

150 More U. S. Defense Experts Arrive in Ulster

BELFAST, Northern Ireland, Sept. 2 (AP).—The United States technicians who are employed by the British government on defense facilities in Ulster were reënforced last night by the arrival of 150 more Americans. There now are about 950 Americans thus engaged in Northern Ireland.

ASK JAPS TO CUT OFF VLADIVOSTOK BY 'SAFETY ZONE'

50 Groups Act as U. S. Gas Ship Approaches.

BY KIMPEI SHEBA.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

TOKIO, Japan, Sept. 2.—The newly-established Asia Construction association, an amalgamation of 50 patriotic bodies, today urged Premier Prince Fumimaro Konoe to "enforce Japan's right of self-defense in the waters adjacent to it." This would mean the creation of an ocean "safety zone" that might shut off Vladivostok, Russian Pacific port, from American shipments. The suggestion was made as the first United States ship bearing aviation gasoline to Russia neared Japanese waters. Coming from a powerful rightist group, it is expected to weigh heavily on the government.

[The "safety zone" presumably would be patroled by Japanese warships and planes.]

Assails U. S. Aid to Russia.

The memorandum was handed to Konoe by Gen. Senjuro Hayashi, former premier, president of the association. It attacked the United States for giving military aid to Russia, "which is a foe of Japan's allies."

The memorandum is seen as a blow to any move on the part of the government to weaken its relations with the axis, even if this would mean friendship with the United States.

Attacking the United States for blocking at every turn Japan's move to create a new order in Asia, the memorandum declared the American government and people must reflect on a policy condemning Japan's peaceful entrance into French Indo-China on the one hand and condoning the forcible entrance of England and Russia into Iran on the other. Japan, it declared, earnestly desires world peace and is convinced that this will be made possible only if the United States recognizes the new order in Asia.

U. S. Explanation Rejected.

The Japanese government has turned down as unsatisfactory America's explanation regarding the transportation of petroleum to Vladivostok, Spokesman Koh Ishii declared.

He declined to disclose the contents of the American explanation, but said that further representations would be made at Washington, D. C., as well as in Moscow, which had sent a reply on somewhat different lines from that of Washington.

Ishii said that he agrees with President Roosevelt that at the present stage the less said about the American-Japanese problem the better. He declared the government has not yet received a reply to Premier Konoe's message to Mr. Roosevelt, but said he understood negotiations were proceeding.

Charge Nazis Goad Japs.

SHANGHAI, China, Sept. 2 (AP).—German advisers are pressing the Japanese government toward a policy of aggression on the Asiatic continent and defiance of the United States and Great Britain, reliable foreigners recently arrived from Japan said today. They added that the Nazis are bringing all pressure possible to force Japan into war.

LINDBERGH TALK "POOR BUSINESS" —PREMIER FRASER

OTTAWA, Ontario, Sept. 2 [Special].—Prime Minister Peter Fraser of New Zealand today told the Canadian club here that statements made last week by Col. Charles A. Lindbergh in Oklahoma City were "pitifully poor business and absolutely wrong."

He said he regretted that Lindbergh "should have obtained such a perverted viewpoint as to stress the possibility of differences between Great Britain, or any member of the British commonwealth, and the United States.

"It is poor business," Fraser added, "for Col. Lindbergh or anybody else to try to create antagonism between nations at a time like this by rousing suspicions which are absolutely without foundation."

Japanese Forces Leave Chinese Port of Foochow

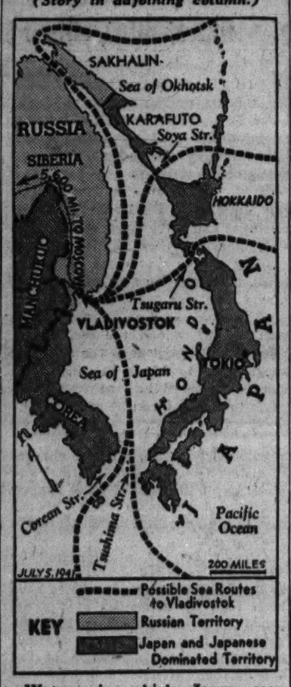
SHANGHAI, China, Sept. 3 [Wednesday] (AP).—Japanese military and naval authorities here announced today that Japanese forces had withdrawn from the Chinese port of Foochow in Fukien province. The forces have "completed their operations and left for another destination," the announcement said. The Japanese had occupied the port last April.

Stays Pat on Wholesale Prices of Britain's Corsets

LONDON, Sept. 2 (AP).—The board of trade got down to women's corsets today and put stays on wholesale prices. Normal sizes are to be sold for $1.10 wholesale from now on. Corsets allowing for an extra bulge here or there will cost 40 cents more.

Japanese Threat

(Story in adjoining column.)



Waters in which Japan may create a safety zone to close all routes by which American shipments of military aid to Russia could reach the Siberian port of Vladivostok. The routes are shown on map.

GERMANS CLAIM F. D. R. FLIRTS WITH BOLSHEVIKS

BERLIN, Sept. 2 (AP).—President Roosevelt's Labor day speech was described by authorized German sources today as developing nothing new as to foreign policy but revealing the American executive, from the domestic viewpoint, "in the rôle of Kerensky."

These sources said Alexander Kerensky, Socialist leader who served as premier of Russia in 1917, tried to use bolshevism for his imperialistic plans but had to learn that "bolshevism goes its own way." Similarly, they said, "President Roosevelt is now flirting with bolshevism to use it for his ends."

The opinion was expressed by the same sources that there was a discrepancy in the Roosevelt address because, on one hand, he emphasized workers' rights in phrases directed to Moscow and, on the other, stressed principles such as religious freedom, "which bolshevism can never acknowledge."

They declared he forgot to mention "the most important freedom—the right to work."

The controled press said workers in the United States were "still fighting for rights which were taken as a matter of course in Europe at the turn of the century."

"In order that workers won't think about their rights," said the Deutsche Allgemeine Zeitung, "Roosevelt says they should work harder to enable the British to continue the war."

AERIAL FORTRESS SURVIVES BLASTS OF 7 NAZI PLANES

Battered, Smoking, with Some Dead, It Flies In.

LONDON, Sept. 2 (AP).—The first of Britain's big American made fortress bombers to be tackled by German interceptor planes came thru a seven-plane assault battered and smoking, some of the crew dead and others wounded, and returned to Britain with its mission fulfilled.

The official account of the test was made public tonight. It elaborated on a brief report of the fight, which took place on Aug. 16 when one of the fortresses carried out a high altitude bombardment of the German battleships Scharnhorst and Gneisenau at Brest, France.

The air ministry news service said the fortress flew at less than the "full ceiling," which is the substratosphere at between 30,000 and 40,000 feet. This would indicate that the German planes, five Messerschmitt 109Fs and two Heinkel 113s, benefited from the denser air at the lower altitude. Not many pursuit planes can achieve in operations the extreme ceiling of the fortresses.

Fortress Goes It Alone.

"Flying at a great height, but not at the fortress' full ceiling, the bomber crossed the channel," said the news service. "Near Brest the bomber was separated from the rest of the detachment. It flew on, attacked [with bombs] and returned by itself.

"Not all the crew saw the bombs burst but the fire-controler, a flight sergeant who is now recovering from his wounds, saw one bomb out of a stick burst on the quay just beside one of the battle cruisers. He did not see the other bursts."

Anti-aircraft shells were bursting all around the big plane.

"Three minutes after the bombs had gone, the fire controler, who watches every part of the sky, saw the two Heinkels coming from a light cloud about a thousand feet below the fortress and slightly to starboard," the story continued.

"They were joined almost at once by the five Messerschmitts. All the fighters appeared to come from the same quarter of the sky. It was obvious that they had come from a standing patrol.

"The fighters made many attacks from both sides and from dead astern. Two of the fortress gunners and the wireless operator were severely wounded. In spite of his wounds, the wireless operator continued to signal to his base. The captain swung the bomber quickly from side to side and dived, now fast, now slow.

"Down came all the fighters after him, firing all the while. The fortress' No. 4 petrol tank was punctured and the crew thought the engine had caught fire. One said, 'There seemed to be no part of the bomber not hit.'

"When the fight had gone on for 20 minutes the fortress reached a low patch of cloud and all the enemy fighters broke away. Black smoke was now pouring from the bomber.

"The fighters had scarcely left when the fire-controler, tho wounded in the hand and leg, tried to reach the other wounded men. To do so he would have had to walk along the gangway which leads from the pilot's cabin to the rear. But the gangway was now covered with a tangled mass of wires and cables, and guide ropes along the side had been shot away.

Badly Damaged Craft Landed.

"The bomb doors were wide open below. This was a result of damage done by the German fighter, and the gangway was a narrow bridge over empty air. The fire-controler had to be held back, so anxious was he to get to the wounded men.

"The observer then tried to make a crossing but when partly over he found that a slip was almost certain, and went back for his parachute. He tried again, but this time his parachute was caught and entangled in the wreckage.

"As soon as he reached the English coast the captain made for the nearest airdrome. He still thought the No. 4 engine might be afire.

"With flaps out of action, tail tabs shot away, bomb doors wide open, tail wheel stuck half up and half down, brakes not working, only one aileron any good, and a scarcely controlable rudder, the captain had to land on a strange airdrome that was rather too small for the fortress. With his second pilot doing everything he could to help him, he made the landing."

TELLS HOW REDS MET THE BRITISH AS ALLIES IN IRAN

Soldiers Eye Each Other's War Equipment.

BY SAM BREWER.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

WITH BRITISH AND RUSSIAN TROOPS AT KAZVIN, Iran, Aug. 31 [Delayed]. — British and Russian troops met here today as allies for the first time since the 1917 revolution broke up the World war alliance. Brigadier Aizlewood of the British and Gen. Simienko of the Russians conferred in a little hotel on coöperation in holding Iran [Persia] against German fifth column activities.

Four main points were agreed upon in principle:

1. The British troops will not move north of the village of Aveh, near Hamadan.
2. The Russians will not move south of there.
3. Neither party will move east of their present positions.
4. Teheran, the capital, and the territory not occupied by the British or Russians will not be entered by troops of either ally.

That means that a big area east and south of Kazvin, which is 90 miles northwest of Teheran, will not be occupied.

Meets Big Armored Car.

The brigadier's party, consisting of one platoon of Gurkhas [Hindu troops] and a truckload of newspaper correspondents, contacted the Russians at 4 p. m. when it met an eight-wheeled armored car guarding the road 15 miles west of Kazvin. A mile further it found the reception committee—a Russian colonel with three cars.

The brigadier got out of his car and greeted the soviet colonel. The party then sped to Kazvin's only hotel.

Along the 15 mile road to Kazvin were truckloads of heavily armed Russian infantrymen with bayonets fixed and massive helmets on their heads. In the cab of every truck was a machine gun.

Eye Each Other's Equipment.

Near town the brigadier's escort of Gurkhas made their camp—a tiny spot of khaki uniforms and tan vehicles in a sea of soviet dark green uniforms and trucks. The British and the Russians were keenly interested in each other's equipment.

Many of the Russians carried modern automatic rifles, but they did not appreciate too close inspection of their arms.

Downstairs in the hotel where the respective commanders still were conferring late tonight, the British drank up the stock of Persian beer after their long ride in the heat and choking dust. The Russians did not join them. A few stood by solemnly and refused proffered drinks. The soviet troops bought up or requisitioned the town's entire stock of tea and sugar.

Reds Get an Interpreter.

The only joint festivities were at dinner in the hotel's dining room. The Russians insisted on offering vodka to the British officers. However, the conversation was limited. An interpreter brought in by the Russians was the only person who spoke both languages.

The British entered Kazvin without a show of arms. In fact, they were almost unarmed. The Russians were bristling with weapons of every description. They either carried rifles or submachine guns. Two big armored cars with 2 inch cannon stopped before the hotel and anti-aircraft guns were mounted outside the town. A sentry who halted cars entering or leaving carried a grenade in his hands and a machine gun at the roadside was pointed at the cars.

The British troops camped along the roadside. Villages are walled in with watch towers at the corners. The Iranians live in flat roofed mud houses similar to Indian pueblos. Around the houses are clumps of trees and carefully tended gardens. The peasants have abandoned their oriental garb and wear a peaked cape and drab western clothing.

On the way to Kazvin I saw soviet bombers over Hamadan, where a column of British troops were encamped. The planes dropped leaflets urging the Iranians to be docile and accept occupation. Two days before, the Russians had bombed the town. Two persons were killed.

BRITAIN RELATES ITS TALE OF WAR BY LAND, SEA, AIR

Official Record Bares Feats of Each Service.

BY LARRY RUE.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Sept. 2. — The story of the British empire's battle, covering more than half the globe on sea and land and in the air, was told in the second official record of the accomplishments of the three British fighting services. It was issued today on the eve of the second anniversary of Britain's declaration of war.

The report claims the navy has sunk, captured, or forced the scuttling of 4 million 700 thousand tons of German, Italian, and other shipping useful to the enemy. The fighter plane command, it adds, during the 10 week battle of Britain last fall brought down 2,375 enemy aircraft, and since Jan. 1 planes, anti-aircraft guns, and barrage balloons have destroyed more than 1,000 enemy aircraft at a cost of 300 fighter planes.

In the heavy daylight sweeps over Germany and German occupied territory, which began on June 16 and are continuing, the report states that 450 enemy aircraft have been shot down at a cost of 218 British fighter craft.

Highlights of Action Listed.

Highlights mentioned are the battle of Cape Matapan, the sinking of the 35,000 ton German battleship Bismarck, the sacrifice of the merchant cruiser Jervis Bay by Capt. E. S. F. Egan to save a convoy attacked by a German pocket battleship, the fleet air arm's crippling of the Italian fleet at Taranto, and the Lofoten [Norway] raid in which 11 enemy vessels were sunk and fish oil plants valuable for the manufacture of glycerine were destroyed.

Among the accomplishments of the navy was the maintenance of convoys across the Atlantic and for ships carrying troops and war materials over the 13,000 mile route around Cape Town for the battle of the Mediterranean.

Navy a Factor in Libya.

Naval coöperation with Gen. Sir Archibald P. Wavell's armored divisions received credit in the victory in Libya. Its services in evacuating the British troops from Greece and Crete also were praised.

While unsuccessful in holding Greece, the British army is said to have fought a heroic rear guard action there. The rapidly expanding army in Britain, with the home guard becoming better trained and equipped, is regarded "as a deterrent to invasion."

LINDBERGH, M'NIDER PLAN SPEECHES AT DES MOINES SEPT. 11

Des Moines, Ia., Sept. 2 [Special].—Charles A. Lindbergh will speak here on the evening of Sept. 11 at an anti-war rally in the Des Moines coliseum, the America First committee, which is sponsoring the event, announced today.

A large attendance is expected at the meeting. Residents of Polk county, of which Des Moines is the seat, recently indicated their anti-war sentiment by a 62 per cent vote against this country's entry into the conflict in a poll taken by the America First committee of every 20th registered voter.

On the same program with Lindbergh will be Col. Hanford McNider of Mason City, Ia., former national commander of the American Legion and former ambassador to Canada. The Des Moines chapter of America First is headed by an executive committee of five: R. J. Bannister, A. M. Parker and Donald Evans, attorneys; Mrs. Catherine Collins, a housewife, and S. W. Lowry, owner of the Lake Shore Tire and Rubber Co.

HITLER'S TROOPS 20 MILES FROM LENINGRAD; NAZIS

Water Supply of Odessa Cut Off, Berlin Says.

BERLIN, Sept. 2 (AP).—The Germans claimed tonight that their troops had broken thru outer defenses to within 20 miles of Leningrad while Rumanians in the south had cut off the drinking water supply for the half million civilians and soldiers in besieged Odessa. It was reported that Rumanian troops participating in the siege of the Black sea port had occupied its main waterworks.

Informed German quarters said the most advanced armored units stood before Krasnogvardeisk, railway junction from where they could see the smoke of Leningrad's great factories 20 miles to the northeast.

This advance unit would be only 20 miles west of the Leningrad-Moscow railroad along a spur line from Krasnogvardeisk, a junction for railways from Pskov, Tallinn, and Leningrad. It was said to have reached the town after two weeks of hard fighting from Kingisepp.

Tell of Difficult Weather.

The head of another column in the ring of steel the Germans said they were tightening about Leningrad was said to have passed Luga, 70 miles to the south. Much booty and motorized equipment and many guns were seized in fighting north of Luga in which "strong soviet formations" were annihilated.

The battle occurred in the most difficult weather and along roads made impassable by heavy rains. Columns of German soldiers had to carry heavier weapons forward.

In the south, DNB, official German news agency, said the cutting off of Odessa's water supply seriously endangered Red army soldiers and civilian defenders of the port, which has been under siege since Aug. 12.

Report Lack of Food.

Odessa was said to be already suffering from a shortage of food.

A number of soviet counterattacks were acknowledged, but the German accounts claimed all were repulsed. Soviet attempts to regain the western shore of the Dnieper south of Kiev by boat crossings under cannon fire were thwarted "with heavy losses to the Russians."

DNB reported that German infantry had stormed soviet positions on heights in the northern sector of the front yesterday and held them against repeated Russian counterattacks.

Altho the area of the fighting was not specified, it was indicated that it was on the Leningrad front.

Reds Suffer Heavy Losses.

German big guns destroyed 8 of 10 Red army batteries which sought to hold up the German advance in the north. In the Viipuri [Viborg] area north of Leningrad the Russians "suffered heavy losses" to the Finns.

On the sea front the Germans reported destruction of the Russian destroyer Straschny by a mine near the Estonian island of Oesel.

The Germans said the air force was continuing its destructive work unabated, especially in air attacks on soldiers and war materials in the Leningrad area.

They also reported heavy assaults on railways and communications in the middle sector and dive bombing attacks on western Crimea.

Bombers Hit Trains.

In the middle sector of the front air force attacks disrupted three railway routes for Russian supplies, DNB said. Trains standing at railway stations at Lozovaya and another town were hit. One munitions train went up in flames.

Northwest of Lake Ilmen, which is south of Leningrad, 28 trains were halted by heavy bomb damage. On the Dnieper, dive bombers were credited with sinking a monitor and six barges. Four other monitors burst into flames after being hit.

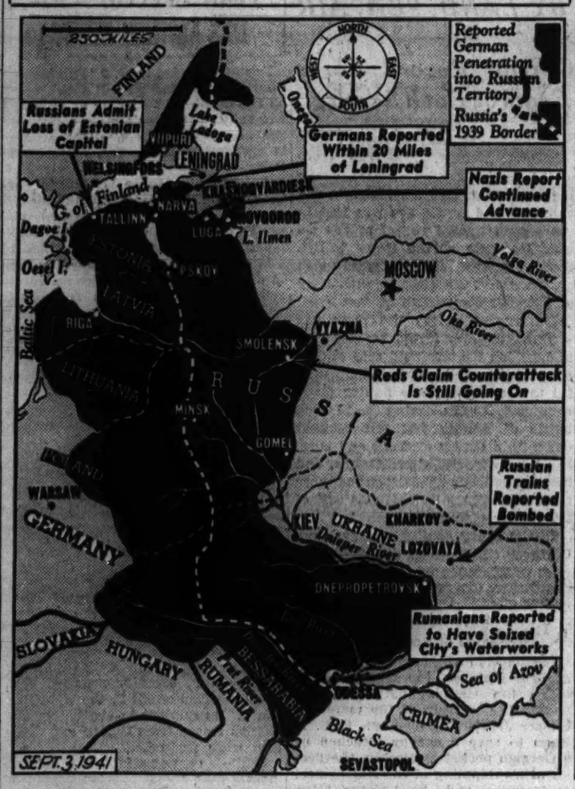
Chief of Thai Army Made Head of Navy and Air Force

BANGKOK, Thailand [Siam], Sept. 2 (AP).—Field Marshal Luang Bipul Songgram, already commander in chief of the Thai army, today was appointed special commander in chief of the Thai navy and Thai air force. It was announced Aug. 25 that the premier had given up duties as minister of defense, foreign affairs, and the interior, and that he was remaining premier in name only. Police Maj. Gen. Aduldet Charas was appointed to act as premier.

Middle East Gets $1,000,000 in U. S. Red Cross Goods

ALEXANDRIA, Egypt, Sept. 2 (AP).—The United States Red Cross has distributed $1,000,000 worth of food, clothing, and medical supplies to the needy of Egypt, Eritrea, Ethiopia, Palestine, and Turkey. Ralph Bain of St. Louis, middle east representative of the Red Cross, said today the distributions were carried out in the last two months.

Developments in Russian War



Developments along the war front in Russia yesterday.

MOSCOW DENIES STORY OF FINNISH PEACE PARLEY

MOSCOW, Sept. 2 (AP).—S. A. Lozovsky, vice-commissar for foreign affairs, tonight denied foreign reports that actual negotiations had been started for a separate Russian-Finnish peace.

"In Finland there is a great desire for peace, but reports of negotiations do not correspond to reality," he said.

Finns Continue Attacks.

HELSINGFORS, Finland, Sept. 2 (AP).—Heavy Finnish attacks against Russian troop concentrations and supply bases on the Karelian isthmus today gave prompt support to the declaration of a Finnish battle leader that the war against Russia "is not finished."

A tremendous explosion during an attack against a Red army supply base on the isthmus indicated that a direct hit had been scored on a soviet ammunition dump. Direct hits also were scored on Russian motorized supply columns and troop concentrations. The Finnish attack was carried north and destroyed three Russian engines on a siding of the Murmansk railroad, and official announcement said.

These attacks followed a declaration by Lieut. Gen. Lennart Oesch that the war against Russia would continue.

U. S. Troops to Be on Duty in Jamaica in 2 Months

KINGSTON, Jamaica, Sept. 2 (AP).—American planes will be stationed on this British island in a month's time and American troops will be here within two months, Maj. Gen. Daniel Van Voorhis, commandant of the Panama Canal Zone, said today. Gen. Van Voorhis has just completed inspection of the American base at Sandy Gully. Bases in Jamaica are among those being constructed under the terms of the lease-lend agreement.

MOSCOW CLAIMS NAZI RESERVISTS SPEED TO FRONT

Troops Sent from German Occupied Areas.

MOSCOW, Sept. 3 [Wednesday]—(AP).—The Russians today acknowledged the loss of Tallinn, Estonian capital whose capture the Germans announced last Friday. However, they declared this and other Nazi gains have been at such enormous costs in man power that Adolf Hitler was compelled to rush reserves from occupied Europe to his eastern armies.

The early morning communique said Tallinn, which had been used as a Baltic Red fleet base, was given up only after fierce fighting. It added that stubborn fighting continues along the entire western front.

In three days since Saturday the Russians placed German plane losses at 198, with Russian losses less than a third of this figure.

Hitler Hard Put, Nazis Say.

The soviet general staff said Hitler was so hard put by his losses that in some cases he was leaving wounded men to hold Nazi conquered areas of western Europe.

This information, attributed to captured German officers, was offered as confirmation of earlier Russian asserions that Hitler's original invading forces were dissolving under the shock of casualties. These casualties already were declared to have mounted to 2,500,000 men with 1,000,000 of them killed.

The Red announcement was supported by a claim in yesterday's soviet communique that in a single sector of the central front about Smolensk—where a Russian counter offensive was reported still rolling with the aid of bombers assaulting Nazi troops from altitudes of a few yards—a German western infantry regiment of the 161st division had been annihilated.

Quote German Officer.

Only eight to ten men survived in each German company, it was asserted, and these were taken prisoner.

The communique quoted a captured German company commander, First Lieutenant Ludwig Roberg, as declaring that his outfit had arrived 10 days ago from Toul in France, and that the whole Toul garrison had at the same time been sent hurrying to the Russian front.

German garrisons in Belgium, Holland, France, and elsewhere in the west, he was represented as saying, had been sent up.

"At the beginning of the war," his story continued, "regular army contingents [in the west] were replaced by reservists. Now the reservists, too, are being dispatched to the eastern front and replaced by wounded soldiers who as yet have not completed treatment. Many of them still wear bandages."

Nothing was said in the soviet communique as to the specific battle positions before Leningrad, Kiev, the Ukrainian capital, or at the center.

JAPANESE PRESS SAYS HITLER WILL DISCOVER VICTORY DIFFICULT

PEKING, Sept. 2 (AP).—In contrast with its recent pro-Axis attitude, the Japanese controled press here today chorused that Germany will find ultimate victory difficult because of American aid to Britain.

The unexplained about face comment continued with predictions that Moscow would survive thru the remainder of the year and it was almost impossible for Germany to gain a victory over Russia before winter. The British-Russian occupation of Iran threatens Germany with strong democratic lines from many directions, it was said.

The British-Russian air forces were described as already equal to the German air force, while British shipping losses were listed as only 20 per cent of their former high. The papers closed with the comment, seemingly officially inspired, that the victors in this war will be those who maintain their neutrality the longest.

BUY U.S. DEFENSE BONDS

THE President of the United States has issued a cordial appeal to the people of the nation to follow his example and buy United States Defense Bonds and Stamps.

"With jobs more plentiful and wages higher," said the President, "a slight sacrifice here, the omission of a few luxuries there, will help..."

To this appeal, the House of Seagram subscribes with a whole heart. For we have always said that fine whiskey is a luxury—and should be treated as such. Today, United States Defense Bonds and Stamps have a priority on the nation's pocketbook.

Uncle Sam needs every dollar you can give for ships... for planes...for tanks...for guns...and for the endless stream of vital defense equipment necessary to protect our free way of life.

That is why we of the House of Seagram say to our millions of friends and customers: "Buy U.S. Defense Bonds first." If you can't afford a bond, at least make a start with Defense Savings Stamps.

Help keep America strong—"so that freedom shall not perish from the earth."

Q. What happens if I suddenly need the money I put into a Defense Savings Bond?

A. You can cash your Bond at any time, after 60 days, for the full amount paid, plus any interest due you.

Q. But if I do not have enough money to buy a Defense Bond, what can I do?

A. Buy Defense Postal Stamps. Your post office, bank, department store or druggist has them, at 10 cents upward. Save enough Stamps to exchange for a Defense Bond.

Q. What will the Government do with the money I pay for my Bond?

DE VALERA PAPER HITS '5TH COLUMN' RIVAL IN DUBLIN

Raps Charge Government Has Lost Faith.

DUBLIN, Sept. 2 (AP).—Prime Minister Eamon de Valera's newspaper, the Irish Press, today accused the Irish Independent, Dublin's largest newspaper, of fifth column tactics.

The Press, organ of the government party, Fianna Fail, assailed as sinister the following passage from an editorial in the Independent:

"Anybody in touch with public feeling in this country must be disturbed by the cynicism, not unmixed with despair, which is so common at the moment.

Faith in Government "Lost."

"There is a danger that, having lost faith in those charged with management of the country's affairs, the people may begin to lose faith in themselves."

The Press said of this:

"In any country in the world it would be regarded as the most contemptible of all unpatriotic acts to undermine the authority of those who are endeavoring to bring this country safely thru the most dangerous emergency in its history.

"Fifth Column" Ambition.

"The Irish Independent is not only attempting this but also trying to shake people's faith in themselves.

SHOOTS AND KILLS HIMSELF.

A coroner's jury which heard a story of puppy love which, it was believed, was behind the fatal shooting Monday night of Betty Smith, 15 years old, returned a noncommittal verdict yesterday.

The girl, who would have begun her sophomore year at South Chicago High school yesterday, was found fatally wounded with a hunting rifle beside her in her home at 7627 Dante avenue shortly after a note had been delivered to her from Edward Bearby, 16, of 2812 East 76th street, breaking off their friendship of 10 days. Bearby and Norman Smith, 16, of 7815 Saginaw avenue, who delivered the note, found the body. Robert Smith, the girl's father, expressed belief the shooting was accidental.

A private funeral will be held tomorrow at the chapel at 7350 Cottage Grove avenue, where the inquest was conducted.

ROVING RAIDERS OF BRITAIN SMASH AGAIN AT BERLIN

Nazis Admit One of War's Liveliest Attacks.

BERLIN, Sept. 3 [Wednesday] (AP).—British bombers attacked this capital last night with heavy explosives and incendiary bombs in one of the liveliest raids of the war.

Northern, central, and southwestern areas of Germany also were attacked.

The planes attacking Berlin were acknowledged as "strong units" but an official communique said that only a few bombers managed to penetrate anti-aircraft defenses to reach the capital's heart.

Apartment houses were damaged in the capital and "insignificant damage" resulted elsewhere, it was said. The Germans said three British planes were shot down.

[The biggest radio blackout of the war in Germany and German occupied countries was reported in broadcasts heard in New York last night, indicating large scale British or Russian air raids were in progress. The British Broadcasting corporation said German and Nazi controled stations in eastern Europe, including Budapest Bucharest, and Prague, shut down.]

Heavier Attacks on Britain.

Authorized German commentators declared tonight with obvious satisfaction that for two consecutive nights Nazi air force has launched major attacks against Britain after a long pause.

Taking note of the British concentration on defense, German military spokesmen declared that "an island is no longer a problem for the German army on the basis of experience in Norway and Crete."

Monday night Newcastle was raided and the night before Hull was heavily bombed, they said.

U. S. Made Planes Raid Bremen.

LONDON, Sept. 2 (AP).—American-built fortress planes bombed Bremen in the second raid upon the big German port in three days by these speedy, high-flying planes during a dawn to dusk RAF offensive today against the German held continental coast and Nazi shipping.

Torpedo-carrying planes pouncing on a German convoy off Norway hit the largest vessel with two torpedoes and probably destroyed it, and an escort vessel was hit, the air ministry announced.

Follow up Rhineland Raid.

The big daylight assault followed a night raid centered upon the German industrial city of Cologne. Other Rhineland points also were raided.

The German radio in its foreign service tonight alleged that casualties in RAF raids on Germany were 3,853 dead and 9,445 injured from the start of the war until Aug. 29.

[Up to March 1, acknowledged British civilian casualties in air raids were 28,859 killed and 40,166 injured.]

MAYBANK LEADS SOUTH CAROLINA SENATE CONTEST

Columbia, S. C., Sept. 2 (AP).—Gov. Burnet R. Maybank piled up a big lead over his two opponents for the United States senate in a special Democratic primary today, but on the face of incomplete returns he lacked the majority which would give him the nomination. Each of the three candidates pledged full support of the Roosevelt administration.

With reports in from 1,364 of the state's 1,523 precincts, the vote stood: Maybank, 56,975; former Gov. Olin D. Johnston, 38,636; Representative Joseph R. Bryson, 24,195.

The second primary, if necessary, will be held two weeks from today. The election, a mere formality in this overwhelmingly Democratic state, is set for Sept. 30. The winner will take over the senate seat about Oct. 15, replacing Roger C. Peace, Greenville publisher now serving by Maybank's appointment, and will serve out the unexpired term of James F. Byrnes, who was elevated to the Supreme court two months ago.

Lost in Ferry Plane

Count Guy de Baillet-Latour (left), member of the staff of the minister of colonies of the emigree Belgian government, and Capt. Sherwood Picking of the United States navy, who were among the six passengers and crew of four who perished when a transport plane of the British ferry command crashed in Britain.

2 AMERICANS DIE AS BRITISH FERRY PLANE CRASHES

8 Others Lost; Third Accident in Month.

LONDON, Sept. 2 (AP).—An eastbound trans-Atlantic transport plane previously reported missing has been found wrecked in an isolated mountain district of the west coast with all 10 aboard dead, including an American naval officer and Count Guy de Baillet-Latour of Belgium, the air ministry announced tonight.

The American officer was Capt. Sherwood Picking, en route to London to become assistant United States naval attaché. Count Guy de Baillet-Latour, assistant military attaché of the Belgian embassy in London, had been to Washington on an official mission.

American Airman Killed.

A second American lost was Charles Alvan Spence of Little Neck, N. Y., flight engineer of the plane.

The others aboard were:

Dr. Mark Benjamin, Wembley, England, of the central scientific office in Washington; Dr. Robert B. Mowat, Bristol, attached to the British library of information; E. Taylor, Farnborough, Hampshire, England, principal technical officer of the British air ministry; Col. L. H. Wrangham of the imperial army, and three crewmen.

The ferry command, whose airmen fly new American made bombers to Britain and bring flyers to the American side of the ocean for more, suffered two serious crashes recently which took a toll of 44 lives, including those of 18 Americans.

Count Guy de Baillet-Latour had been in Washington on a mission for the ministry of colonies of the emigré Belgian government.

War Hero Among Victims.

It was first announced that his father, Count Henri, president of the International Olympic congress, was aboard the plane. The Belgian embassy, however, said Count Henri was still in German-held Belgium.

Capt. Picking, a native of Baltimore and a resident of Falmouth Foreside, Portland, Me., was commander of the submarine O-10 during the World war, winning the Navy Cross for heroic action.

Dr. Mount, an eminent British historian, had been on a lecture tour in the United States since November.

His tour, under auspices of the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace, included appearances at the universities of Indiana, Michigan, and Wisconsin, and at Beloit college. He was history professor at the University of Wisconsin in 1925-'26.

AIR RAIDS CLOSE SUEZ CANAL FOR 20 DAYS—NAZIS

BERLIN, Sept. 2 (AP).—The DNB news agency today said the Suez canal was closed to traffic for 20 days during June, July, and August because of German air raids.

Raid Tripoli Second Night.

CAIRO, Egypt, Sept. 2 (AP).—The royal air force middle east command tonight reported a second successive night raid on the Libyan port of Tripoli Aug. 31 damaged one axis merchant ship and left another ablaze. Two raids on the harbor of Bengazi the same night also were reported, in addition to attacks against Bardia and storage dumps at Gambut.

The British garrison of besieged Tobruk on the Libyan coast beat off a heavy dive bombing attack on 100 planes on Monday, the middle east command announced. Damage and casualties were negligible, the British said. [Rome reported gasoline and munitions dumps were hit in a mass attack on Tobruk.]

ECUADOR ARMY TAKES OVER AIR LINE OF GERMANS

GUAYAQUIL, Ecuador, Sept. 2 (AP).—An army detachment took custody today of the Guayaquil and Quito hangars and facilities of Aerea Sedta, subsidiary of Lufthansa, the German aviation concern.

Newspapers carried announcements by Aerea Sedta that on next Friday all activities of the line would be discontinued and that the last flight to Loja and Cuenca would be tomorrow, a plane leaving those cities for Quito with a call at Guayaquil.

The suspension followed similar action by Bolivia and Peru against German air lines.

UNION TIES UP FOUR PLANTS TO COLLECT FINES

1,400 CIO Packing House Workers Strike.

More than 1,400 workers, in four Chicago meat packing plants, members of the Packing House Workers' Organizing committee [CIO] were on strike yesterday because of a reported refusal of the Illinois Meat company to collect fines levied by the union upon its members who disobeyed orders to wear "We Want More Money" badges. All the plants have government contracts.

Officials of the Illinois firm, which has about 500 union employés, said that they had been told they must compel the four men involved to wear the badges. Their answer was that they had no authority to issue such a command and no right to deduct fines from workers' pay. [The union has a contract requiring the payment of dues by checkoff.]

Sympathy Strike Called.

The strike began Thursday in the Illinois Meat plant. Yesterday a sympathy strike was called by units of the union at the Agar Packing and Provision company, the P. Brennan company, and the Empire Packing company. All are just outside the stockyards.

In the yards it was said that a number of hogs purchased by the strikebound plants were something of a problem, as other packers were unable to take them over and slaughter them.

[Prices of live hogs broke 10 to 25 cents in the stockyards yesterday as a result of the strike, despite a sharp rise in wholesale prices of fresh pork. Story on page 23.]

Three shifts of policemen, with 90 men in each detail, were assigned to watch developments at the picket lines thrown around the companies' buildings. There were no disorders yesterday; the pickets permitted office workers and executives to go thru as usual.

Vow They Won't Shave.

Some of the union members appeared with two day growths of beard and asserted they didn't intend to shave until the strike was won.

Packing firm officials said there was no question of wages or working conditions involved; that negotiations for a new wage scale were in progress and had not come to a standstill.

Officers of the union refused to talk about the fine collection demand or any other aspects of the strike.

Teamsters Continue Strike.

About 280 members of warehousemen's local 743 of the International Teamsters' union, who went on strike last Thursday in the shipping and receiving rooms of Hibbard Spencer Bartlett & Co., 211 East North Water street, were still picketing the firm yesterday.

Company officials said the union workers were paid a bonus of a week's pay in July and also in August. They added that they were already paying as high a scale as other comparable firms. Leslie Goudie, president of the teamsters joint council, said the men were striking for a higher wage scale; that the Hibbard rate was lower than other firms paid and that the bonus was unacceptable as a substitute for a raise.

AIRPLANE TOWS 2 GLIDERS OVER CHICAGO'S LOOP

Two glider planes, one piloted by Lieut. Eschol M. Mallory of the aviation division of the United States Marine corps, were towed over the loop yesterday in an exercise supervised by Joseph Steinhauser, Chicago soaring expert and instructor. Steinhauser piloted the other glider. The towplane was a Travel-Air plane piloted by Kurt Kunau.

Lieut. Mallory said the marine corps has assigned him to take a course in gliding under Steinhauser, in preparation for the possibility that gliding planes may be used by the marines at some future time. The marines have none at present, he said.

Yesterday's flight started from Rubinkam airport in Harvey. After traveling over the loop, the soaring planes were towed to Elmhurst, where they were cut loose and landed. They then traveled to Joliet and landed, before returning to Harvey. One glider was towed 500 feet behind the tow-plane and the other 550 feet—the tow ropes forming an unbalanced "V." The planes were towed at 60 miles an hour at a height of about 3,000 feet.

Judge Robert Jerome Dunne was installed as chief justice of the Criminal court yesterday in an impressive ceremony attended by many civic and political leaders. He succeeds Chief Justice James F. Fardy, who will resume his duties as a Superior court judge.

Numerous speakers paid tribute to Judge Dunne and to Judge Fardy for his record as chief justice. Among them were Wilbert F. Crowley, first assistant state's attorney; Bertram Cahn, president, and Nathaniel K. Leverone, secretary, of the Chicago Crime commission; James Donnelly, secretary of the Illinois Manufacturers' association; Arthur A. Sullivan, chairman of the Democratic State Central committee; Roger Faherty, president of the Irish Fellowship society, and Clerk Thomas J. Bowler and Judge Julius H. Miner of the Criminal court.

Judge Dunne's wife and one of his sons, Albert Pyott Dunne, 10 years old, were among those at the ceremony. Judges of the Superior and Circuit court constitute the bench of the Criminal court.

Other international officers have said that unless Dillon is removed the charter of the local will be revoked.

ILLINOIS TROOPS SLOSH THRU RAIN IN ARMY GAMES

Thousands of Soldiers in Major Maneuvers.

BY CLAY GOWRAN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

With the Blue Army, Camden, Ark., Sept. 2.—This little southwestern Arkansas city echoed today with the tramp of thousands of tired infantry men and the roar of hundreds upon hundreds of olive drab army trucks as the rear guard of the retreating Blue army fell back thru the city before the advance of Red divisions.

The 27th [New York], 33d [Illinois], and 35th [Missouri, Kansas, and Nebraska] divisions form the Blue army. The Red force consists of the 5th and 6th infantry divisions and the 2d cavalry division.

Hour after hour, first in misty rain and later in a drenching downpour, tired troops moved down Camden's main street, heading southward. Anti-aircraft machine guns, set up in light trucks thruout the city's business section and along the line of march, protected the withdrawal from mythical enemy bombers and pursuit aviation.

Converge on Camden.

Within 48 hours, and probably much sooner, Camden will be in the Red hands. The main strength of two triangular infantry divisions—the 5th and 6th regular army units—is converging upon the city from the northwest, and now is less than 40 miles away. Later the 1st armored division from Fort Knox, Ky., will join the Reds.

This theoretical rear guard action is being fought by the 18,000 of the 27th division. Defending the retreat of the division's main body is the 165th infantry—the famous Fighting 69th of World war days. This regiment crossed the nearby Ouachita river before dawn this morning on a hastily constructed pontoon bridge, and now is lying in wait on the far bank, ready to smash at the Reds if they should try to cut off the division's withdrawal.

33d In Louisiana.

Illinois' 33d division already has crossed into Louisiana at a section of the border which cannot be disclosed. Maj. Gen. Samuel T. Lawton's 18,000 men, of whom more than 10,000 are from the Chicago area, have not as yet had any contact with the enemy in this new and larger phase of the current maneuvers.

Somewhere across the Ouachita, far south and east of the main body of the Blue army, the 8,000 horsemen and the armored cars and bantam buggies of the 2d cavalry division are lying in wait, ready for flanking attack on the retreating Blues.

However, no major meeting of the main bodies of the Red and Blue armies is expected until both forces have moved well into Louisiana. There, after a pitched battle expected to last for at least 48 hours, these Red and Blue halves of Lieut. Gen. Ben Lear's 2d army will be rejoined and turned to the south to meet the 3d army, now maneuvering in Louisiana, in the grand scale climax of the six week war games.

FIND PERCEPTION IS WHAT COUNTS AMONG AVIATORS

American military planes are becoming laboratories for psychologists, who have found that perception is more important than muscular coördination in flying, it was reported yesterday to the American Association for Applied Psychology. More than 1,200 psychologists from all over the country are attending the meetings of this and three allied groups at Northwestern university.

Dr. John G. Jenkins of the University of Maryland, who is now with the civil and military aviation authority, learning to fly, said that it was first thought that lack of muscular coördination was possibly the explanation of numerous air accidents.

"But it has been learned," he said, "that perception—or its lack—is infinitely more important. Perception is not only the ability of the eyes to see and of the other faculties to aid, but of the mind to size up a situation."

The other organizations meeting at Northwestern university are the American Psychological association, which is the parent group; the Society for the Psychological Study of Social Issues, and the Psychometric society. The psychological association's sessions open today and will continue thru Saturday.

Object of Aldermanic Complaint

Sign in Lincoln park linking outer drive improvement project with "National Defense." Park driving conditions drew criticism yesterday from Ald. W. J. Cowhey (41st).

ALDERMAN GETS LOST IN A PARK; GUESS WHICH ONE

It's Lincoln, of Course, and Is He Put Out!

Ald. William J. Cowhey [41st], whose ward is in the far northwest corner of Chicago, an area he describes as the "pioneer section," yesterday complained he had become lost and bewildered in "what used to be known as Lincoln park."

Ald. W. J. Cowhey. [Palmer House Studio Photo.]

His complaint, which was against the long drawn out Outer drive improvement project in the park, was registered in the aldermanic committee rooms. Representatives of motor clubs and civic organizations who were waiting for the traffic committee to convene constituted his audience.

"For more than three years the park district has been digging tank traps and generally upsetting the public with that so-called improvement project," Cowhey said.

And So He Gets Lost!

"I drove thru Lincoln park this morning. I got lost trying to get out. Cars wander around and around and up and down and you're giddy before you get headed in the right direction.

"They used to call it Lincoln park, but I think now it must be named for some battlefield. It certainly has looked like one for a long time.

"I saw a sign on the Outer drive that said, 'Defense Highway.' That's something new. I suppose they are going to run tanks up and down the road and land troops from battleships next."

Cowhey said he had called George T. Donoghue, park district general superintendent, and complained about the drive.

Donoghue said the new road will be open soon," Cowhey reported. "He also said cars can average 25 miles an hour thru the park the way it is. If you drove 25 miles an hour there now you would come out dizzy. It's a traffic hazard."

Sets Sept. 15 Deadline.

Donoghue later said that with the exception of a grade separation at Belmont avenue, traffic was expected to be able to move over the Outer drive link from Fullerton avenue to Belmont avenue by Sept. 15. The grade separation, he said, is expected to be completed by Christmas.

The traffic committee, when it met, shelved one of Ald. Cowhey's pet projects, the improvement of Avondale avenue and the creation of a northwest highway. Cowhey had asked that one section of Avondale avenue from Lavergne avenue to Lawrence avenue be named an arterial highway so state funds could be used for its improvement.

Ald. George Kells [28th], chairman of the committee, told Cowhey that it would take 90 years to complete the highway if he went at it in such short strips, to which Cowhey answered, "If I got that highway finished in 90 years it would be fast compared to the present rate of improvement."

ASK ALDERMEN'S PROBE OF BRIDGE RAISING DELAYS

The council traffic committee yesterday recommended that a special aldermanic committee investigate problems caused by too frequent openings of Chicago river bridges during the late afternoon and early evening hours.

Under the present bridge ordinance the bridges must be closed to river traffic during the morning rush hour and from 4 to 6 p. m. in the afternoon on week days, except Saturday.

Several complaints have been made that since 1930, when the bridge ordinance was passed, traffic has increased and rush hour traffic extends beyond 6 p. m.

Ald. Bernard J. O'Hallaren [18th] announced last week that when the council meets tomorrow he will ask that the bridge ordinance be amended to extend the closing hours to 8 or 9 p. m.

Yesterday the traffic committee, headed by Ald. George D. Kells [28th] suggested the council direct a joint committee of the traffic committee and rivers and harbors committee to conduct the investigation.

HAY FEVER FOLK WON'T LIKE THIS STORY ONE BIT!

Kochia Scoparia, which sounds a little like a sneeze anyway, is the latest threat to Chicago hay fever sufferers. O. C. Durham, chief botanist of the Abbott laboratories, said yesterday that the weed, often known as fire-brush, fire-ball or summer cypress, is a variety of tumbleweed and a cousin to the Russian thistle. It is commonly found in southwest Nebraska, and apparently was brought to Chicago in hay for cattle heading for the stockyards. Durham said it was first noticed in the stockyards area but is now spreading to other sections of the city. The only bright spot in the picture is that the pollen of Kochia Scoparia is heavier and carries lesser distance than the ragweed; there is less of it, and the new menace is tough enough to choke out ragweed where the two start growing together.

Last Fort Sheridan Unit Leaves for War Games

Fifty-five officers and men, the last of the coast artillery [anti-aircraft] regiments stationed at Fort Sheridan, left in five trucks for Lake Village, Ark., yesterday to participate in the southern war maneuvers. On Saturday they will join their 4,400 comrades who left Fort Sheridan Aug. 24.

G. O. P. LEADERS FAVOR FIGHT FOR 21 COURT PLACES

Back Green's Opposition to Coalition.

Most Republican politicians yesterday were preparing to follow Gov. Dwight Green's lead in shunning the customary coalition with Democrats in favor of a straight G. O. P. ticket for 21 Superior court judgeships in Cook county.

Green is coöperating with the Chicago Bar association in opposing coalition. The bar association is expected to follow thru on its program tomorrow by issuing a list of 26 lawyers considered to be well qualified for the bench. Those on the list have not indicated that they are willing to become Republican candidates—at this time, one attorney emphasized.

Start Selection Monday.

This action, perhaps, will aid the Cook county Republican central committee Monday when it goes into session as a judicial convention. A nominating committee of about five men will be appointed to select the 21 G. O. P. candidates, probably with instructions to report back to the convention within three days.

"I stand with the governor in opposing coalition," said John T. Dempsey, Republican party chairman. "Certainly his program was a surprise to some, but his ideas were well received by the large audience and I am finding general approval among party workers.

"His determination to avoid any deals with the Kelly-Nash Democratic organization was unmistakable. It is hardly necessary to say we have a hard fight ahead of us."

Want Jonas on Ticket.

Dempsey said an invitation to join the Republican ticket will be extended to Edgar A. Jonas, former Municipal court judge with a high ranking in the bar association, who today will be sworn in as successor to the late Judge Denis E. Sullivan of the Superior court. Jonas was appointed to the vacancy Saturday.

However, there was a rumor that the Democratic leaders, who have set their convention for Sept. 12, may ask Jonas to seek November election on their ticket. Since Jonas was expected to lead the G. O. P. ticket, this would be an attempt to steal a Republican star. Jonas was asked whether he would accept a place on the bipartisan slate.

"I haven't formed an opinion on it yet," he said. "I haven't given the possibility the slightest thought. After all, I haven't been sworn in yet."

Sitting Judges Wary.

An attempt was made to ascertain which ticket would be chosen by the seven sitting Republican judges, assuming places were offered to them by both parties.

"I'm a Republican and always have been, but it's too early to talk about that," said Judge Oscar Hebel.

"It's pretty hard to say what I would do in those circumstances," said Judge E. I. Frankhauser, 80 years old, who previously had denied any intention of retiring. "The boys are doing a lot of talking and you can't be sure what will happen."

McSurely for Coalition.

Judge William H. McSurely, who like the others has been elected on coalition slates, frankly declared that he wanted to be on the bipartisan ticket. He issued a statement defending the coalition system.

The four G. O. P. judges who could not be reached are John J. Lupe, John F. Haas, Oscar Nelson, and Robert C. O'Connell. Terms are for six years at $15,000 a year.

There is a report that several sitting judges will be dropped by the Democrats, who will get down to serious discussion late this week after Mayor Kelly and Patrick A. Nash return to the city. Senator Harold G. Ward, the mayor's legislative spokesman, is believed to be in line for one place.

MRS. MARIE M. TUCKER.

Los Angeles, Cal., Sept. 2 [Special].—Mrs. Marie M. Tucker, widow of Maj. George A. Tucker, who died July 12 of a knife wound, was arrested today on a technical charge of suspicion of his murder.

Later Superior Judge Benjamin J. Scheinman declined to order her release on a writ of habeas corpus asked by her attorney, Frank Doherty, who contended the California statutes define no such charge as suspicion of murder.

Maj. Tucker died at Letterman General hospital in San Francisco of a knife wound declared by Fort MacArthur army officers to have been received 11 days previously while he was slicing bread for a sandwich in his San Pedro home.

Capt. Vernon Rasmussen of the police homicide squad, who questioned Mrs. Tucker for several hours after her arrest, said:

"She will be held pending presentation of the case to the grand jury Thursday or Friday."

PLACES FATHER WHO HIT BABY ON PROBATION

John Michalak, 27 years old, of 6457 Eggleston avenue, who confessed that he had struck and bruised his 9 month old daughter, Janet, because she cried, yesterday was placed on probation for six months by Judge Stephan Adamowski in the Court of Domestic Relations. A fine of $100 and costs was suspended.

"You could very well have killed the baby," Judge Adamowski admonished Michalak. "God has given you a treasure which many couples yearn for. Hereafter you are not to touch the baby in an angry frame of mind or you will pay this fine."

Three neighbors of Michalak testified that they had heard crying and slaps in the Michalak home several times. The mother, Martha, who brought the baby to court with her, told Judge Adamowski she had tried in vain to stop the blows. Except in this instance, she said, Michalak was a good husband. The couple have another child, George, 2.

Approve 9½ Million Fund for Arms Works Projects

John M. Carmody, federal works administrator, yesterday announced Presidential approval of 23 rearmament public works projects costing $9,599,291. Among them was an $80,000 addition to the Silver Cross hospital in Joliet. Carmody said the projects would provide health, welfare, and safety facilities for defense workers and army and navy personnel.

STUDY JOB PLANS FOR SOLDIERS TO BE FREED SOON

State selective service officials yesterday began working on plans to help released conscripts get their old jobs back or get new ones after army officials announced the first of the 200,000 soldiers to be discharged before Christmas would be out of uniform by late September.

Paul G. Armstrong, state draft director, said he would appoint a reemployment committeeman for each draft board in the state as liaison agent between the returning soldiers and employers.

Under the war department's program conscripts will be released in the following order: [1] those with dependents; [2] those who were 28 years old and over on July 1, 1941; and [3] married men who desire discharge after 12 months' service.

QUOTING ABRAHAM LINCOLN

Free Speech and Discussion.

The Union, we intend to keep, . . . Its Constitution and laws made in pursuance thereof must and shall remain, "the supreme law of the land." . . . No law is stronger than is the public sentiment where it is to be enforced. Free speech and discussion, and immunity from whip and tar and feathers, seem implied by the guarantee to each state of "a republican form of government."

A. Lincoln

OF BENEDICT ARNOLD AND ENEMIES.

Mr. Roosevelt in his Labor day address remarked that he did not intend to become a "modern Benedict Arnold." So far as we are aware this is the first time that an American President has felt called upon to disclaim this purpose. Perhaps Mr. Roosevelt is a bit sensitive about his revolutionary ancestor or, to put it more accurately, his ancestor, James Roosevelt, who lived in New York at the time of the American Revolution and Arnold, and took the oath of allegiance to George III. rather than place his extensive properties in jeopardy. In comparison, Benedict Arnold's record, while certainly a black one, has some redeeming aspects. True, Arnold sold out in the end, but before that he fought with conspicuous gallantry and success on behalf of his country. So far as known none of the Franklin Roosevelt line has ever borne arms for his country.

The reference to Benedict Arnold came in a passage of the speech in which Mr. Roosevelt said some Nazi sympathizers and appeasers are asking him "to negotiate with Hitler, to pray for crumbs from his victorious table." These phrases were, no doubt, intended to smear the America First committee, but the charge is groundless. The opponents of intervention can imagine no reason for peace negotiations between Mr. Roosevelt and Herr Hitler. Congress has not declared war and neither have the Nazis. There is nothing to negotiate about.

Mr. Roosevelt assumes the contrary. He repeatedly referred to the "enemies." The phrase occurs a half dozen times in the course of the speech. "These enemies all know that we possess a strong navy. . . ." "These enemies know that our army is increasing daily. . . ." These enemies know a great many things, said Mr. Roosevelt with rhetorical repetition. It is to be hoped that the American people also know a few things, including the salient fact that this country has no enemies in the sense in which he used the word unless we are at war, and only congress can declare war. Mr. Roosevelt is once again attempting to break down the constitutional structure of the country by usurping the power of congress to start wars.

The man who is determined not to become a Benedict Arnold—he has said as much—has come to this use of the word enemy by a gradual process. Four years ago, at the dedicatory speech in Chicago, he discovered aggressors who were to be quarantined. Next we were to take action against these aggressors. It was to be nonbelligerent, but it was to be more effective than mere words. Then we were to aid the allies, short of war. Step by step Mr. Roosevelt has pushed for war. It is only a few weeks since he and Mr. Churchill [who is at war and has enemies] agreed on a statement of war aims. And now Mr. Roosevelt talks of this country's enemies, to accustom the people to the idea that they have no choice but to send their sons to the slaughter in Europe.

In view of this record of deviousness it is gratifying to learn from the highest authority that Mr. Roosevelt does not mean to become, like Benedict Arnold, a betrayer of the confidence reposed in him.

FREEDOM FROM FEAR.

Mr. Roosevelt says that the defeat of Hitler is to usher in a period of freedom. Among the freedoms so to be established is freedom from fear everywhere in the world.

For a good many years now the Negroes in this country have had reason to fear mob violence and have sought protection in federal law against lynchers. Mr. Roosevelt's party has refused to vote an anti-lynching law, and Mr. Roosevelt himself has submissively accepted the verdict of the southern wing of his party on this issue.

The place to first establish freedom from fear is the United States. Until that is done it is absurd to talk of establishing it all over the world.

THE SENATE'S TAX BILL.

Reports from Washington indicate that the house will agree to most of the changes in the tax bill which were made by the senate finance committee. The most important change is the lowering of exemptions from the income tax for single persons from $800 down to $750 and for married persons from $2,000 down to $1,500. This part of the bill is bound to cause the congressmen plenty of trouble back home. For this reason the final vote in the house will probably show many voting against it for home consumption. The draft extension, also an unpopular bill with the voters, was given just enough votes to get it by.

Some of the folks back home were able to make their feelings known while the senate committee was considering the tax bill. The tax on soft drinks, which was urged by the treasury and aimed at the Coca-Cola company in Georgia, was cut out of the bill, it might be assumed, at the insistence of the chairman, Senator George of Georgia. Senator Byrd, a member of the senate finance committee, was able to see the committee did not open the issue of higher tobacco taxes as suggested by the treasury. And several members of the committee took it upon themselves to see that the joint returns proviso was excluded from the measure after hearing from home that the money to pay such a tax would come right out of the funds that furnish political contributions.

An obviously unfair provision in the house bill provided that the tax of 10 per cent on furs, jewelry, electrical appliances, and so forth, would apply to the unpaid portions of the instalment sales made after July 1. This meant that if a working girl bought a fur coat at the August fur sales she would pay a tax of 10 per cent on the amount which remained unpaid by the time the bill became law. The woman of means, however, who could buy the coat on her regular charge account, would avoid the tax. That was a discrimination against the poor working girl which she would not forgive. The senate committee has raised the tax to 15 per cent on fur coats, but it is not to apply to instalment commitments made before passage of the bill.

CHICAGO LABOR LEADERS AND THE GANGSTERS.

The Labor day declaration of the Federation News, official publication of the Chicago Federation of Labor, against gangsters and racketeers in Chicago labor unions is most heartening to the citizens of this community who have seen Chicago and its labor movement brought into disrepute by such criminals.

More heartening, however, is the fact that the leaders of the CFL have for some time past been backing their words with actions. Pious declarations by other labor leaders on the subject of racketeering have become a tedious commonplace in the nation. What makes the stand of President Fitzpatrick and his associates unique, to our knowledge, is the fact that they have shown that they mean what they say by doing something about it.

In every effort by Chicago authorities to root out the criminals from Chicago unions they have been given coöperation by the leaders of AFL labor in Chicago. In no case has the cry of persecution been raised in defense of the racketeers, as it has been raised so frequently in other cities, and by men who know it to be false. In several instances the cleanups of local unions have been started by the local federation officials. It is a sad reflection on the American labor movement that this should be a matter for comment, but it is, and Mr. Fitzpatrick and his associates deserve full credit for the stand they have taken.

For the expression of support given THE TRIBUNE in consequence of the anonymous threat voiced against one of its writers we are grateful. That threat, as its readers may imagine, will not deter THE TRIBUNE, and we are confident that the leaders of the CFL will not be deterred by any similar threats.

"There is no place in organized labor for the racketeer, the chiseler, the fixer, or the terrorist," says the Federation News.

With that declaration of policy every decent citizen in Chicago is in accord. The honest, dues paying members of Chicago trade unions are back of their leaders in this fight. Some of the labor leeches claim political influence. Public officials will do well to reflect that the scoundrels have never been able to outvote the decent people in any community, once the latter are aroused. They should let that thought guide their actions.

Editorial of the Day

ONE WAY TO ATTAIN NATIONAL UNITY.

[Newport-Balboa Press, Newport Beach, Cal.]

The greatest contribution to national unity would be for the President to tell the people of the country just what constitutes the "great emergency" which he says confronts the United States. If the nation is in dire peril the people have a right to know it. Without disclosing any military secrets the chief executive could inform the people as to the details of this great danger which we hear so much about in general terms. If the judgment of the people cannot be trusted, then democracy is a failure.

Europe and Asia have had their wars for centuries, and while each and every one of them has threatened the peace of the whole world and the balance of military, diplomatic and economic power, none has ever been of vital interest to America. Down the ages would-be dictators have aspired to conquer the entire world, but always something has happened to thwart their plans. Hitler is merely an imitator of Alexander and Napoleon, and yet America had never considered it necessary to "intervene" in a foreign war until Germany by continued overt acts caused us to go into the great war of 25 years ago—and tho we were among the "victors" our people do not want any more of that brand of victory.

The theory that America's first line of defense is on the Rhine and the policy of spreading our "defense" to widely scattered distant foreign outposts can only give the peoples of the old world the impression that we, too, seek to dominate the world.

It is one thing to stay at home and make our country impregnable against possible attack by any foreign power or combination of powers; but to engage in international power politics and attempt to dominate the affairs of distant nations is something new in American foreign policy. Members of Mr. Roosevelt's cabinet and many of his other close advisers have been beating the war drums for months and it is evident that the President himself is impatient to be "forced" into war in Europe, in Asia, and anywhere else where the fighting is good. He has been making fighting speeches for more than three years—even before England and France declared war on Germany.

The American people are not afraid to fight and they will make any sacrifices necessary to defend their homeland, but they are not so keen to go out into the seven seas to fight the wars of other nations nor to force "freedom" onto nations that have never interfered with our own right of self-government. Genuine Americans do not need to be pushed into the defense of their country, but they are not easily led down the blind alleys of international intrigue. Let us have the facts, Mr. President.

A researcher reports that according to tradition the kitchen is the only place in the house where mistletoe should be hung and only there does it give the liberty of kissing. We blush to think how many girls have been taken advantage of, so to speak, illegally.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

BROWSING AROUND THE TOWN.

The Old House Hunters association can prepare for a treat when John Drury's "Old Chicago Houses" hits the bookshops Sept. 16. The author has collected 100 choice specimens from mansions to cottages, with photographs of each and data that answer all questions. An advance copy kept the Linemaster away from mystery stories over the long Labor day week-end and threatens to cause him to walk his legs off.

The apparel ads continue to arouse our curiosity. We note that the feathers on Nellie's hat this fall will be novelties plucked from the "numidi, ghourra and griebe," and since our consultant on matters of natural history, Bob Becker, is not available, we are flabbergasted. A search of the dictionary gives a probable answer to "numidi" as a fashion writer's name for the crested guinea hen. The "ghourra" is unknown to Webster. "Griebe" may be a misspelling of "grebe," a crested waterfowl akin to the loon.

What do baseball fans think about while watching a game—if they think at all? Well, we sat beside one the other day who thought about the time when he played on Wrigley field in a Cub uniform.

"It was a wartime benefit game between the art departments of THE TRIBUNE and the Herald," said Ben Cohen, who drew the cover design for last year's Line Book. "Of course, both teams probably had a few ringers, but Carey Orr pitched for the Tribs and John McCutcheon was somewhere in the outfield. I was a fielder for the Heralds and the only Cub uniform that would fit me was Vaughan's [a pitcher who weighed 250 pounds]. I made a hit and scored the only run for our side."

"Did you catch any flies?" we asked.

"I don't remember, but I must have chased a lot of them. We lost, 27 to 1."

IN RUSSSET MANTLE CLAD.

Summer's busy packing
Her green portmanteau;
Nothing much now lacking,
Blossoms folded neatly,
Tucked away 'til spring;
Rearranged completely
Toward a future fling.
Is her visit ended
For another year?
Can't it be amended?
Must she disappear?
Still, will we remember
Summer's pinks and blues
When we greet September,
Robed in russet hues?

Sermon for Name-Changers.

As an inveterate View-with-Alarmist, I enjoyed your comments on place names in Chicago [Aug. 26], and while you are wailing about Uptown absorbing the traditions of Buena Park, Edgewater, and Sheridan Park, I should like to drop a tear in your beer concerning the metamorphosis of Evanston avenue into Broadway. Why not carry this servile copying of the Big City a little further and turn South Clark street into the Bowery?

Or, put it in reverse and copy the small town for a change, thus translating State street into Main street? It is a curious fact, by the way, that few big cities have ever acknowledged a Main street, while almost every small town in the country can boast of one. [Why is it that almost none of our villages ever thought to copy the British and have a High street as the principal thoroughfare?]

Another sign of this decadent municipal period is murdering the traditions that went with such respectable old turnpikes as Robey street, Crawford avenue, and even 12th and 39th streets. Some of our codfish aristocracy seem to dislike that aged-in-the-wood appellation, "Towertown," and some of them undergo acute ague when they hear it called the "lower north side." They seem to denote unpleasant connotations in the word "lower."

COMMON BLESSINGS.

Lord of my years, can life be bare
With beauty springing everywhere?

Can I forlorn or lonely be
With sweet bird-song from every tree?

Can I succumb to doubt and fear
With tasks to do and friends to cheer?

What matters it if I am poor,
With roses blooming at my door?

My garden is a blaze of gold
As summer hours their dreams unfold.

Can I complain, by sorrows pent,
Knowing I have the boon, content?

Trouble will flee and fear take wing,
For life still brings me songs to sing. . . .

Lord of my days, how thankful I
For a thankful heart, as life goes by!

Woodbine Hunt Gets Hotter.

Re "Where the woodbine twineth": I used the quotation during a jury trial some years ago. In a reader in a district school, either Sander's Reader or the National Series of Readers, I distinctly remember the lines which I have frequently quoted, as follows:

"Where the woodbine twineth; where the wild fox digs his hole unscared, and the rank thistle nods in the wind."

I do not recall the author. My memory is good and the above is an exact quotation. I recall having used it at the trial mentioned because the other litigant had not produced a certain witness and I stated to the jury that said witness was gone, quoting the lines above. James J. Noon.

Observed in the advertisments of women's apparel:

"Back drapery—to combine the mystery of the covered-up look with the drama of the down-in-back movement."

Sounds like a statement of war aims after a meeting at sea.

ARE YOU A TEETOTUM?

MOST of us, at some time or other, have experienced whirling sensations. We may be able to trace the symptom to a digestive upset or some dietary indiscretion of the night before, such as "a large cold bottle and a small hot bird." Perhaps we can remember when the landscape danced as tho it were on a pivot, following the first attempt to use tobacco.

Prolonged swinging, or the common custom of spinning round and round—so often indulged in by children—will produce the same effect. The seizures may be associated with poor circulation, a swaying motion [riding on a train or in an automobile], or the general depression which attends seasickness. The eye muscles have been blamed, as well as the inner ear, and any condition which brings on a lack of blood to the brain may be the cause.

Not long ago a friend observed that on arising in the morning he became so giddy that he was obliged to sit on the side of the bed for several minutes before he could walk with safety. The walls of the room seemed to be billowing and heaving. There was no sense of nausea but, on one or two earlier occasions, the episode had persisted for at least 30 minutes, with a tendency to vomit. A heavy smoker, he decreased his consumption of tobacco by 50 per cent and has not been bothered since.

The onset of an acute illness in childhood — in which delirium and high fever are exhibited—is ofttimes accompanied by vertigo. A toxin manufactured by the disease — measles, or whatever cause may be operating at the moment — is apparently responsible. During the World war one of my colleagues, a man of 50, suffered a bout that lasted several hours. On taking a sizable dose of Epsom salts [magnesium sulfate], the difficulty disappeared.

We can ascribe the symptom—in many cases—to the fact that the balancing machinery of the inner ear is subject to congestion. As soon as a normal state of affairs can be restored, all is well. Furstenberg's suggestion to reduce the quantity of salt taken daily, or to eliminate this condiment entirely, has proved helpful to many victims of Ménierè's syndrome [vertigo plus head noises].

The sodium part of the mineral is the culprit, as the chlorine ions are harmless. Ammonium chloride is a practical substitute if it is considered essential to savor the menu. Others will benefit by large doses of B complex, as without doubt deficiency states may be contributing factors.

Should the disorder appear with anything like regularity, we cannot afford to overlook the warning. It may mean that the circulation of a particular part of the body has been disturbed, and that a careful investigation should be made. Naturally, the eyes should be checked, particularly for fatigue of the muscles. More often than not, a slight rise in blood pressure will be encountered. Here, rest in bed for a day or two, with the administration of sedatives, and emptying the tissues of surplus water may be all that is needed.

The least we can do is to limit fluids—take away salt and deplete the circulation. The patient can be directed to drink not more than a quart of liquids all told in 24 hours. If, in addition, sodium chloride is omitted, there usually follows a profuse excretion of urine, so much so that no cathartic will be necessary.

We can look upon the phenomenon as one in which some simple readjustment will alleviate this most annoying—and occasionally dangerous upset.

VEGETABLE WATER.

R. T. writes: A great deal has been said lately about the value of the liquor in which vegetables have been cooked. When the foods are prepared in the morning, and left standing in water all day ready to be cooked for the evening meal, are valuable elements lost?

REPLY.

To a slight extent only. The heating process, however, breaks the fibers apart and leeches out the minerals. Use the pot likker in some fashion—soups, etc.

HEART BEAT.

R. J. writes: My pulse is 60 when I am sitting down and 75 when I am standing up. Is this unusual?

REPLY.

No. Apparently the governor of your heart maintains excellent control. The pump does not need to work quite so vigorously when you are resting. A rate of 75, even 80, when you are active is within the limits of normal.

HER HERO TO THE RESCUE

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

Writers should confine themselves to 200 or 500 words. Give full names and addresses. No manuscripts can be returned. Space for letters is obviously limited. Incoming mail far exceeds it. If a letter is not printed, attribute it to lack of room. Address letters to Voice of the People, THE TRIBUNE.

"O, SAY CAN YOU SEE?" AND THEN—

Chatsworth, Ill., Aug. 29.—I listened to the broadcast of the All-Star football game and enjoyed it. But is it too much to expect people to know the words of the national anthem? The leader of the singing [or apparent leader, for her voice came in stronger than any other] floundered helplessly with the words. She started out brilliantly with "O, say can you see?" Then came a "la-la of unintelligible words—a repetition of "bombs bursting in air," and finally, a grand finale of "land of the free and home of the brave."

Practically no one knows the second or third verse of "The Star Spangled Banner," but it seems that every one should know the first stanza before he reaches voting age. It should be a requirement of citizenship. I move we start a "Learn the National Anthem" campaign.

I have been touched by seeing young Italians and other nationalities, with their hats off, standing at attention, lustily singing "The Star Spangled Banner," while the older, native-born Americans scrambled in their cars to make a hasty exit. Something should be done about it.

A "GLEEFUL HYSTERIA"?

Oak Park, Ill., Aug. 29.—On Aug. 18 you printed my letter calling attention to a report of a British newspaper writer that "the President of the United States is the happiest looking man on earth today" when he met Churchill at sea. This, if true, I considered sinister.

We have more evidence of the same import. The magazine Time reports:

". . . altho Winston Churchill was all for letting the public know about his meeting with the President as soon as it took place, Franklin Roosevelt, gleeful over his private secret, interposed every obstacle, then and later, to letting out even the most innocuous information."

The same report says of Secretary Knox and his "voluntary censorship":

". . . But apparently United States officials take a childish delight in having a 'secret.'"

I contend that these reports indicate a sort of hysteria that is of appalling significance.

OTTO MCFEELY.

WHITE HOUSE, PLEASE NOTE.

Chicago, Aug. 29.—I note the news of the new "setup" of our rearmament agencies by superimposing another agency on top of those already existing. This only adds confusion and complication where simplification and order are needed.

An old story which covers the point I think is: A sea captain of the old sailing days found it necessary to reef sail and sent a man to the top of the mast. The wind was blowing and threatened to blow his hair off, so another man was sent to hold it on, and another man to hold the second man's hair on, and so on, until there was a row of men running from the top of the mast to the deck. On deck he placed a bald-headed man.

Question: Why was the bald-headed man not sent up first? You answer it, I cannot.

A CONFUSED BUSINESS MAN.

THE MAN AT THE THROTTLE.

Chicago, Aug. 29.—In your editorial, "Railroad Wages," you say:

"The engineer who takes the streamliner from Lincoln to Hastings, Neb., so it is said, gets a month's pay for 53 hours on duty, which is to say a month's pay for fewer than 11 five hour days."

What are the facts concerning this run? From Lincoln to Hastings is 97 miles. The new million dollar Diesel streamliner—the pride of the Burlington—makes the run in 85 minutes. The average speed is about 69 miles an hour, the cruising speed 90 miles an hour, and at times the train attains a speed of 100 or more miles.

The engineer entrusted with the responsibility of taking this crack flyer thru on time is paid $7,90.

He has been an engineer for more than 30 years—coming up the hard way thru long years of faithful service he has attained the goal that all young railroaders look forward to. He is required to pay all his expenses when away from home, and he must lay over at the conclusion of each trip 18 hours in a city that is not his home.

While 300 passengers, men, women, and children, sleep in comfort and luxury, this experienced, thoroly capable engineer thru the dead of night, in all kinds of weather, must observe a signal every 30 seconds. With his hand constantly on the throttle, ever conscious of the responsibility which he carries, the nerve strain is tremendous.

He has not received an increase in pay since 1937, and he must receive one now to enable him to keep abreast with the rapidly increasing cost of everything that enters into the cost of living.

Will any fair-minded reader contend that it is not in the public interest that this man, without delay, receive a wage increase or that the railroad that earned $2,971,990 in the first six months of 1941 cannot afford to accord such recognition?

CITY'S BRIDGE PROBLEM.

Chicago, Aug. 29. — The campaign to curtail travel on our river is not conducing to improving our commerce. All of the troubles are due to two bridges—Outer and Michigan. It used to be a thrilling sight to see ships on our river. Now, alas, only sandboats.

So much direct reference to sex that it is revolting. I don't know where Mayor Kelly and his morals squad are. If they won't act, lets get a bunch of decent folks together and shut the place.

1. The ordinary procedure is for the seller to hold the title until a satisfactory amount has been paid. In this sense he has security.

2. If you are paying the full cash price and neither party is willing to trust the other, this problem could be solved by depositing the money and deed in escrow until the title is examined.

TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

LAIRD RESIGNS COUNTY POLICE JOB FOR KEEPS

Skidmore's Niece to Stay on Sheriff's Pay Roll.

BY JAMES DOHERTY.

Sheriff Thomas J. O'Brien's embarrassment was much better yesterday, thank you, as he greeted newspaper men whom he had shunned for a week.

The sheriff was about to name a successor to his chief of police, Lester Laird, who resigned 10 days ago after THE TRIBUNE photographed him dining in public with William Skidmore, reputed overlord of the gambling world. Laird, the sheriff said happily, had resigned again after reneging on the first promise to quit.

Sheriff O'Brien added the information that he was retaining in his employ Mrs. Helen Brunner, said to be Skidmore's niece. She will presumably serve as secretary to the new chief of police, the post she held under Laird.

"Competent Worker, Fine Girl."

The sheriff hastened to the defense of Mrs. Brunner, whose duties have been to read the incoming mail addressed to the chief of the Cook county highway police, and to type the chief's outgoing mail, handle his telephone calls, and make his appointments.

"I understand that Mrs. Brunner is a highly qualified and competent worker, a fine girl, and very trustworthy and that no apologies are necessary for the services she has rendered," Sheriff O'Brien said.

When THE TRIBUNE published a picture of Chief Laird having dinner with Skidmore in the International room at the Drake hotel, Laird at once submitted his resignation to his boss, Sheriff O'Brien, saying he didn't want to embarrass O'Brien. The sheriff promptly appointed Sergt. J. J. Healy, who had been Laird's chauffeur, as acting chief. That was 10 days ago.

Knows He Made Mistake.

"Chief Laird visited me at my home yesterday," Sheriff O'Brien notified the reporters he summoned to his office yesterday. "He told me how he had worked to build up the county police department during the eighteen years he was connected with it. He said that in all that time no one ever accused him of crookedness.

"He knows he made a mistake when he had dinner with Skidmore. He is sorry for that. He believes he has been punished enough. He is entitled to his vacation. So he says he will resign, effective Sept. 6 at noon. Here is his resignation."

About Laird's successor? O'Brien said he has already selected him, the man is a policeman but not a county cop, but he will not reveal the new chief's identity until Laird's name goes off the pay roll.

ASSAULT CHARGE PLACED AGAINST MAIL MINISTER

Charges of assault and disorderly conduct were placed against the Rev. Stanley Lund, the correspondence school minister, yesterday after he had been given a lie detector test in he police laboratory. He admitted accosting and kissing young women by force. He will be arraigned in the South State street court today.

Lund, 28 years old, is pastor of the Riverview Gospel tabernacle in Des Plaines. He is married and lives at 135 Hawthorne lane in that suburb. He was arrested Saturday in the Jefferson Park district after he had attempted to force a young woman into his car.

4,000 EMPLOYES OF STATE FACING OUSTER CHARGES

Took Part in Politics, Governor Reveals.

will start examining the activities of about 1,500 state employés in Cook county.

Hunter told Green that he had anticipated a large number of cases would confront the commission and had already consulted officials of the Illinois State Bar association, a nonpartisan organization, and justices of the Illinois Supreme court, so that procedure established in the forthcoming trials would insure absolute fairness.

"I am amazed at the great number of civil service violations that have been revealed," the governor said. "I was aware of the domination of the political machine, but I did not realize the extent to which the holders of state civil service jobs were in coöperation with that machine.

Political Activity Barred.

"Rule 14 of civil service sets forth that employés of the state in classified civil service shall not engage in political activities. It is a well established rule which is for the protecton of the workers themselves and they can invoke that rule at any time in their own behalf and decline to contribute their activities, or their money, to political interests. I am determined in fairness to all those who take up work for the state as a career that that rule shall be enforced.

"Any employé who may be involved, has the right to resort to protection under civil service law and rule. I also state that any replacements in employment to fill the positions of those who resign or are found guilty under the charges brought, must also meet and comply with every regulation of civil service, and they will be confirmed in their positions only after they have been given the opportunity of passing the provided tests."

The governor made the announcement on the opening day of a nine day tour of the state, during which he will inspect state institutions and generally visit territory he hasn't been able to reach since his campaign last fall.

Today he inspected route 330 from Geneva to Sterling and said that the state would shortly begin what will become a $6,000,000 program of repair for this heavily traveled highway. He made this promise to residents of half a dozen cities along the route, including Rochelle, Dixon, De Kalb, and Sterling. He is spending the night at White Pines State park, near Oregon, and tomorrow will visit the Rock Island-Moline district.

Pennsylvania Schools Kept Shut by Paralysis Cases

Harrisburg, Pa., Sept. 2 (AP).—Pennsylvania's 14 state teachers' colleges today were ordered to postpone the opening of their fall term until Sept. 22 because of an outbreak of infantile paralysis that has taken 23 lives in the state this year. The colleges had been scheduled to open next Monday. Eleven counties earlier were directed to postpone opening of elementary school until Sept. 15 and to bar children under 16 from public gatherings, theaters, and amusements. More than 300 cases of the disease have been reported in 41 of the state's 67 counties.

Two parolees were held to the grand jury on a charge of murder by a coroner's jury yesterday after they confessed participating in the fatal slugging of a garage attendant during a robbery in Rogers Park Monday morning. They were arrested by the Summerdale police less than 24 hours after the crime.

The two held are Martin Stromberg, 22, of 5627 North Ashland avenue, and Richard Berg, also 22, of 1345 Early avenue. Both were on parole from Pontiac prison, where they served terms for auto thefts.

Found Unconscious in Garage.

The victim of the slaying was Henry Kremholz, 48, of 6263 North Clark street, a night attendant in the Maurer Auto Service garage at 6330 North Clark street. He was found unconscious with a skull fracture in the garage early Monday and died several hours later.

Lieut. John Scherping and Sergt. James Fanning learned that Stromberg was seen near the garage shortly before the discovery of the crime. He was arrested at his home and Berg was seized when the police learned they were companions.

Stromberg confessed to Lieut. Scherping, Capt. Harry O'Connell and Assistant State's Attorney Julius Sherwin that he and Berg went into the garage to steal a car to go fishing.

"The attendant awoke just as I was about to get into a car, so I hit him over the head with a tire tool, to put him back to sleep," Stromberg said.

Admits Driving Car.

Berg, according to the police, admitted driving the car out of the garage. They said that they had been drinking. Stromberg repeated his confession at the inquest and collapsed after shouting, "I suppose I'll get the hot seat for this."

Stromberg, who is a laborer in a furniture factory, was sent to Pontiac in November, 1935, for stealing an automobile in a robbery. He was paroled in April, 1939. Berg was placed on probation for a year in 1937 for stealing a car and in December, 1938, was arrested again for the same offense and sent to Pontiac. He was paroled last December.

CLERKS' UNION AGENT RESIGNS; BOOKS SEIZED

Local Will Choose New Officers Monday.

Elmer Mirabella, business agent of local 1397 of the Retail Clerks International Protective association, resigned yesterday after Attorney Daniel D. Carmell, representative of the international, seized the local's books and announced they would be kept in a safe place until new officers are regularly elected next Monday.

The local, whose members are employés of food stores in the western suburbs, has been dominated by Mirabella and Vito Borselino, another business agent. Mirabella once served a Bridewell term for contributing to delinquency.

Both Ousted from Union.

"It has now been discovered that Borselino also has a record," Carmell reported. "He was sentenced to 60 days in the Bridewell for larceny. That was in 1932. He and six others, I am informed, were arrested for prohibition law violations in 1933. These men are out of the union. They will not be allowed to function as dues collectors or as officers."

Mirabella, who was closely associated with Max Caldwell, ousted czar of the clerks' local 1248, and Borselino were reelected at a meeting of the members—Carmell called it a rump meeting—last week. Only a small proportion of the whole membership was present.

Capt. Gilbert Issues Warning.

At that meeting Capt. Daniel Gilbert of the state's attorney's police issued a warning that the international officers would be informed if any possessors of police records were elected. The vote and the disclosure of Borselino's history impelled Carmell to take the drastic step he did yesterday.

The new election, to be supervised by the international and the state's attorney, will be held at 6148 Cermak road, Cicero, from 8 a. m. to 9 p. m. on Monday.

"If Borselino wants to save himself some trouble he can follow Mirabella's lead and step out," Carmell declared.

DRIVERS OWING JUDGMENTS TO LOSE PLATES

Lee A. Friend, chief investigator for Secretary of State Edward J. Hughes, will arrive in Chicago today to head a campaign against motorists who have lost their driving privileges for failure to pay judgments in traffic accident cases. The delinquents will lose their automobile license plates as well as their drivers' licenses.

Seizure of the licenses is in accordance with a financial responsibility law enacted in 1938 as a companion measure to the drivers' license law. It provides that the secretary of state, upon reports from courts, shall revoke automobile registrations and drivers' license of a defendant found guilty in traffic damage suit 30 days after final judgment if the judgment is unpaid and no arrangement has been made to pay.

To recover his licenses, a defendant not only must pay or arrange to pay the judgment but must post a bond, usually a liability insurance policy, to protect the public from any damages that might be caused by his repeating his negligence and pass a new driver's test.

10 Months to Go

More than 400,000 children became the central figures in scenes like this yesterday in Chicago's 454 elementary and high schools, which opened after summer vacation for the annual term of nearly 10 months.

Approximately 440,000 girls and boys were enrolled in 454 public high schools and elementary schools on the opening day yesterday, according to James B. McCahey, president of the board of education.

"The figures indicate a drop of 10,000 students since last September," he said. "The enrollment has been decreasing since 1931, due to the lower birth rate and the fact that many families are moving out to the suburbs. This is the smallest drop we have had in many years, and I think it indicates that the decline is coming to an end."

More than 10,000 boys were enrolled for ROTC training in 27 high schools. This will be the 25th consecutive year that military instruction has been given in the Chicago high schools. Col. W. G. Morrison will supervise the work for the sixth year. The St. Mel's High school unit, which is the only Catholic school unit in the city, also will be under his direction this year.

STATE'S BIGGEST TRAFFIC COUNT SET FOR TODAY

Survey to Show Future Highway Needs.

BY HAL FOUST.

A traffic survey of unprecedented thoroness will be conducted today in the Chicago metropolitan area with ramifications in the rest of Illinois. Approximately 9,000 engineers, policemen, Boy Scouts, and Sea Scouts compose a field crew that will trace, measure, and time the main paths of 56 million miles of daily motor travel by 3 million cars.

The purpose of the study is to establish a basis for locations and designs of future pavement improvements, including urban and rural superhighways.

Only Slower Speed Required.

The public's cooperation with the survey is not expected to cause any appreciable inconvenience. Motorists are requested to reduce their speeds at tabulating stations, where their license numbers will be noted by checkers.

In Chicago, there will be 153 of these stations, 24 on the boulevard system and 30 in the central business district. In Cook, Lake, McHenry, Kane, Du Page, and Will counties, there will be 300 stations with 34 more in northwestern Indiana and 200 more in other parts of Illinois, a total of 600.

The field notes of one day's traffic will be correlated, a task that will consume several weeks. The correlation will trace and time each trip between stations. It will count volumes.

Work Director Named.

A development in preparations to combat a future depression was announced yesterday by Charles P. Casey, Illinois WPA administrator. Ross Caldwell, formerly an architect in the state division of parks, was appointed Illinois director of the Public Works Reserve, a new government alphabetical agency, with offices in the Merchandise Mart.

"The purpose of the PWR," said Casey, "is to encourage plans for projects that will supply jobs to large numbers when jobs in armament industries are ended. The Chicago superhighway construction is a likely project, as is cross-state superhighway construction."

LAST DAY RUSH TO PAY TAXES IS LIGHT THIS YEAR

Cook county taxpayers took Treasurer John Toman's advice to pay their 1940 taxes early this year. Consequently the last minute rush to beat the tax deadline yesterday was the lightest in many years.

Thru 4 p. m. yesterday the day's collections totaled only $2,389,408 from about 3,000 taxpayers, compared with $5,611,900 on the corresponding deadline last year. Heavy payments before the deadline, however, brought the total 1940 tax receipts to $145,093,112, compared with $130,937,418 collected last year on 1939 bills paid before the deadline. A penalty of 1 per cent a month is assessed for late payments.

Taxes due yesterday were the second and final installments on 1940 real estate bills. Toman's office remained open until 8 p. m. to accommodate taxpayers, but payments after 4 p. m. will not be tabulated until today. Bills paid by mail will escape penalties if they were postmarked before midnight last night.

THE TRIBUNE TRAVELERS' GUIDE

HEAVENLY DAYS! PARADISE TO BE MADE EVEN NICER

Wenner-Gren Improving Famed Nassau Beach.

NASSAU, Bahamas, Sept. 2 [Special].—Axel Wenner-Gren, Swedish millionaire now making his home in Nassau, has bought Paradise beach and hopes to make it live up to its name, even more than it has in the past.

While he has not completed his plans, it has been made known that he will link the beach to Paradise Town, a year round resort under construction adjoining his Hog Island estate, Shangri-La. He already has cut the admission price for the summer, and has started a program of daily luncheons, featuring Bahamian dishes and served to the accompaniment of music by native minstrels. The building of a number of distinctive shops is projected.

A Seaside Aquarium.

Wenner-Gren has blueprints for a seaside aquarium for the conservation of ocean life. He has persuaded John Ernest Williamson to move his "photosphere" to a nearby site. The photosphere is the home of Seafloor, the world's first underseas postoffice.

Paradise beach is known to every tourist who ever visited the Bahamas. It lies on the north side of Hog Island, which protects Nassau's harbor. It is a sheltered crescent of white coral sand, fringed with gaily colored cabanas and palm shaded terraces and looking upon the changing hues of Bahamian waters. Globe trotters have pronounced it far superior to Hawaii's Waikiki and comparable to Rio de Janeiro's Copocabana. It has been the setting for a number of motion pictures of the tropics.

Poverty to Riches.

Purchase of the property is the latest chapter in the life story of Axel Wenner-Gren. As a poor youth he went from Sweden to the United States in 1908. He hoped to get the European agency for a gasoline motor, but when that dream collapsed he went to work for $15 a week in the factory that made the motors.

Later, on a ship taking him back to Europe, he fell in love with Marguerite Liggett, daughter of a Kansas City merchant. They are still married. In Europe he acquired the rights to a vacuum cleaner, perfected it, marketed it, and with his profits backed two Swedish scientists who developed refrigeration by gas. From this invention he reaped millions.

FIND AIR COOLER A HANDY GADGET IN AUTO TRAVEL

Most Efficient in the Dry Climate of West.

BY HAL FOUST.
(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

Billings, Mont. [By Mail].—In the 1941 parade of automobile tourists thru America's west of mountains, plateaus, and deserts, a conspicuous number of the cars are equipped with air coolers. It's an accessory uncommon in Chicagoland.

The coolers are attached on the outside of the right window. They are metal containers about a foot in diameter. There is an opening in front to receive air under pressure when the car is in motion. The air passes thru the container into the automobile.

Cooled by Evaporation.

The temperature of the air is reduced by evaporation of water within the container. Inside the tank is a cylinder filled with absorbent material, usually excelsior, encased in wire mesh. A pan of water is at the bottom of the tank.

Some of the coolers have a fan in front. It is turned by the air pressure and then turns the cylinder to keep it moving thru the water at the bottom of the tank. Other cylinders are turned by hand every 10 or 15 minutes. Owners gossiping at gas stops said some of the fan models are noisy and, because of the propellers, have less flow of air.

Lasts for 150 Miles.

The water must be replenished about every 150 miles. Usually this doesn't involve an extra stop.

In this dry climate, say the owners, the coolers are efficient, reducing inside temperatures 10 or 15 degrees. In the moist atmosphere of Chicagoland evaporation would not be as rapid and therefore the accessory would not be as efficient. Maybe this explains why more of them are not used in Illinois and neighboring states.

DEDICATE PARK HONORING RADIO PHONE PIONEER

Manteo, N. C., Sept. 2.—First transmission of the human voice by wireless telephone four decades ago by Reginald A. Fessenden, radio pioneer, has been commemorated with the dedication of a 40 acre park at the site of the inventor's laboratory.

Fessenden, a Canadian, in 1902 made overwater conversations to Cape Hatteras, 50 miles from here, by wireless telephone. At the same time, hardly five miles away at Kitty Hawk, the Wright brothers were developing the first flying machine.

George Gordon Battle, New York lawyer who spent his childhood summers on Roanoke Island, made the dedicatory speech.

Announce Change in Series of Cruises to West Indies

New York, Sept. 2 [Special].—The Swedish American Line has announced several changes in its flagship Kungsholm's series of cruises to the West Indies. On its Sept. 6, Oct. 3, and Nov. 18 cruises the vessel will omit Port au Prince, Haiti, as a port of call. Besides the usual calls at Cristobal, San Blas Island, and Havana, the port of Cartagena, Colombia, will be visited. The Kungsholm will sail on its next to the last cruise of the season Oct. 18, instead of Oct. 17, and will call at Cap Haitien, Haiti, and Kingston, Jamaica.

Where is Mount Edith Cavell? —R. S. W.

In Jasper National park, in the Canadian Rockies.

Which is the "toughest" golf course in Wisconsin? —B. K.

Most golfers who have played on a majority of the courses in that state accord the distinction to Lawsonia, adjoining Green lake.

To whom should I white for detailed information on vacations in New York state? —C. F. M.

The State Division of Commerce, Albany, N. Y.

Several maps that I have consulted indicate that the Big Bend country, in a pocket formed by the Rio Grande in southwestern Texas, is a national park. But other authorities tell me there is no such park. What's the answer? —D. W.

Big Bend National park was authorized by congress six years ago, on condition that Texas buy the 788,682 acres to be included. But that state appropriated the money only recently. So the playground is still in the process of creation. It will be this country's fifth largest park, ranking next to Yellowstone, Mount McKinley, Glacier, and Olympic. The area is Texas' last wilderness and is an unusual example of an unspoiled wilderness. It is a semiarid plain, verging on desert, thru which thrust a group of mountain ranges. Among these is the Rugged Chisos, which forms the southernmost spur of the Rockies and part of which reaches an altitude of more than 7,000 feet. No railroad traverses the district, and the few highways are merely trails.

Four of us are planning to visit Taxco, Mexico. What are the leading hotels there? —G. T.

Casa Grande, Chapultepec, De la Borda, Los Arcos, Melendez, Posada de la Mision, Rancho Telva, Taxquero, and Victoria.

Realism Given Washington of Civil War Era

"Reveille in Washington, 1860-1865," by Margaret Leech. [Harpers, $3.50.] September choice of the Book of the Month club.

BY FANNY BUTCHER.

If there existed some fantastic television device which could pick up the past and re-create it before our eyes the panorama of 1860-'65 in our nation's capital would pack the vision palaces. Margaret Leech proves that words can picture a period thrillingly and vividly. "Reveille in Washington" should, and will, pack the bookshops.

In that momentous period of our history Washington was not only the capital of the united, disunited, and reunited states, but was, in the largest sense of the word, the nation's heart. Thru it passed men, ideas, dreams, despicabilities, corruption, patriotism. It was fed, both psychologically and actually, from the outside, and it existed as a representation of that government which its great contemporary leader idealized as "of the people, for the people, and by the people," with all the mistakes, mishaps, and mismanagements, as well as the ideals, of its founding.

Margaret Leech has done a superb job of research into the daily living of that vivid half-decade. She has given that forgotten Washington resurrection to the last minutæ of living. Thru her pages sweep the dust of the unpaved streets, the wild exhilaration of soldiers shooting, with the pistols which they had never handled before, at flies—and at the inmates of overcrowded bordellos temporarily inhospitable. In her pages beats the panic of being cut off wholly from the outside world for days, and of at first ceaseless and then recurrent fear that the men in blue had lost the war. And actually, as the reader fascinatedly goes thru these pages, he must be amazed at the north's winning it.

The country, plunged into a war for which it was not prepared, almost bogged in the morass of politics and inefficiency, does manage, blunderingly but finally, to emerge victorious, and the five years end with the dramatic tragedy of the assassination of Abraham Lincoln and the dramatic triumph of the great procession of victory thru Washington.

Margaret Leech has a trenchant style and the all-seeing eye which passes by no colorful detail. She has written a book which is as surely bound for the best seller lists as Carl Sandburg's "Lincoln," which it resembles not only inevitably in its material but in its richness of detail. "Reveille in Washington" is superduper historical journalism, the result of five years of intense study, not only of the usual sources but of the newspapers of that critical period.

Democracy Evaluated

"The Ground We Stand On," by John Dos Passos. [Harcourt-Brace, $3.50.] Published last Friday.

No one can read "Reveille in Washington" without a stirring of the sense of our heritage of freedom. John Dos Passos, famous American novelist, has turned historian in "The Ground We Stand On"—to "give that cantilever bridge into the future that we call hope a firm foundation in what has been," as he puts it. He believes that history is only dead when people think of the present in terms of the past instead of the other way round!

Mr. Dos Passos says that "we must never forget that we are heirs to one of the grandest and most nearly realized world pictures in all history," but we got that way by the processes of our own American brand of democracy, and we had better not forget it. Then he tells the stories of the courageous men of our early history who fought for freedom and true democracy—Roger Williams, Thomas Jefferson, Benjamin Franklin, Samuel Adams, and others, "convinced patriots" all. And he tells us that "it all sounds easy when you read it in a history book, but imagine how hard it must have seemed to the men of the time." We are by nature, by training, and by generations of living democratic in thought and action.

"One reason why the communist cure in Russia has proved worse than the disease of an outrageously decrepit and brutal social order is that the only political habits the bolsheviks had to work with were those of serfdom and subjection to a despot," says the author. "In Germany the republic failed for much the same reason . . . the history of the successive subjugation of the more western and self-governing aspects of Germany by the despotism of the Prussian drillmaster."

John Dos Passos suggests that "in the last analysis the continuance of self-government will always depend on how much the people who exercise that liberty will be willing to sacrifice to retain it."

The conclusions are the merest arabesque on the sturdy structure of the short life stories which make up the book.

Studies of the 1890s

"Hanna, Crane, and the Mauve Decade," by Thomas Beer. [Knopf, $3.75.]

"Hanna, Crane, and the Mauve Decade" gathers into one omnibus volume three brilliant studies of American life in the 1890s. The biography of Mark Hanna, the critical life story of Stephen Crane, and the colorful picture of the decade to which Thomas Beer has given its most quoted label are three of the most interesting books of our day. Thomas Beer died last year at the untimely age of 50. His publishers call this volume, not overpraising it or its author, "a fitting monument to one of the finest talents of our century."

Rollicking Tale Told of Cruise Around World

"Last Man Around the World," by Stephen Longstreet. [Random, $3.] Published last Wednesday.

Stephen Longstreet, author of the novel, "Decade," took a trip on the last voyage of one of the luxury world-girdlers and on it he kept a journal in which he set down not only what he saw but tid-bits that he heard.

"The white ships may never go out again for pleasure only," he says in his foreword, "nor carry such people as myself on a useless, happy voyage . . . just for the ride," and nothing could be a better description of the contents of his journal, now published as "Last Man Around the World." For readers, too, it is a "useless, happy voyage," and they travel in his at times terribly funny pages, just for the ride.

As cabin mate the author finds himself paired with "Big Boy," son of a family which has pilliared American fortune for generations. Big Boy provides not only alcohol and luxury but many of the guffaws, which used to be described in the barnstorming profession as "belly laughs." He has a special fondness for "tomatoes," as he tenderly speaks of the female sex.

Among other odd fish on board is "The Duchess" [from Kansas], who bought a charm in Haiti "to bring out the passion in whoever she thinks of," and, altho she "hasn't much faith in it, says, 'What the hell! Never skip a chance to better yourself.'" A "precious" old man whom they call "Proust's Pal" says a good many luscious things, as does Pamela Cohn, at sea because members of her family—multimillionaire oil thieves, said Big Boy—were building up a huge German oil trade and were divorcing her from a Jewish husband.

Stephen Longstreet has a peculiarly snappy pen, and his description of places and experiences are as funny as they are apt, and as keen as are his pictures of his fellow passengers and the assorted people he meets.

"Last Man Around the World" is one of the funniest travel-diaries you've ever met, even tho it chronicles war-shadowed yesterday.

What is an Island?
MANY islands are in the sea, but not all by any means. Sometimes an island is a state of mind, a citadel of security for a man or a family which is equal to any emergency in life.
The Traces, the life-loving, exciting family created by John Selby, had such an island both as individuals and as a group. It was what made and kept them a unit through the triumphs, the crises, the dangers and the defeats they experienced.
The extravagances of Father Trace, his final dramatic deed, the love affair of Neel, the meanness and occasional viciousness of other people, disaster and triumph, all left unchanged the original and essential humanity of the different Traces.
Another word for what the Traces had is integrity; it was what made them ready, after all their adventures, for their physical island when they found it at last, the "island in the corn".

Poll of Readers Names Favorite Mystery Stories

That poll of readers of mysteries inspired by Bennett Cerf's choice of his three favorites in "Three Famous Murder Novels" [Random, $1.98] has brought out some interesting data.

"Gaudy Night," by Dorothy Sayers, and "The Murders in the Rue Morgue," by Edgar Allan Poe, tied for first place. For second place Wilkie Collins' "The Moonstone" and Agatha Christie's "The Murder of Roger Ackroyd" ran neck and neck. In third place "The Bellamy Trial," by Frances Noyes Hart, stood unchallenged, and two tied for fourth place, "The Maltese Falcon," by Dashiell Hammett, and "The Sign of the Four," by A. Conan Doyle.

In the number of individual votes the 10 most popular authors ranked in this order: Dorothy Sayers, Dashiell Hammett, Agatha Christie, Edgar Allan Poe, Frances Noyes Hart, Mary Roberts Rinehart, Wilkie Collins, E. Phillips Oppenheim, Freeman Wills Crofts, and Maurice LeBlanc.

Almost as if it were also a contribution to the poll, there will be published on Sept. 8 a book called "Murder for Pleasure," by Howard Haycraft [Appleton, $3], which is subtitled "The Life and Times of the Detective Story." It will be a history of this fabulously popular brand of fiction and have a bibliography of the greatest tales of the last century.

Morton Home to Be Razed for Memorial

BY AL CHASE.

Wreckers this morning will start razing the 31 year old residence of the late Joy Morton, founder of the famous arboretum bearing his name, in Du Page county. It is being torn down to make way for a $100,000 Joy Morton memorial to be erected by Mrs. Joseph M. Cudahy, his daughter and chairman of the board of trustees of the Morton arboretum.

Joy Morton.

The new building will be connected with the one story fireproof library of Joy Morton, which was added to the residence in 1922 and which will be left intact. The home is on state highway 53 about two miles south of the village boundary of Glen Ellyn.

The new memorial, designed by Holabird & Root, who also were architects of the library unit, will be Lannon stone with Bedford stone trim, and of fireproof construction. It will have a 250 seat lecture hall, space for plant displays, and five offices, including one for the use of visiting speakers.

Joy Morton was the son of J. Sterling Morton, founder of Arbor day and secretary of agriculture in the cabinet of President Grover Cleveland.

Like his father, Joy Morton always was interested in forestry and horticulture. He founded the Morton arboretum in 1921 and set aside 419 acres for it. With the recent addition of 390 acres on which stands the residence, which now will be torn down, the arboretum contains 1,025 acres.

Morton died in 1934.

The bidding:

North	East	South	West
Pass	Pass	1 heart	Pass
3 hearts	Pass	4 hearts	Pass
Pass	Pass

West opened the spade jack, dummy played low, East signalled with the seven spot, and declarer won. Now, to guard against two spade losers, declarer led low to the diamond king, then back to the ace and queen, discarding a spade from dummy. He then led a fourth diamond and permitted West's jack to hold the trick, since he figured he might as well throw away dummy's remaining spade.

This, it should be noted, was good reasoning. Had declarer ruffed the fourth diamond, East would have overruffed and cashed the spade ace. Later declarer would have to concede the heart king and a club trick.

East discarded the spade deuce on the fourth diamond. West, on lead with the diamond jack, found the only defense that gave his side a chance, altho that chance depended on a misplay by declarer. West returned a spade. Declarer ruffed, and East's ace fell. Now declarer wiped out his previous good work by his wooden handling of the trump situation. He knew that the correct way to play such a trump suit is to take successive finesses, that this guards against finding both honors guarded in the East hand, and loses only to the K-Q blank in the West hand. But this correct procedure applies only when outside factors are favorable. In this particular case South should have realized that it would be fatal to let West on lead immediately. If a heart finesse lost, West was sure to lead a third spade, and East, if he held one trump honor, would overruff the dummy.

Thus, the normal procedure for handling the trump suit to the best advantage should have been ignored in favor of getting out the trumps as rapidly as possible. Instead of finessing, as declarer actually did [intending to return to the club ace and finesse again], he should have led to the ace and returned a second round, in the hope that he would either drop the two honors together or that he would capture a singleton honor with the ace. Obviously, this marked play would have held the defenders to three tricks.

Middle Teens Need Company of Their Age

By GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS.

[Copyright: 1941: By News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

Letters come and come from young persons who are completely shut off by their parents from association with others of the opposite sex. It does more often happen to be girls who are kept from the companionship of boys than the other way around, altho the latter happens, too.

These young people are made to feel by their parents that in this way they are being guarded against, well, against evil. This is what it amounts to.

Of course such an attitude is all wrong, and as, from time to time, some of these "young" letters have appeared in this column, people have written to me trying to be helpful to the parents whose control is so restricting.

One young woman of 24 especially feels so strongly on the subject that she has formed a group of young persons just at that age when boys and girls should have so much fun together and can begin to get used to each other, but are usually hemmed in by fearful parents. The ages of her group, which formed rather accidentally, are from 14 to 16.

This young woman thinks her parents had the right idea when she was this age. They weren't too lenient, but never stood in the way of their children's fun. When they were told to be home at a certain time, they were home.

They asked whether they might go here or there, and they respected their parents' judgment of people and places.

Unflattering? Not the New Cotton Hose

BY REA SEEGER.

Who's afraid to wear cotton or lisle stockings? Certainly not the youngsters, the sub debs, the smart country life people or the mature and sophisticated women. It's the panicky in betweens that have lost their spirit of adventure.

There are many stately dowagers that have worn filmy thin cotton stockings a lifetime and still like them. There are countless women, who even during the balmy days of plenty, chose thin lisles and even cottons for every hour of the day, wearing chiffon silk hosiery for dress parade. They survive and are going strong.

Stunning lisles are ready for the first fall tweeds and woolens, some so fine they are merely a film of color over the skin. Some decorative affairs have side clox of extreme fine quality, some have a delightful mesh or lacy mesh pattern and the fall colors are subtle and flattering. Nothing is better with high colored tweeds and woolens than such ankle flattering fine lisles.

Long cotton stockings, frankly cotton and nothing else, are the special delight of the college girl, the out-of-doors enthusiast as well as literally hundreds of high school and teen age girls. There are dozens of good looking shades from which to choose: pastels, white and the usual sun tan and street shades.

The narrowed ribbed models are as popular as the wider ribs or the more decorative textures. And they do NOT add bulk to the anklines; they are carefully fashioned so as to smooth slenderly over the ankles, and they do not stretch out of shape, altho 'tis true they have not the same elasticity as all silk.

Universal day—A very emotional day. Keep control.

Names and numbers—Continuing our analysis of the name and numbers of President Roosevelt, let us consider the first letter of his name. F is a 6 and if you remember the keywords for No. 6, you will recall that a 6 person is an adjuster, and often places himself in the position of fighting for the underdog and serving those who are in difficulty. If you remember, 6 also likes to "boss" every one, to manage and direct their affairs for them and has a tendency to meddle at times. They often assume obligations which are not really theirs. They are very sympathetic with the sufferings of others, but they often take the attitude that the world or some people couldn't get along without their advice. It is a typically home number, and those with this letter F as the first letter of their name will be found to have a gift for creating a homey, cozy, and comfortable atmosphere.

Service Club Asks Middies to Join Show

BY JUDITH CASS.

SHORTS and play suits are being packed away until another summer season, now that Labor day is past—but not if they belong to Service club members or to the debutantes who will take part in this year's show. Those hard-working young women will be giving their sports togs an extra workout, for the annual Service club review soon will go into rehearsal. The show will be given on Nov. 1—a Saturday evening—in the Civic theater.

This year there'll be a large new group from which to draw male recruits for the skits and choruses, the club hopes. It is inviting midshipmen from the naval training school at Abbott Hall to try out for the show. Rehearsals are expected to start the first week in October, and the ensigns-to-be will rehearse on Saturday nights, providing them with entertainment and future dancing partners.

Last year's stars and "chorines" will have a get-together on Sept. 23 in the home of the club's president, Mrs. Robert Cavanaugh. William Marlatt, who directed the production, will be present.

Miss Anita Straub Being Married This Afternoon.

Wearing the duchess lace veil in which her mother was married, Miss Anita Straub will repeat her wedding vows at 5:30 o'clock this afternoon with William Wheeler Darrow. The Rev. E. Ashley Gerhard will perform the ceremony in Christ church, Winnetka. The bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter F. Straub, will give a reception in their home.

Miss Straub's eight attendants include her sister, Suzanne, as maid of honor, and the bridegroom's sister, Miss Jane Darrow; the bride's cousin, Miss Kathryn Sieck of Winnetka; Miss Katherine Davidson of New York, and Miss Josephine Wallace, Miss Anne Daughaday, Miss Mary Hammond, and Miss Priscilla Blackett of Winnetka.

John Darrow will be his brother's best man. Atwood Collins III. of West Hartford, Conn., Benjamin Pierce of New York, Elihu Hynman of St. Louis, Philip von Ammon, Rogers Butz, John Brown, and the bride's young brother, John, will usher.

Present at their granddaughter's wedding will be Mr. and Mrs. William A. Wieboldt of Kenilworth and Mrs. John Philip Straub of Winnetka. Before the wedding the bride's aunt, Mrs. Elmer Wieboldt, will entertain the bridal party at luncheon. Mr. Darrow, a son of Mrs. Theodore Butz, will take his bride to Cambridge, Mass., to live while he completes his course at Harvard law school.

Swim Suit Now Included in Debut Party Costume.

Two generations ago the thought of taking a bathing suit to a debut party would have been scandalous. This week, however, the problem of providing bathing suits for their guests is of paramount interest to the James M. R. Glasers and the Harold Wallers.

The question is, will the young people invited to Miss Sally Glaser's debut "sports-brunch" on Sunday and to the Wallers' beach picnic tonight for Miss Ann Johnson remember to bring their suits with them. The Glasers are faced with the problem of having 200 bathing trunks and swimming suits on hand for any forgetful guests, or for those who at the last minute find the pool irresistible. The Wallers are hoping that the hundred young people they have invited to the Beach club in Winnetka will bring their own bathing costumes if they want to go for a moonlight swim.

The Waller party really will be a glorified box supper picnic, with everything from cold broiled lobster and all the trimmings served at the club and a marquee erected alongside, to hot dogs and beer served on the beach.

Miss Jeanne Kimball First Autumn Debutante.

Today's festivities will start with a reception Mr. and Mrs. T. Weller Kimball are giving at the Indian Hill club for their daughter, Miss Jeanne Kimball, to whom the honor falls of being the first autumn debutante. There is to be dancing at the party, which means that the buds and their beaux will arrive early and stay late. After the last rhumba the bud and her assistants and their escorts will return to the Kimball home in Kenilworth for a buffet dinner.

Ten of Miss Kimball's assistants have come from away to take part in the round of parties for her this week. They will be guests of Miss

Her Engagement Is Announced

Miss Martha Borland, whose engagement to James M. Willis is announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Chauncey Borland of Chicago and Camden, Me. Mr. Willis is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Willis of Greenwich, Conn.

Announce Troth of Miss Martha Borland at Tea

From the Chauncey Blair Borlands' summer home in Camden, Me., comes word that their youngest daughter, Martha, is engaged to be married to James M. Willis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Willis of Greenwich, Conn., and that their friends in Chicago soon will have a chance to meet the young easterner. Mr. Willis will come west the middle of this month to enter the naval reserve ensign school at Abbott Hall.

The engagement was told on Sunday at a tea in the family's summer home. The entire Borland clan was in Camden for the party, including the Borlands and their middle daughter, Miss Harriet; Mr. Borland's brother and sister-in-law, the Bruce Borlands, and their two sons, William and John Jay Borland, and the latter's wife.

Miss Borland made her debut in 1934 at a series of three parties, a dinner-dance in September at the Deerpath inn, a reception in November in her parents' apartment, and a dinner-dance in December at the Casino. At the latter party she shared honors with Miss Bertha Erminger, now Mrs. Aldis J. Browne Jr. Miss Borland attended Dobbs Ferry for three years and spent the year before her debut studying at Mlle. Bertrand's in Paris, France. Her fiancé is a Haverford college graduate.

A member of an old Chicago family, Miss Borland is a great-granddaughter of Chauncey Blair, pioneer merchant of the era of the first Potter Palmer, and a granddaughter of John Jay Borland. Her oldest sister, Beatrice, has been living in Framingham Center, Mass., since her marriage to Barton F. Plimpton.

The Bruce Borlands are expected at home about the 15th of this month, altho the remainder of the family may remain east a little longer. Miss Harriet Borland will return to Chicago this week.

Geo. F. Harding Public Museum to Be Reopened

The miniature French castle at 4853 Lake Park avenue, which few Chicagoans know houses a free public museum, will reopen this month after a summer in shrouds.

The castle, a mysterious, medieval pile behind a high iron fence, is the George F. Harding museum of ancient armor, relics, and antiques. Incorporated as an art collection by Mr. Harding, former Republican leader, before his death, it was amassed over a period of 50 years and is valued at $5,000,000.

Here, a pageant of the clangorous past, are almost 70 complete suits of armor, 600 fragments of knightly accoutrements and one of the world's finest collections of ancient weapons, ranging from two handed swords, which could bisect a man from a distance of seven feet, to spiked maces and 14th century daggers, some still spotted with ominous little black stains.

Here, as well, are items that played significant parts in molding the course of history: The folding bed Napoleon used on his Egyptian campaign, the iron field kitchen of Frederick the Great, the delicate Consineau harp of Marie Antoinette, and the spinets of Liszt and Chopin with the scratched phrase inside that of Liszt, "On this most precious of instruments I composed many a sour note."

Scattered elsewhere thruout its halls and galleries are the ivory hunting horn of Francis II. of France, the four poster bed of Marshal Ney, the favorite sofa of Abraham Lincoln, priceless rugs and paintings by Goya, Rubens, Gainsborough, Van Dyke, and others. The collection even includes 150 canes, one of which disgorges a spear, rifle, dagger, and pistol from its slender shaft.

The museum, for which Harding's nephew, George Harding, and his wife serve as caretakers, is opened only upon request. That is, random individuals who wander up to it will find it closed, but it will be opened on any specific date asked by groups of persons. The request may be made in writing or by telephone either to the museum proper or to the George F. Harding Collection, Inc., at 111 West Washington boulevard. Bookings already have been engaged for dates from October thru March.

DIRECTION: Hampered by the script.

PHOTOGRAPHY, STAGING, ETC.: Not so good.

STORY: Chorines set out to land an earl and one of them does.

REMARKS: Busy Hollywood talent scouts would do well to contemplate the work of the ladies in this picture. . . . Margaret Lockwood, you will remember, was the nurse in that excellent movie, "The Girl in the News." . . . Renee Hutchins and Lili Palmer are smoothies on the Eve Arden-Joan Blondell order. . . . And the leading man, Mr. Hugh Sinclair, is no slouch, either.

See You Tomorrow.

AND STARLIGHT

In a speech last Nov. 1, the President said:

"I am fighting to keep this nation prosperous and at peace. I am fighting to keep our people out of foreign wars, and to keep foreign conceptions of government out of our United States."

Last Nov. 4, on the eve of his third term re-election, the President said:

"Across the seas life has gone underground. I think I speak the minds of all of you when I say that we thank God that we live in the sunlight and the starlight of peace—that we are not in war, and that we propose and expect to continue to live our lives in peace—under the peaceful light of heaven."

THRU THE LOOKING GLASS

There's a glamorous new dusting powder out, a special treat for the woman who likes the romantic scent of jasmine. It rounds out a beautiful little family of bath oil and colcgne, and as a translation of jasmine its perfume is a standout in a crowded field.

The appeal of jasmine is very great for the women who like to embellish their lives and their persons with distinctly feminine accents. It's a little sweet and lavishly luxurious, and if it suits you and the kind of clothes you affect it's one of the most beautiful perfumes you can find.

The jasmine that perfumes this new dusting powder is an exquisite version, and the powder itself is so fine and silken smooth that it's a joy to use. It's a delicate shell pink in color and makes a cool, flattering, and fragrant veil for the skin after the bath or shower.

Jasmine is such a warm, rich fragrance that it must be used artfully. Dabbing a bit of the straight perfume on is the wrong technique. But using bath oil, cologne, and dusting powder in that scent means that it will be skilfully diffused and that its wearer will be cleverly scented.

INSTALMENT XLV.

THE MURDERER.

Bill smiled at Kathleen's impatience and blew a large, perfect smoke ring.

"To begin with, Mrs. Mount is no missis. She was never married. She was the child of divorced theatrical parents, born with stage in her blood and a lot of talent, and she struck out for herself when very young.

"She was 18 and doing all right when she fell like a ton of bricks for a socially prominent youth she met at a party in Chicago. It developed into one of these mad life or death affairs peculiar to the young which usually end in an elopement. But Ellen Mount had no luck. Her lover was already engaged to a girl of his own world—he was dependent on trustees for his income—and he succumbed to a combination of financial punishment and the pressure of his family. He left Ellen and married his fiancée.

"Well, you can guess now where Maurice came from. Ellen had been reckless and she bore a child. But she did not make trouble for her ex-lover and his bride. In her own trouble she went to a young woman who had been a school friend and was now married to a prosperous business man. This girl had lost her first baby and had been medically advised she could not have another one. Her husband was delighted to adopt Ellen Mount's baby and assuage his wife's grief.

"This was done in such a manner that friends and relatives think the baby is her own. Ellen Mount agreed never to divulge its parentage or in any way interfere with or attempt to make any claim on it.

"However, according to a theatrical boarding house landlady who was in Ellen Mount's confidence before and after her confinement, Ellen developed a great craving for the child, unspoken but obvious in her new and abnormal interest in everybody else's children.

"This woman, therefore, communicated with Ellen Mount when a girl known to Ellen dies at her boarding house in childbirth, leaving a sickly baby. She found she had read Ellen Mount's trouble rightly. Ellen is delighted to take the baby altho it will be no help to her in her career. She cares only that the baby will fill her arms and her heart. There is nobody to claim it or take it from her. If the girl has interested relatives they do not come forward. The father has abandoned her and disappeared. That baby, as I can see you have guessed, was Hugo Lang."

"The baby turned out to be a great liability. He was extremely delicate in health. His mother was overworked and half-starved and it gave him a bad start. His terrible illness at eight years of age coincided with Ellen Mount's achievement of her ambition to be cast in a Broadway production. She let the chance go by to fight for the kid's life. Fate never repeated the chance."

Kathleen's eyes were wet. "I know," she admitted. "Hugo told me something of that."

"Well, Miss Murray, the boys grew up. The foster son turns out brilliant, reliable, grateful, and hard-working. He took a degree and got a fellowship to keep him going till he could follow his own personal ambition to write for the stage.

"When he got work here in the Tilton Theater he used his influence to get his mother there, too. But you know all that.

"But Ellen Mount's real son turned out badly. He's not aware of his true parentage even now. That's a very important point. His foster father became a big noise in Chicago with an important industrial position, but he couldn't interest Maurice in his business nor rely upon him in any way—maybe because his real father was a weak sister—or maybe the gypsy life of the stage was in his blood. He grew up in continual hot water with his 'parents.'

"But his own mother, Ellen, went on loving him dearly. She watched from a distance most of what went on. Proud of his looks and personality, she confided to the one friend who knew the truth about him, that his foster parents were to blame for handling him badly, and that the boy wasn't getting a real chance.

"Finally Maurice's parents quarreled with him and turned him out to fend for himself, without, however, apprising him of the fact that he was allen flesh and blood. Ellen Mount then confided the truth about him to Hugo, her foster son, and made him act as a deus-ex-machina, getting him out of scrapes and getting him into jobs. Now you see why he came to Willowdale.

"He accepts Hugo's assistance casually as one friend's help to another. It is Ellen Mount's own desire that he should be kept unaware of their relationship. Now does anything become clear to you?"

"Many things," said Kathleen.

"And to me, too," said Toby. "Why Mrs. Mount takes it to heart because he's such a bad actor. Why she's always's going after him——"

"And you said she didn't want Carol to marry him," said Kathleen eagerly.

"You're getting off the track," said Greer mildly. "Don't you see that if Maurice Reed did this thing, Hugo Lang would have a motive for keeping quiet about it?"

"But Hugo despises Maurice. I can't imagine——"

Kathleen broke in. "I can. Tell Mr. Greer about Jeanie being at the dog farm with Maurice. There are a lot of things we still don't know, but I do know this. Hugo is the soul of honor and he is fanatically devoted to his mother."

Bill Greer quelled her rising excitement. Like a trained hound he was at once on a new scent.

"What's this about the dog farm?"

Toby told him the results of his commission and also his recollection of the significant fact that Carol and Maurice had flown to Yuma on the Monday morning following the murder on Sunday night.

"Good boy," said Bill Greer crushing out the stub of his cigar. "The rest is just routine work." He got up indicating that the session was over. "I'd like you to return, Toby, when you've taken Miss Murphy home. Even with the cat in the bag delays are dangerous."

Kathleen went obediently. She did not remember the letter in the possession of Mrs. Payson till Toby had returned her to Lake's End and gone again. But they were busy on matters of importance and this was not one. She dismissed the affair of the letter from her memory.

Kathleen did not share Bill's comfortable assumption that the rest was just "routine work." She had the human doubt of things which were "too good to be true." But it proved to be so. When Bill uncovered the records of a marriage between Jeannette Payson and Maurice Vandewater in the Mexican border town of Tia Juana, the hunt was over.

"Vandewater," Bill explained, "is Reed's real name. Or, rather, the name of the people he believes to be his real parents, who adopted him. He took the stage name of Reed in deference to their threat to disinherit him, rather than in compliance with their wishes."

"Why should they be so against an honorable profession like the stage," demanded Kathleen, hot in defense of Hugo's predilections. "Some very great people have adorned it——"

Bill smiled his wry knowing smile. "Judging from past experience with his other experiments at earning a living, I think they were afraid Maurice wouldn't. And the name Vandewater is too conspicuous to be hidden."

"Guess that's why he kept his marriage to Jeanie a secret," Toby contributed. "They wouldn't have approved of that escapade."

"That's likely," agreed Kathleen. "But I wonder why he married her at all. I mean if he's such an opportunist."

Bill shook his head. "Seems I know your sex better than you do Miss Murray. Maurice Reed or Vandewater is a hot-head when in love—and there are some girls left who don't yield without marriage." He added mischievously—"strange as it may seem."

"O, of course," said Kathleen hastily. "Of course. Yes, Jeanie would be like that. It's all clear now. But why didn't this place in Tia Juana give this vital information? The murder trial got so much publicity."

"I don't suppose the clerk even looked at her name when she wrote it. Nor did the officiating justice remember it five minutes after she'd gone. That marriage without notice business is purely mechanical. A mill to make money. Nobody knows there now I have any such information. A little more money opens the record books. We're finished now. All there is now to do is to hand the evidence to the police."

Your Daughter Has a Right to Know

It is every mother's duty to tell her daughter physical facts. How much better that she learn them from you, rather than from girls her own age. In feminine hygiene, facts may be distorted, or wholly untrue. Result, many brides use overstrong solutions of acids which can actually burn or scar delicate tissues. Today, there is no need to use such deadly solutions. Science has given us Zonite. Non-poisonous, non-caustic, yet kills germs, bacteria on contact. Actually destroys undesirable odors. Protects personal dainthess. Most important, safe for delicate tissues. Cuff Notes.

Nicest memory of the week-end: A smiling dark-eyed bride in the handsome wedding gown her mother and her grandmother had worn, standing on the brown, vine clad balcony of her home, throwing her wedding bouquet to the eager hands of girls in the garden below. She was Jane Vincent Harper, now Mrs. George W. Overton Jr., granddaughter of the first president of the University of Chicago and of the late George E. Vincent, president of the University of Minnesota and later president of the Rockefeller Foundation. The woman who made the wedding dress for her grandmother was present at the wedding. . . . Margaret Kennedy's new book, Where Stands the Winged Sentry, is based on a journal she has kept for some years and originally was not intended for publication. "She sent it to me for safekeeping," writes Author Julian Street from his home at Lakeville, Conn., "and I saw it thru the press for her." It was decided that her experiences and thoughts and observations in a little English seacoast town in the critical period of the war would make good reading. And it does. . . . Quincy Wright of the University of Chicago has just completed a book on which he had been working 15 years. . . . Vichysoisse is now called De Gaullesoisse. . . . Voice at the Post and Paddock club, "Mabel, just how do they run these races? Do they use the same horses in each race, and keep running them over and over, or what?"

In the Morning Mail.

[From Camp Beauregard, Alexandria, La.]

"A lad from Chicago just crashed the headlines here. He is Capt. Bill Kirby of your 106th cavalry. He brought in so many prisoners from a raid into Blue [enemy] territory that a Red aviator frantically sent a radio reporting that the front lines of the Reds had been broken thru and that Blue cavalry was pouring thru. It was only the prisoners coming in under the guard of happy members of the 106th cavalry.

BY MARY MEADE.

[Copyright: 1941: By The Chicago Tribune.]

Run along for that afternoon of bridge or shopping tomorrow, secure in the knowledge that your dinner, built around glazed pork tenderloins, can be prepared in a jiffy. Always provided, of course, that you have your salad chilling in the refrigerator and that plum pie cooling its heels on the kitchen table.

Glazed pork tenderloins are dressy enough, and expensive enough, for any company. Should you want to cut down on the cost of the meal, substitute end pork chops for the loins.

GLAZED PORK TENDERLOINS.

Have the butcher cut from four to six tenderloin patties, flattening them to an attractive size. Season with salt and pepper, and sauté in a little butter for 5 or 10 minutes, or until browned on both sides. Then add 3 tablespoons butter and ¼ cup current jelly. Turn heat very low, cover pan, and simmer gently, basting occasionally until pork is cooked and lightly glazed, about 20 minutes. Serve with dressing of pan drippings. If desired, a milk gravy may be made from the drippings.

Caraway potatoes are a good accompaniment for pork. They are simply baby-sized boiled potatoes well coated with butter which has been melted with a half teaspoon or so of caraway seed.

Use canned beets or cook beets earlier in the day, for the second vegetable in the menu. They will give more variety to the dinner plate if sliced rather than left whole, and if you like a little extra zip, add ½ teaspoon grated orange rind to the sweet-sour sauce.

Fresh Italian Prune Pie.

2 cups seeded and sliced Italian prunes
¾ to 1 cup sugar
2 tablespoons flour
¼ teaspoon salt
1 egg
1 tablespoon melted butter
Pastry for double crust

Mix flour, sugar, and salt with the prunes, and let stand while pastry is being mixed. Beat egg and add to prunes with butter. Turn into pastry-lined pan and cover with a well-pricked upper crust, fastening crusts firmly together. Bake in a hot [450 degrees] oven for 10 minutes; then reduce heat to moderate [350 degrees] and continue baking about a half hour longer.

Broiled peanut butter and bacon sandwiches are wonderfully good. To make them, butter thin slices of rye bread [toast the bread first, if you like] and spread to the edges with peanut butter. Top each slice with two or three strips of partly cooked bacon and pop under the broiling unit to finish cooking bacon. The peanut butter will bubble up somewhat and will be very hot, so give the sandwiches a minute or two to cool before serving.

Just a word about the breakfast eggs. Poaching in milk requires an extra low temperature. Use a skillet and just enough milk to cover the bottom of the pan. Baste the eggs frequently.

Unpopular? Be Charming, Keep Hoping

"My problem seems to be to get the boys to like me. I know quite a few boys, but they never ask for a date. I'm not bad looking. I wear glasses, but they're a becoming style. I dress well and I am not shy. I belong to young people's organizations in our church and take an active part. I like a good time. I have plenty of girl friends but no boy friends. How can I make them interested in me? We had a roller skating party a while ago. I'm really a good skater, and I love it, but the fellows didn't ask me to skate. I'm nice to them, but they don't 'kid' me the way they do the other girls. I don't know why, because I am not 'stuck-up' and I can 'take it,' to use the slang phrase.

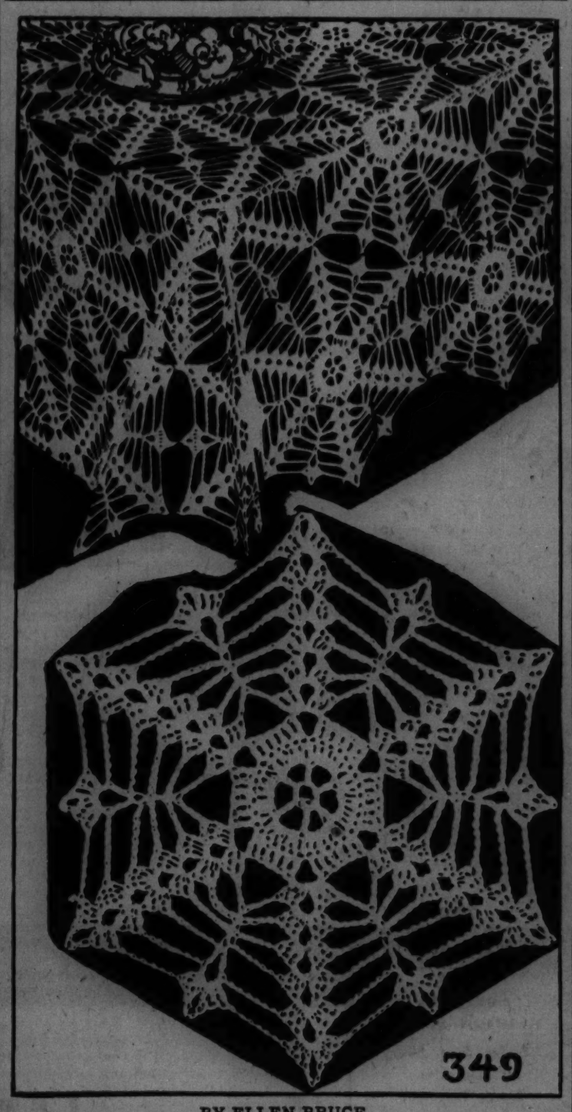
"I'm thoroly disgusted with myself, so if you can make any sense of all this and can give me some helpful criticism or advice I'll be what I sign my name: Grateful.

"P. S. I'm not just a boy-crazy girl. I'm 19 and a secretary, so I am really serious."

Of course you're serious, Grateful, and we know how discouraging it is to a girl of your age not to have dates or be treated nicely by the boys.

We wonder, if you tried to adopt a lighter attitude about things in general, if you'd have better luck. Suppose you aren't popular now. Thousands of girls have gone thru the same experience. Then suddenly, one day, out of a clear sky there comes along a young man who likes you better than any one else. That may very well happen to you.

Medallions for Tablecloth



BY ELLEN BRUCE.

A crocheted lacy tablecloth has a way of appearing out of thin air. After crocheting innumerable medallions and joining them to see how they look one suddenly finds there are enough for a whole tablecloth. Making individual medallions is one of the quick tricks in crochet work, because one motif requires approximately only 15 minutes.

For instructions in crocheting the tablecloth made of medallions, No. 349, send 10 cents in stamps or coin to the Needlework Bureau, Chicago Tribune, 326 5th avenue, New York City.

Brooklyn, N. Y., Sept. 2 (AP).—The Brooklyn Dodgers today won the game they should have won yesterday, 9 to 2, over the Boston Braves, and moved within two percentage points of the league leading St. Louis Cardinals who were idle.

It was a playoff of the 2 to 2 six inning tie with which the Dodgers and Braves ended their Labor day double header and brought Brooklyn a total of two victories for 30 innings of work in the last two days.

There never was any doubt about the outcome. The Dodgers rolled three runs across in the first inning and piled up four more in the fourth.

Javery Is No Puzzle.

On top of this, Kirby Higbe pitched no-hit ball until Gene Moore singled in the sixth, yielded only six safeties over the whole route, and easily achieved his 19th victory of the season—highest total in the senior circuit.

The Dodgers filled the bases on Al Javery in the first inning on a hit batsman, Pete Reiser's single, and a walk to Dolph Camilli. Then Jim Wasdell forced Camilli and two runners scored on what looked like a double play ball, Reiser racing wildly around third and touching home with his outstretched hand after sliding past. Lew Riggs followed with a double, scoring Wasdell.

Billy Herman singled to open the third, but was forced by Reiser. Camilli singled him to third and took second himself when Paul Waner fumbled. Wasdell and Riggs hit successive singles, each good for a run, and Frank Lamanna replaced Javery.

Reese Takes a Nap.

Javery walked Peewee Reese to fill the bases. Then Mickey Owen singled two runs across, but was trapped himself trying to reach second. In the rundown the Braves suddenly noticed Reese standing off third and a snap throw to Sibby Sisti caught him while Owen slid into second safely.

The Braves made a run in the sixth on Gene Moore's single, a double by Max West and Carvel Rowell's single, and added another in the eighth on West's single and Rowell's double.

The Dodgers finished with two in the seventh on a walk to Reiser, Wasdell's double, a wild pitch, and an infield out. Score:

YANKEES LEAVE DI MAGGIO HOME FOR TREATMENT

New York, Sept. 2 (AP).—The New York Yankees left for Boston tonight without their injured outfield star, Joe DiMaggio, who was left at home for treatment by Dr. Emmett Walsh, the club physician.

DiMaggio twisted his left ankle at Detroit Aug. 19 and has not played since, altho he continued to travel with the Yanks and did not reach here until today.

It also was learned that DiMaggio has a sore wrist which he apparently hurt sliding into home against the Philadelphia Athletics two days before he injured his ankle.

Wins No. 19

Say! Yankees Haven't Won the Pennant!

So the Yankees are taking world series reservations! Well, the American league race isn't over yet. Even Cleveland still has a mathematical chance! If the Indians win their remaining 24 games where will they be? They'll tie the Yankees for the championship—if the Yankees lose their remaining 20 contests. Each would have 89 victories and 65 defeats.

Prepare for a Big Shock—Cubs Out of Race!

On the positive side, the Yankees, by winning two games of their series starting today against the second place Red Sox, can mathematically eliminate that team. If the White Sox win all of their 20 contests, the Yankees, to prevail, would have to triumph in only two of the 20 they have yet to play.

Now about the Cubs. They can't win. If they took all their 22 games, including the one today against Lon Warneke and the Cardinals, their final standing would be 80 won and 74 lost. The Cards, by losing all their games, including the one today with Warneke pitching, would finish 83 won and 71 lost. The Dodgers, likewise, by losing their remaining 24, would wind up 84 won and 70 lost.

Well, Giants Won 26 Straight 'Way Back in 1916.

The Reds, Pirates, and Giants still are mathematically in the running. If the Reds took 22 of their 28 contests they would finish with 92 and 62.

The Cards then could win only 10 out of 26 and the Dodgers 9 out of 24 to finish in front of the world champions. The Pirates, by winning 25 of their 27, could only tie with the same ratio of defeats suffered by the Cards and Dodgers.

If the Giants won their remaining games [which would match their major league record of 26 straight in 1916], the Cards would have to take only 6 of their 26 games and the Dodgers 5 of their 24.

THREE FOOTBALL TEAMS ARE ADDED TO PREP LEAGUE

Three more schools have entered teams in the Chicago Public High School league football race, to bring the total to 34, according to an announcement yesterday by A. R. Pritzlaff, director of physical education.

McKinley dropped the sport after the 1940 season, and its place in the west section will be taken by Tuley. Gage Park and South Shore, two of the newer schools in the circuit, will compete in the central and south sections, respectively.

NEW ONE HEAT RECORD IS SET BY BILL GALLON

Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 2 (AP).—Bill Gallon, 1941 Hambletonian winner, today established a new one-heat record of 2:01 for the Horseman futurity for 3 year old trotters at the Indiana State Fair ground circuit meet. The old record of 2:01¼ was set last year by Spencer Scott.

Driven by Lee Smith, Bill Gallon won the second heat with a driving finish in 2:02. Volstadt was second and His Excellency was third.

SCHARLAU FIRES 69 TO LEAD AT TAM O'SHANTER

Field of 200 Opens 72 Hole Test Tomorrow.

BY CHARLES BARTLETT.

Herman Scharlau, of Bloomington, Ill., yesterday put on that familiar home-town-boy-makes-good act, by leading the special 18 hole qualifying round for the $11,000 Tam o' Shanter Open Golf tournament with a smart 69, three under par for the course which tomorrow brings the best field of the year into a four day struggle for the richest purse of the world golfing campaign.

Blond Herman, who collected $100 for his performance of yesterday, is now assistant to Sandy Armour at the Bloomington Country club. There was a time when Herm was a caddy at Chicago's Medinah club, where Sandy and his brother Tommy recognized the young man's talents as a caddy and interested him in entering professional golf. They weren't wrong. Herman yesterday clipped two strokes off Tam o' Shanter's front nine, then shaved another off the incoming set.

Has One Stroke Lead.

Scharlau's card was one stroke up on the 36—34—70 submitted by Henry Kaiser of Racine, one of Wisconsin's better swingers. Herman and Henry joined with a foursome of 71 shooters in being the only parties to nick Tam's par for the day. The quartet included Eddie Williams, Bryn Mawr veteran; Frank Commisso of Rochester, N. Y.; Al Favelli of Highland Park, and Tommy Wright, the former Tennessean who is now stationed at Longwood.

A total of 77 players and ties, 86 in all, yesterday gained the right to join the other members of the field of approximately 200 who will tee off tomorrow morning in the tournament proper, which will consist of an 18 hole daily program thru Sunday. Net proceeds of the tournament, which will be divided equally between the United Service Organizations and the British War Relief society, will come from the golfing bargain of the year, one which admits a galleryite for $3 for the whole business, or $1 per diem for a single round.

Ransom Also Ges 69.

Of the exempted players, Henry Ransom, of Fort Worth, Tex., had the best registered practice score—a 69. Henry, if you will remember, is the young fellow who ignited the Colonial club course in his home town during the National Open last June with a record tying 31.

Ben Hogan, and Horton Smith, who were playing in the vicinity of Henry in their warmups, reported no actual scores, altho it was suspected that two such entrants as Ben, winner of the Chicago Open in July and runner-up for the same title on this same course last year, with a thrifty 279, and Smith, former Oak Parker who still hits an intelligent ball, are not here for fresh air and exercise alone. There is the small matter of $2,000 for first prize come Sunday, $1,400 for second, and $1,000, average first prize money in most tournaments, for third.

Add to Ransom, Hogan, and Smith, the names of Craig Wood, National Open champion from Mamaroneck, N. Y.; National Professional Titleholder Vic Ghezzi of Deal, N. J.; Byron Nelson of Toledo, O.; Jimmy Demaret of Norton, Conn., and Skip Alexander of Burlington, N. C., National Amateur Medalist last week in Omaha, and you have the makings of a mighty elegant field.

Move Big Names.

These gents are on the grounds with such citizens as Jimmy Thomson of Chicopee, Mass.; Sam Snead of Hot Springs, Va.; Clayton Heafner of Linville, N. C., and President George S. May last night was attempting to contact Marvin [Bud] Ward of Spokane, Wash., who last week won his second National Amateur championship within three years.

Lem Franklin Knocks Out Curtis Sheppard in Fifth

Pittsburgh, Pa., Sept. 2 (AP).—Lem Franklin, 200, Chicago Negro slugger, knocked out Curtis Sheppard, 181, Pittsburgh Negro, tonight in the fifth round of their scheduled 10 round bout.

In the WAKE of the NEWS

BY ARCH WARD.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—The Yankees just can't seem to miss the outstanding ball players of Italian descent. . . . The present pennant bound roster includes Joe DiMaggio, Ken Silvestri, Marius Russo, Frank Crosetti, and Phil Rizzuto. . . . Those Cub fans to whom the future looks so dark are reminded that it could be worse. . . . The 1901 team, for example, won 53 games while losing 86; the 1916 club lost 86 while winning only 67; the 1921 record was 64 won and 89 lost, and the final standing in 1925, when the boys clinched the cellar, was 68 and 86. . . . But he dropped in one day to watch me bake;
And without ever mentioning the debt
He swallowed up my fancy layer cake;
And then he bleated like a poisoned pup
And blamed his illness on the food he ate,
And asked me if I wouldn't mix him up

GIANTS TO MEET EASTERN STARS BEFORE 40,000

New York Pros, Beaten in '40, Seek Comeback.

BY ARCH WARD.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Sept. 2.—New York's football Giants arrived at Orangeburg, N. J., this morning after a month's practice at Superior, Wis., where they did their conditioning work for tomorrow night's game at the Polo Grounds against a team of eastern All-Stars.

The New York game, an offshoot of the National All-Star contest in Chicago, is sponsored by the New York Herald-Tribune fresh air fund. Officials predict an attendance in excess of 40,000.

The college boys, who come from an area bounded by Washington on the south, Pittsburgh on the west, and Maine on the north, have been training for three weeks under Jimmy Crowley of Fordham, who was a member of the original All-Star coaching staff in Chicago in 1934. The squad of 38 players comes mainly from Boston college, Fordham, Holy Cross, and Villanova, all of which employ the Notre Dame system of football.

Giants Beaten Last Year.

The Giants, who have represented the National Football league in all five previous games, have been defeated only once in the series. Last year's All-Stars, coached by Tuss McLaughry, then of Brown but now of Dartmouth, won, 16 to 7, and the Giants went on from there to one of their most disappointing seasons.

Steve Owen, Giants' coach, has given his squad two good tests for tomorrow night's game. They played the Green Bay Packers to a 17 to 17 tie 10 days ago and overwhelmed Kenosha in a charity game at St. Paul Sunday. The Giants have been reinforced by the acquisition of George Franck of Minnesota, whose work against the Chicago Bears won him THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE'S most valuable All-Star trophy. Informed that he had won the award by a vote of the working newspaper men at the Chicago game, Franck wired: "This is the greatest thrill I have had in football."

Danowski Back as Player.

Ed Danowski, one of the greatest forward passers in football history, probably will be back in the Giants' lineup tomorrow night. He reported this season as an assistant coach, but, like an old fire horse at the sound of the bell, soon worked his way into the lineup.

The All-Star line, made up entirely of Boston college and Fordham men with the exception of Cabrelli, Colgate end, is said to be strong enough to give the Giants plenty of trouble. It was the superior line play of the Bears that enabled them to whip the National All-Stars. The collegians' back field probably will include Matuszczak of Cornell, O'Rourke of Boston college, Eshmont of Fordham, and Kracum of Pittsburgh, all of whom turned in a good performance at Chicago. O'Rourke's long pass to Jackie Robinson of U. C. L. A. for a touchdown was the most brilliant play of the Soldiers' field spectacle.

The Cubs, who yesterday finished off the world champion Cincinnati Reds, 3 to 1, with Charley Root scoring his 201st major league victory, this afternoon will meet the team which hopes to succeed the Reds as National league champions—the St. Louis Cardinals—and engage the Yankees in the world series.

Long Lon Warneke, traded off by the Cubs five seasons ago, will try to protect the almost microscopic lead the Cardinals hold over the Dodgers. Against Warneke, who pitched the first no hit game of his career last Saturday, the Cubs will start Johnny Schmitz, southpaw rookie recently purchased from Milwaukee. This is only a two game series.

The Dodgers will play two games with the Phillies in Philadelphia today and by winning both can take the lead.

Root Wins in a Hurry.

The 42 year old Root yesterday took the faded Reds down the line in classy and speedy fashion. He limited them to five hits, his Cub mates meanwhile making only four suffice for victory. It was the Cubs' seventh success against the champions in 19 battles this season. This was the Reds' farewell appearance in Chicago.

Root's greatest distress came from lack of control, an unusual affliction for the old fellow. He walked five Rhinelanders and made the gifts hazardous by grouping them in two successive innings. One of the gratuities led to the lone enemy run, a third inning incident the Cubs quickly adjusted in their half by bunching two of their hits off Gene [Junior] Thompson.

Walks Damage Thompson.

Thompson himself wasn't exactly on the control side but his contributions proved more damaging than Root's. Thompson walked one in the third and with hits by Lou Stringer and Stan Hack it helped to build up a two run demonstration. A pass also started the Cubs' third run in the sixth. Except in these two innings the Cubs didn't pass second base and only two went that far. Root also guarded second base carefully after the fourth. In the last five innings only three Reds reached first.

The Reds made only one hit in the third when they captured a momentary one run lead. Root walked Eddie Joost to start the inning and Thompson sacrificed. Lloyd Waner plunked a double against the left field wall to send Joost home. Root courted more trouble by passing Ernie Koy, but the gift proved harmless.

Stringer Starts Rally.

Stringer led off in the home third with a two bagger to left and Bobby Sturgeon walked. Root attempted to bunt but finished with three strikes. Hack fitted himself into the picture with a single to right, Stringer scoring and Sturgeon going to third. He sauntered home on Phil Cavarretta's fly to Waner in the right field corner.

For a few minutes in the fourth Root's one run lead was threatened. Another flurry of wildness caused three passes with one out, but Thompson furnished the Cub veteran with a means of escape. He tapped gently to Root for a double play by way of the plate.

The Cubs counted their extra run on a minimum of hitting effort in the sixth. The first happening was a pass to Cavarretta, who was bunted to second by Barney Olsen and sent over the plate by Dom Dallenssandro's single to center.

Dodgers Buy Four More Minor League Players

Brooklyn N. Y., Sept. 2 (AP).—The Brooklyn Dodgers announced tonight the purchase of four players from their minor league farms. Three from Montreal, Shortstop Claude Corbitt, Outfielder Jack Graham, and Catcher Homer Howell, will report at the close of the International league playoffs. Pitcher Jack Kraus of Durham in the Piedmont league will report next week.

JIM LIPSCOMB FOULED, AND IT WINS HIM A RACE

Victory 4 Year Old Plater's First.

BY HOWARD BARRY.

The Illinois Racing board's new rule on disqualifications was put to its first test under stormy circumstances yesterday at Washington Park. The old measure had provided that a disqualified horse must be placed last. The new one gives the stewards authority to put him wherever they think he should be, depending on what horses he interfered with.

Jim Lipscomb, a 4 year old plater which had never been able to win a race, had been coming sensationally close in the last month while his odds were dropping from 27 to 1 on Aug. 6 to 4 to 1 in yesterday's fourth race. A regular Jim Lipscomb faction had developed in the course of his close calls. They decided that yesterday was the day, despite the fact that Jim was running against an even money favorite, Shin Plaster.

Gives Him the Whip.

As usual Jim Lipscomb started out well in this mile and a furlong run. Under Eddie Wielander's riding he led all the way around until he got within the last furlong. This was where he usually started to tire. As he charged toward the finish line, Shin Plaster, closing swiftly, came alongside. Suddenly the favorite started veering in toward Jim Lipscomb and at the precise moment, Jockey Bobby Cruickshank smacked him with the whip. Swerving away from the bat, Shin Plaster piled right into Jim Lipscomb, knocking him off stride.

The favorite drew out to win by a length and a half.

Before the stewards had a chance to question any of the jockeys the storm broke from the Jim Lipscomb fans. They began hollering to take the numbers down. Under similar circumstances, the stewards usually flash an "inquiry" light on the board—but Bill Hamilton, Lincoln Plaut, and George Foster don't like to hear boos before they've had an opportunity for an orderly investigation, so they just sat tight and let the Jim Lipscomb faction boo it out. Meanwhile the numerous Shin Plaster fans were getting set to howl if the favorite was disqualified.

They Get Place Money.

They did, too, when the numbers were taken down—but under the new ruling, their horse was placed second inasmuch as he had interfered with none but Jim Lipscomb. So they realized some return on their betting for place and show. Under the old system, they would have been out of it entirely with Shin Plaster in last place.

Cruickshank was fined $200 for his failure to keep Shin Plaster straight.

The Illinois racing commission consisting of Maj. Ednyfed Williams, Frank Mandel, and William Fay, passed the new rule recently in response to many horsemen who held that the old measure was unfair both to the betting public and to owners.

The Shady Brook farm's Cadmium, a failure as the favorite in his last two starts, was the public choice again in the Mata Hari purse, main event on yesterday's card.

Comes On in Stretch.

He found it made to order. While DeKalb, Meadow Dew, and Top Call were burning one another up with early speed, Cadmium was far back. He came on in the stretch to take the lead in the closing stages. He beat Top Call by more than two lengths while Bulldinger was getting third money. Cadmium's return was $4.40, $3.20, and $2.80.

SENATOR RYAN NAMED DIRECTOR AT SPORTSMAN'S

State Senator Frank Ryan was elected a director of the National Jockey club at a board of directors meeting in President J. L. Keeshin's office yesterday. Club executives who attended the meeting, in addition to J. L. Keeshin and Senator Ryan, were Vice President Charles W. Bidwill; Joe Donovan, secretary and treasurer, and Directors Fred Holdsworth and James B. Bowler. The newly elected director replaces Walter Bockstahler, who now resides in New York City.

THE REPORTER IN CONZELMAN BOBS UP IN INTERVIEW

Cards' Writer-Coach Spins Yarn About McCullough.

BY EDWARD PRELL.

When Jim Conzelman comes up and greets a reporter he goes his brother coaches one better. He not only gives you a hearty handshake, but a story as well. Jim has abandoned his journalistic career this fall in favor of an all-out effort to make a reality of the long promised better days for the Chicago Cardinals.

So maybe it was just the sports writer coming out in Jim yesterday on the football field at Morgan Park Military academy when he started talking about Hugh McCullough, one of his four Oklahomans.

He Isn't, But He Is.

"There is one of the most underrated players in the league," said Jim, as he pulled up his baggy gray trousers and pulled down his felt hat to shade his eyes from the sun. "I never saw a fellow get so much out of such a limited physical reservoir. He is not a great passer, but he completes 'em; he is not a great runner, but he makes yardage; he is not a great kicker, but he kicks 'em. Just one of those steady, dependable players."

Charles [Chile] Walsh, one of Jim's assistants, cut in:

"I recall many a time last year when it was third down with a yard or two to go that Hugh took the responsibility himself for making it first down. And he made it more times than he failed."

He Beat the Bears.

McCullough is 6 feet tall and weighs only 180 pounds [which means midget in the pro league], yet he kept up a pounding attack against burly rival lines all season. He was a major factor in the Cards' upset victory over the Bears last season in Comiskey park. From the Bears' 40 yard line he went back to pass, was cornered, yet came galloping out for a fifteen yard gain, then passed for a touchdown. Later in the game he tossed another touchdown pass. Against the Washington Redskins he threw two scoring passes.

McCullough started his pro career with Pittsburgh in 1939, but shortly before last season opened, was obtained from Cleveland.

Christman Enters Navy.

Paul Christman, the passing wizard from Missouri, enlisted yesterday in the naval reserve at Great Lakes Naval Training station and will be subject to call at any time. It is believed, tho, that Christman will join the Cardinals in the hope of making his pro debut before being called to service.

Christman, who has figured heavily in Conzelman's plans, said he would marry Miss Inez Potter of Kansas City next Monday. He was to have been inducted into the army at Jefferson Barracks, Mo., on Sept. 4.

BEARS RENEW WORK

Delafield, Wis., Sept. 2 [Special].—The Chicago Bears settled back into their training routine today with a long and heavy workout preparing for Sunday's exhibition game in Wrigley field against the New York Giants.

The squad is in excellent condition with the exception of Gary Famiglietti and Bob Nowaskey, who suffered pulled leg muscles in the College All-Star game last week.

SET UP CONTACT 'MARKET' TO AID LITTLE BUSINESS

Purpose Is to Spread Armament Work.

BY LLOYD NORMAN.

A novel industrial market place, planned in an effort to rescue small business from being squeezed by material shortages, was announced yesterday by the Illinois division of the National Small Business Men's association.

Frederick A. Virkus explains program.

The industrial market place will bring together representatives of companies with government arms contracts who wish to farm out some of their work to smaller concerns, and small manufacturers who have the necessary plant facilities and must obtain subcontracts to remain in business.

The meetings between big and little business will be held Sept. 11 and 12 in the Palmer House. The prime contractors—those companies with government contracts—will be represented at different tables, classified according to the kind of subcontracting that is available.

Can Explain Facilities.

Small manufacturers will be able to consult with officials of the large companies at the various tables. Discussions will center on the type of facilities which the small plant can supply, the location of the plant, and the skill of the labor force.

The conferences between big and small manufacturers were described by Frederick A. Virkus, president of the Illinois division of the association, as a "personal contact clinic," designed to push the program of spreading government work more widely among the smaller plants of the nation.

"Participation in this clinic should be welcomed by every prime contractor in this area," Virkus said. "Some have been seeking small plant facilities without success because of lack of organized effort. There is scarcely any prime contractor holding one or more substantial contracts but could let a part of his order to some small plant and doubtless would do so if the contact were arranged.

Could Eliminate Bottleneck.

"This personal contact clinic supplies the means for contacts and full coöperation which would eliminate at least one bottleneck in the speedup of the armament program."

Virkus said that if the prime contractors coöperate wholeheartedly, there will be enough business passed on to the small plants to save a substantial part of the 64 per cent of manufacturers polled by the association who have indicated they will have to shut down soon because of material shortages.

"Subcontracting armament orders is the only hope for many small plants to continue in business and keep workers on their pay rolls," Virkus asserted. He said an association survey indicated that only 22 per cent of the small plants that have applied for armament contracts have been successful.

He said that invitations to attend the two-day clinic have been sent to 417 prime contractors in the Chicago area and to 9,000 small companies which could engage in subcontracting.

145,000 Small Industries.

About 145,000 of the nation's 210,000 industrial plants fall into the "small business" category, it was said. The small plants employ 16,250,000 workers.

Further support of the efforts of small business men to get a larger share of armament contracts came from the Illinois State Council of Defense which announced that it would conduct a series of "defense production clinics" thruout the state. The first will be held shortly in Chicago with the coöperation of the Chicago Commission on National Defense, the Association of Commerce, and the Illinois Manufacturers' association. The clinics were suggested by Gov. Dwight H. Green in a Labor day speech.

BANKS BOOST LOANS TO BUSINESS AGAIN BY 3 MILLION DOLLARS

The upward trend of banks' business loans that has prevailed for months continued in the week ended Aug. 27, the federal reserve board reported yesterday. Such loans which 101 member banks had outstanding amounted to 6 billion 183 million dollars, 3 millions more than a week earlier and 1 billion 720 millions more than a year earlier.

Loans to brokers and dealers in securities, at 448 millions, showed an increase of 4 millions for the week and 85 millions for the year.

★SMALL BUSINESS★ MAN'S DEPARTMENT

This department is prepared to help the small business man who is seeking information on priorities, substitute materials, and related subjects. Inquiries should be directed to the Small Business Man's department, Chicago Tribune, Chicago, Ill. All inquiries will be given careful attention. Letters on subjects of broad interest will be published and commented upon.

The spectacle of the nation's small business enterprises being crushed in the government's stampede to rearm has become a matter of national concern. The realization that the closing of thousands of small plants in the next few months may produce a greater shock to the national economy than the collapse in the '30s has spread rapidly.

The response to the plight of small business has been a spontaneous demonstration of support and solidarity. The drive to spread government armament work into the smaller plants has developed in the last few days into a national campaign with trade associations, business groups, chambers of commerce, state and local governments, and others participating.

Small Business Fighting.

The most reassuring note in the entire effort has come from small business itself. Small business men have demonstrated that they are not waiting for the count of 10. Letters to the Small Business Man's department reveal that the little manufacturer, wholesaler, jobber, and retailer may be backed up against a wall but they are fighting for existence.

"Small business is the spine of this country's economy and it's something worth fighting for," a spokesman for a group of small business men said.

The little enterprises have developed various programs in their struggle such as bartering of surplus materials, pools of subcontractors, clinics with prime contractors, mergers, and the development of substitutes.

Offers to Swap Wire.

An illustration of the bartering method came yesterday from an Illinois chain manufacturer who offered to swap 8,000 pounds of bright basic steel wire in thicknesses from 3-16ths to 5/16ths inch for the same kind of wire in thicknesses from 0.120 inch to 1/4th inch.

A merger was used by two Chicago area companies to make a concerted drive after government contracts. The companies are the Franklin Steel Works of Joliet, Ill., and the H. J. McAllister corporation of Chicago.

The managements of the companies realized that their businesses depended on materials that would be restricted by priorities. They faced a severe reduction in operations and the dismissal of a large part of their personnel.

Neither concern had the equipment to manufacture armaments. Thru mutual consultation, the managements discovered that the equipment of each company complemented the other.

Can Enter Arms Field.

By combining their facilities and personnel, they learned they could engage in arms production. D. C. Plummer of Chicago, a director, said yesterday the merger had been completed and a new company, Franklin-McAllister corporation, was formed.

With a plant containing 35,000 square feet on 3½ acres in Rockdale, Ill., near Joliet, net worth of more than $140,000 and net current working capital of about $57,000, the new company is "now well equipped, housed, manned, and financed for handling prime or subcontracts which involve the machining, finishing, and assembly of metal products of medium size," according to W. F. Pitcher, president and treasurer, and H. J. McAllister of Chicago, vice president.

Paint Maker Lacks Barrels.

An Indianapolis paint manufacturer reported that his supplier had been unable to provide steel barrels because of higher preference given the petroleum and chemical industries.

"The future looks very blue for us, and if this continues we will be closed down within six months," the company asserted. It said that it does a normal business of one and a half million dollars a year, mostly with the furniture industry.

NO DIVERSION.

If a manufacturer needs a small amount of material for use in filling a government order, but his supplier does no want to accept an order for such a small quantity, can the manufacturer place an order for a larger quantity, using a preference rating to obtain delivery, and then use the excess materials on nonarmament work?

Answer: Material obtained under a preference rating for use in military work cannot be diverted to civilian production. The manufacturer should obtain the assistance of the priorities division of the Office of Production Management in obtaining delivery of the smaller quantity of material.

LINK CANADA TO U. S. PRIORITIES.

OTTAWA, Ont., Sept. 2 (AP).—Canada moved tonight to dovetail her war production program more closely with that of the United States under an order requiring priority ratings for all Canadian war contracts which require materials brought across the international boundary. Chairman R. C. Berkinshaw of the wartime industries control board said "Canadian manufacturers working on war contracts must adjust their requirements to the priority rating system of the United States to assure deliveries of equipment and materials of various kinds from United States suppliers."

ILLINOIS FIRMS RECEIVE ORDERS FOR ARMY NEEDS

Placement of numerous orders and contracts with companies in Illinois was announced yesterday by the war department.

Haggard & Marcusson company, Chicago, received an order for 100,000 folding steel cots at a total cost of $332,950. Allith-Prounty, Inc., Danville, got a $285,300 airplane shoring assemblies contract and Olin corporation, East Alton, a $204,468 contract for powder.

ENTIRE PLANT MADE IDLE BY STEEL PRIORITY

Federal priorities diverting materials from commercial to military uses have cost the jobs of 45 Libertyville furniture factory employés in what officials said yesterday was the first complete Chicago area plant closing since the lack of supplies became serious.

W. V. Cook, manager of the Bellingham Furniture Manufacturers of Illinois, inc., said he had been unable, in five weeks of search, to find tubular steel and leatherette in sufficient quantities to warrant reopening the plant. Of the 45 who lost their jobs, only about half have found other employment, he said.

Clothing Firm Will Keep Prices at Present Levels

Frank C. Lewman, president of Richman Brothers Clothes, announced yesterday that the company's fall and winter prices will not be advanced despite increases in the cost of raw materials.

Bids for Sale of Floating Plant—U. S. Engineer Office, Vicksburg, Miss.—Sealed bids will be received here until 10:00 a. m. CST, September 16, 1941, for sale of the towboat John J. Hoopes and equipment. Further information on application.

DeWitt M. Emery, owner of a small Akron, O., printing concern, announced yesterday he has resigned as president of the National Small Business Men's association to devote his full efforts to the association's campaign to organize the defense of small business against threatening extinction.

Monroe Shakespeare.

Monroe Shakespeare, president of the Shakespeare Fishing Tackle company of Kalamazoo, Mich., was elected to the presidency of the association. Two new members, Walter Gregory of Chicago, and Russell Stover of Kansas City, Mo., were added to the board of trustees.

Emery joined the firm of Pratt and Emery, business counselor, which will represent the national association in public relations.

CHECK VOLUME DIPS, BUT STAYS ABOVE YEAR AGO

Business done by check in the 7th [Chicago] federal reserve district in the week ended Aug. 27, as reflected in debits to deposit accounts in 41 cities, was 7.3 per cent smaller than in the preceding week, but 37.7 per cent larger than in the corresponding 1940 period, the Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago reported yesterday.

The figures for the respective weeks were $1,453,215,000, $1,568,008,000 and $1,055,182,000. Debits in Chicago rose to $804,005,000, from $596,100,000 in the 194 week.

In 247 cities thruout the nation, banks cashed 9 billion 405 million dollars of checks, 634 millions less than in the preceding week, but 2 billion 900 million more than in the 1940 week.

RAILS SLASH OIL RATES TO SPEED SUPPLIES EAST

Dealers of 17 States Meet Tonight.

50 to 1 for Oil 'Curfew'

Chicago gasoline retailers are about 50 to 1 in favor of closing their stations from 7 p. m. to 7 a. m., B. M. Provis, president of the Gasoline Retailers Association of Metropolitan Chicago, reported yesterday on the basis of incomplete returns in a survey which the organization is making.

Provis predicted that the 7 o'clock "curfew" will be adopted in the middlewest if the government sanctions such a move. He said informal discussions with officials of the federal oil coördinator's staff have indicated that the government would approve a curfew for this area.

Station operators, Provis said, wish a curfew because it would cut operating expenses.

Philadelphia, Pa., Sept. 2 (AP).—Amid increased chafing by dealers over gasoline rationing along the eastern seaboard, it was disclosed today that eastern and western railroads have joined in a voluntary 50 per cent crude oil freight rate reduction to speed up shipments from the Texas and Oklahoma oil fields.

Samuel B. Eckert, vice president in charge of sales of the Sun Oil company, said the reduction would be helpful in relieving a shortage altho he estimated that not more than 5 per cent of the total oil and gas consumed in the east could be transported by this means.

Rail Seeks Bigger Delivery.

The Pennsylvania railroad announced that it is delivering to eastern refineries about 850,000 gallons of crude oil daily—enough to yield 420,000 gallons of gasoline and equal quantity of other petroleum products. This is sufficient to meet the daily requirements of about 280,000 motorists.

The shipments are being made from pipe line terminals in Ohio and Illinois, the railroad said, and efforts are being made to increase the movements of crude oil from other midwestern points and more distant southwestern shipping centers.

The freight rate now is five cents per gallon. Even after the reduction becomes effective, the cost of shipping by tank car will be one and one-half cents a gallon above the steamship tanker rate of one cent. Eckert said the rail rate reduction would have little effect on retail prices because they are based on the tanker rate.

Dealer Mass Meeting Today.

Meantime, gasoline dealers from 17 eastern states began arriving here for a mass meeting tomorrow night at which they are expected to take steps to meet quota allowances set up by the government. Beginning yesterday stations from Maine to Florida were put on a quota 15 per cent under July sales.

[Ralph K. Davies, acting oil administrator, said that the over-all delivery reduction was 10 per cent from the July level, but that "nonessential motorists" would get 15 per cent less gasoline. Commercial, agricultural, and emergency vehicles will get all they need.]

Among proposals under consideration by the dealers are gasless Sundays thruout the area and a government subsidy for the industry to make up for losses resulting from conservation regulations.

Stockholder subscriptions to American Telephone's issue of 3 per cent convertible bonds was reported today to have reached 222 million dollars, or about 95 per cent of the 234 million issue. The issue is to finance the company's construction program.

Gas Control? Just a Laugh, Says Dealer

[BY THE NEW YORK NEWS.]

New York, Sept. 2.—One of New York's biggest dealers in gasoline today described the government's edict that gasoline consumption in the east must be sharply curtailed as "a whopper of a sales plan and just one big laugh as a conservation plan."

He is Sam Lichtenstein, owner of Manhattan's big Ambassador garage, a merchant of motor fuel for 23 years and a member of several dealer associations. He gave the comment in answer to a question: "Do the big gasoline companies intend to sell less gasoline under the curtailment order?"

Curfew? "That's Swell."

"Just look what happens," Lichtenstein said. "On the first of August they put in a curfew with lots of yowling about the big shortage to come. Well, that's swell. The service stations lose money on their night shifts, anyway. So now they can get rid of 'em. Prices go up. Every one's gas conscious. Sales go up. Profits go up.

"Then, on Aug. 17, they cut our quotas to 10 per cent below July purchases." [It is estimated new regulations will require a 15 per cent cut for the motorist with no special claims to consideration from the July figure.]

View on September Quota.

"The September quota would be okay with any dealer except in the city, for out of town sales are always down in September. This city-dealer angle is going to be ironed out at a round table meeting of all parties concerned at Philadelphia.

"Take my word for it, you can't get curtailment if you don't put the restrictions on the consumer. They know it and every one else knows it. For, until you do, the consumer just keeps shopping around.

"Just remember this: The companies shouted around about scarcity and look what they got. You don't think they're going to stop now, do you?"

FCC CONSIDERS FRANCHISE TAX IN COMMUNICATIONS

Washington, D. C., Sept. 2 (AP).—The Federal Communications commission is considering recommending to congress enactment of a franchise tax for the communications industry, Chairman James Lawrence Fly said today.

The tax, he said, would apply to the telephone and telegraph industries, as well as broadcasting. It probably would not apply to radio amateurs. The proposal, Fly told a press conference, has not been put in concrete form and will have to be worked out with the treasury.

He gave no indication as to how much money the tax might raise. He did indicate, however, that insofar as radio was concerned it would be less drastic than proposals recently considered on Capitol Hill, but eliminated from the pending tax bill.

MESSENGER GIRLS WIN FRIENDS FOR POSTAL, SO MORE ARE HIRED

Those snappily attired messenger girls who are performing the chores of messenger boys in several Chicago office buildings are going over in a big way with the customers, G. G. Creal, general superintendent of the Postal Telegraph company, said yesterday.

Their good will winning smiles and efficiency has prompted the company to increase the feminine force to 25 in Chicago, where the idea originated, and to a much larger number divided among several other large cities, he said.

They outperform the boys in certain types of work, are particularly popular in buildings housing advertising offices, and are given the same opportunities available to the boys in studies leading to better jobs, Creal said. Boys and girls receive identical wage scales.

BUILDING IN CITY DECLINES FIRST TIME THIS YEAR

Building construction of all types in Chicago during August dropped to the lowest level since last February. Even home building, which had shown a gradual increase in both number and value from the first of the year, slowed up to the smallest total since last April.

Building Commissioner Richard E. Schmidt reported yesterday that permits for 452 buildings of all types, costing $3,040,060, were issued last month. For the same month last year there were 365 permits, for buildings costing $4,174,665. During July of this year there were permits for 652 buildings, costing $7,390,020.

Altho home building fell below the July volume, there was a large gain over August of last year. Permits for 388 homes, costing $2,209,060, were issued. This compared with 275 permits, totaling $1,471,930 in August, 1940, and 537 homes, costing $2,800,145, in July of this year.

For the first eight months of 1941 building of all types was $35,731,072 compared with $25,640,208 for the same period last year. Home building in the same period totaled $16,034,939, against $10,646,241 last year.

Settle Northland Greyhound Strike; Buses to Run Today

Minneapolis, Minn., Sept. 2 (AP).—The strike of 800 AFL drivers and other employés of Northland Greyhound Lines, Inc., which had tied up bus operations in eight northwest states since early Sunday, was settled tonight. Full service will be resumed tomorrow. Under the settlement two arbiters will be named to determine whether a company pension plan shall be continued. The strike resulted after workers claimed the plan was subject to bargaining. Should the two arbiters fail to reach agreement a third will be named within 15 days to work with them.

U. S. Bureau Predicts 10 Ct. Rise in Wheat

Washington, D. C., Sept. 2 (AP).—The Bureau of Agricultural Economics said today that withholding of large quantities of wheat from the market by growers might cause the grain to advance at least 10 cents a bushel above present levels within a few months despite existence of the largest domestic supply on record.

Wheat now is bringing farmers about 45 per cent more than a year ago. Latest reports show a local average market price of 89 cents a bushel compared with 61 cents a year ago.

A government commodity loan program, the bureau said, would contribute to the expected advance. Under that program, farmers who cooperated with the federal wheat production program this year might obtain loans at an average local market rate of 98 cents a bushel.

Predicts Record Storage.

The bureau said that altho this season's supply had been estimated at 1 billion 340 million bushels, mills and other buyers most likely would have to pay the loan rate or more to get sufficient grain to fill their requirements.

The bureau estimated that upward of 400 million bushels of this year's 950 million bushel crop would be stored under government loan. This quantity would be in addition to 185 million bushels from previous crops held by the government. Farmers themselves normally use 150 million bushels for feed, seed, and food.

Expect Cut in Acreage.

This would leave about 608 million bushels to fill needs of millers, exporters, trade inventory, and reserve stocks—which in themselves normally amount to more than 600 million bushels, the bureau said.

Another factor said to be operating for higher prices, the bureau said, was an indication that wheat seeding for the 1942 crop would be only about 55 million acres compared with 63,500,000 acres for the 1941 crop. The AAA has asked for such a reduction.

TAX COLLECTOR GETS 13 PER CENT OF SALES DOLLAR

Indicating the increasing tax load on American industry, the American Federation of Investors, Inc., said yesterday that a survey of 116 leading companies disclosed that the tax collectors took 13 per cent of every sales dollar. The companies' sales totaled 17 billion 902 million dollars [before sales costs] and out of this they paid 2 billion 323 millions in taxes.

Total pay rolls of the companies amounted to 5 billion 120 millions, or 28.6 per cent of the sales revenues. Common stockholders were paid 1 billion 55 million, or less than 6 per cent. Taxes of all kinds amounted to more than one-third the aggregate amount paid by the companies to their employés and common stockholders.

Included in the survey were such companies as American Telephone and Telegraph, Commonwealth Edison, Chrysler, General Motors, United States Steel, Pullman, Standard Oil of Indiana, and Sears-Roebuck.

Union Bag to Refinance Big Issue of Serial Notes

New York, Sept. 2 (AP).—Union Bag and Paper corporation will refinance its outstanding 4½ per cent promissary notes by issuance of $4,600,000 of new 2¾ per cent serial notes, with extension of one year in the final maturity date to Jan. 1, 1952, Alexander Calder, president, announced today. The new notes have been taken in equal amounts by the Metropolitan Life Insurance company and the Prudential Insurance Company of America.

RESULT OF RAIL STRIKE BALLOT IS DUE FRIDAY

Officials of Unions Busy Tabulating.

Officials of the Big Five railroad operating brotherhoods and of the 14 nonoperating unions were busy yesterday in various Chicago hotels tabulating the results of a strike vote taken among their approximately 1,140,000 members. Executives of the labor organizations are scheduled to announce their members' decisions Friday.

The rail workers' vote was taken after the railroad managements had rejected wage increase demands. The 340,000 operating brotherhood workers are asking a 30 per cent increase and the nonoperating unions seek increases of 30 cents an hour, with a 70 cents an hour minimum wage.

Expect Strike Authority.

In railroad circles it is expected that the workers will grant their leaders authority to call a strike should the labor leaders decide on such a course to back their demands. However, considerable time would remain under the procedure set up by the railway labor act for handling labor troubles before the men actually walk out.

The three man National Mediation board, under the chairmanship of David J. Lewis, has continued at the Drake hotel the meetings which started on Aug. 14 in an effort to mediate the dispute. The board has been meeting daily with representatives of the railroads and of the labor organizations. The board's sessions are closed to the public and the press and the various parties to the controversy are pledged not to discuss publicly what is occurring.

Investigation Next Step.

Should the board be unable to bring the conflicting groups to an agreement the next step would be the appointment of a fact finding commission by President Roosevelt to investigate the controversy. Hearings conducted by the commission have been open to the public in the past.

After the fact finding commission's recommendation—it is not binding in law—is made public another 30 days must elapse before any party may take an overt step.

The railroads have requested that the unions accept a revision of the rules covering working agreements and conditions affecting the employés. The railroad unions have refused this request. Both the wage and rules demands have been under discussion at the mediation board meetings.

CONFERS WITH ROOSEVELT.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 2 [Special].—George M. Harrison, president of the Brotherhood of Railway Clerks, conferred with President Roosevelt today on railway labor matters and left later for Chicago to meet spokesmen for other railway unions in connection with the threatened strike on all roads. Harrison declined to discuss his talk with the President.

AIRCRAFTS LEAD STOCKS UPWARD IN BIGGER TRADE

Best Gains Are Mostly Reduced at Close.

New York, Sept. 2 (AP).—Aircraft stocks led a moderate rise in today's market, and a number of amusements and industrial specialties managed to give a good account of themselves.

The list started out a bit hesitantly after the lengthy Labor day recess. Gains then began to come in for most groups, but top marks were reduced at the close.

Activity broadened in the forenoon and dwindled after midday. The turnover of 520,630 shares was the largest since Aug. 8 and compared with 351,680 last Friday. The Associated Press average of 60 stocks retained a net advance of .1 of a point at 43.8.

Tax Worries Curb Rise.

Moderately bullish sentiment was attributed partly to the Russian counter offensive and persistence of inflation psychology coincident with further strength of several commodities. Handicapping the rallying idea, however, was continued concern over taxes, priorities, price controls, and materials shortages.

Consolidated Aircraft's proposal for a 100 per cent stock dividend remained as a prop for the aviations. In addition, prospects for bigger manufacturing profits were seen in the talk of standardizing military pursuit planes.

United States Steel and Bethlehem were up ¼ point each. Posting new 1941 highs were Consolidated Aircraft, Lockheed, Boeing, Pan American Airways, Twentieth Century-Fox, and Paramount Pictures.

CHICAGO PRICES RISE.

Fractional advances predominated in trading on the Chicago Stock exchange yesterday. Four Wheel Drive was outstanding among the more active issues, rising 1¾ to a new 1941 high at 9¼. A few transactions in North West Utilities 7 per cent prior lien boosted the stock 7 points to 77, highest of the year.

Libby led the list in volume, closing unchanged at 5¾ on a turnover of 2,700 shares. Fractional gains lifted Commonwealth Edison, Middle West, Curtiss-Wright, Paramount, Borg-Warner, and others. The few declining issues included Sangamo Electric and Anaconda.

Trading was without trend in the half hour the exchange remained open after the New York close.

RESUME TRADING IN 6 SUSPENDED FOREIGN ISSUES

New York, Sept. 2 (AP).—The New York Stock exchange today permitted trading in six foreign bond issues suspended from dealings for one month pending clarification of United States treasury restrictions on the funds available to pay interest.

The issues, all of countries whose assets were frozen by federal order, are Denmark 5½s, Norwegian 4s, Norwegian 6s, Hungarian 4½s, Japanese 6½s, and Great Consolidated Electric Power [of Japan] 7s.

Trading of Danish Consolidated Municipal Loan 5s was resumed on the curb exchange after notice was received that interest due Aug. 1 was being paid.

HEAVIER BUYING BOOSTS PRICES OF COMMODITIES

Cottonseed Oil Touches 15 Year Peaks.

Commodity futures prices swung higher yesterday on a wave of buying which followed an upward revision of cotton parity prices and President Roosevelt's statement that the European war may be a long conflict. Cottonseed oil, cotton, and world sugar futures reached new high marks for the season or longer.

Cottonseed oil, in which trading had been resumed after a brief suspension pending the clarification of a government order banning certain types of speculation in oils and fats, shot up to new 15 year peaks and closed 0.35 to 0.44 cent a pound net higher. Senator John H. Bankhead's advice to farmers to hold cottonseed for $60 a ton, $15 above current levels, was said to have been a dominant factor in the advance.

Cotton Futures Climb.

Cotton futures closed 90 cents to $1.10 a bale higher after early advances of as much as $1.85. The President's remarks about the war and reports of small crops were the main factors in the rise, it was said. Early in the trading May cotton was quoted at 17.82 cents a pound, highest since Jan. 23, 1930.

World sugar futures soared to new seasonal high marks, ending 0.11½ to 0.14 cent a pound higher. The rise was caused by the interpretation of the increased United States marketing quota as meaning an end to Cuba's sugar surplus.

Coffee and Cocoa Gain.

Coffee and cocoa futures moved to higher levels on active buying in both markets. Coffee rose 0.06 to 0.11 cent a pound and cocoa ended 0.04 to 0.05 cent a pound higher.

Wool futures were 0.3 cent lower to 0.4 cent a pound higher after an early upturn. Offerings in wholesale markets were a factor in the late decline, it was said. Hides and tin futures were slightly lower and lead futures were unchanged.

Week's Business Failures Well Below Year's Average

New York, Sept. 2 (AP).—Industrial and commercial failures totaled 200 in the week ended Aug. 22, Dun & Bradstreet, Inc., reported today. The preceding week's total was 227. The total a year ago was 229. The failures were well under the year's average, 249 a week.

SOY BEANS SOAR 5½ CENTS TO NEW FOUR YEAR HIGHS

Grains Are Unsettled; Most End Ahead.

Soy bean futures soared about 5½ cents a bushel on the Chicago Board of Trade yesterday to a new four year high level. Strength in cottonseed oil which sold at a new 15 year high and other fat and oil markets furnished the basis for general buying.

While the bean market was called upon to absorb large profit taking sales on the way up the close was about the top with gains of 5⅝ to 5¾ cents. May sold at $1.70¼ at the finish and No. 2 yellow in the cash market brought $1.76 a bushel.

Grain markets were somewhat unsettled, being firmer in sympathy with soy beans early, but the best prices were not maintained. Wheat closed ¼ cent lower to ⅜ cent higher, the former on September at $1.13⅛, or 7⅞ cents under May price. Corn was unchanged to ¼ cent lower, and oats, ⅜ to ⅝ cent higher.

The upturn in soy beans was in the face of reports that processors were out of the market and that farmers were offering new crop beans for deferred shipment.

Sales of grain and soy bean futures on the Chicago Board of Trade in August, as compiled by the Commodity Exchange administration in thousands of bushels, follow:

	Wheat.	Corn.	*Total.	Soy Beans.
August	393,169	76,022	573,641	82,113

STRIKE BREAKS HOG MARKET AS PORK ADVANCES

A strike of CIO workers in four pork packing plants at the stock yards yesterday upset the market for hogs. Prices fell 10 to 25 cents to the lowest position in 12 days as buying demand was cut, despite another sharp price advance in wholesale markets for fresh pork.

Top light pork loins soared $1 a hundred pounds to $29.50, the highest price since the "war market" of September, 1939, when $30 was paid. Heaviest loins sold at $18.

Lamb prices rose 10 cents to the highest level since June and highest for September since 1929.

Best light steers, yearlings, heifers, beef cows, canners, cutters, and bulls sold steady, but medium and heavy steers declined 10 to 25 cents.
